BRITISH POKING IN U.S. POLITICS HIT IN SENATE

'Insults' Protested in Stormy Session.

BY JOHNSON KANADY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—British interference in American politics was assailed today by Sen. Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] during a heated exchange in the senate. The debate started when Nye arose to register objection to what he termed English "insults" aimed at the five senators who recently toured American fighting fronts.

Sen. Gerald P. Nye.

Sen. Nye quoted a speech in which British Prime Minister Churchill referred to "politicians fighting at home" in a country which the prime minister said he wouldn't venture to name.

The senator also read a newspaper account of a cartoon run by the London Daily Mail which depicted the five senators as five monkeys saying "I saw no good; I heard no good; I said no good; I want no good: I'm up to no good."

Found British Saving Oil.

The senators had brought back to Washington reports that British oil reserves are being spared as United States stocks become depleted, partly thru lend-lease shipments.

"I am sure I am not alone among those in the senate who are thoroly resentful when knowing the British insults thrown at our colleagues who spent the weeks of this past summer visiting theaters of war," Nye said.

Asserting the British seem to have lost their good judgment in other ways, Nye turned to what has been termed the "meddling" of Churchill in American politics.

Resents Churchill Attitude.

"I cannot be other than resentful when I find the British nosing into American politics at this time to the extent of urging what the American people should do in the next Presidential campaign," Nye said. He added that he was speaking of "the alleged representation by Winston Churchill when he was last in the United States to the effect that it would be a tragic catastrophe if the American people failed to elect President Roosevelt for a fourth term and that it would be even worse if he should be reëlected with a Republican congress."

Asserting there was a time when "Americans stood up and fought back" against political maneuvering by foreign countries, Nye cited the Sackville-West case which arose in the Cleveland-Harrison Presidential campaign of 1888.

Recalls Cleveland Action.

In that case, Lionel Sackville-West, British ambassador, wrote a letter advocating the election of Cleveland. It resulted in President Cleveland handing the ambassador his passport and terming his attempt to sway political opinion "unpardonable conduct."

Washington observers recalled the case early in September when reports first came out that Churchill's long stay in this country was connected with an attempt by the prime minister to sway politics.

On questioning by Sen. Claude Pepper [D., Fla.], Nye said he first heard the reports from a radio commentator but later had checked them and learned the source, adding that he stands ready "to abide by that authority as being quite accurate and of some consequence."

Pepper criticized Nye for his remarks, adding that he does not believe Churchill ever made such a statement. Pepper said Nye's speech on the floor was a corroboration of what Churchill said about political fighting.

Pepper Defends Cartoon.

Nye's talk, Pepper said, "was intended as a jab in the side of our British ally, a blow at the President of the United States and the present administration in the conduct of the war, and a further revelation of the consistent anti-British policy which the able senator from North Dakota [Nye] has maintained since long before the present contest was ever inaugurated."

Pepper defended the Daily Mail,

Vote to End Subsidies on Food Jan. 1

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—The house banking and currency committee voted today to outlaw government food subsidies except payments to producers to increase production.

The action was taken in a bill, approved by a 23 to 3 vote, extending the life of the Commodity Credit corporation until June 30, 1945, but prohibiting the use of federal funds by the CCC or any other agency for new subsidy programs after today.

In addition, the measure would halt price rollback subsidies already being paid to hold down meat and butter prices after Dec. 31 of this year.

Revives Bitter Fight.

Today's action is expected to revive a fight between the administration, which has sought blanket authority to pay subsidies to reduce retail food prices, and a majority of congress, which has gone on record against such payments. Last July congress voted to outlaw food subsidies, but the ban was nullified by President Roosevelt's veto after organized labor groups demanded subsidies to hold down the cost of living.

Congressional leaders have reported the President and his White House advisers have drafted an enlarged subsidy program which would cost taxpayers a billion dollars or more a year and that congressional approval for it will be sought in a forthcoming message to congress. Members of congress repeatedly have attacked food subsidies on the ground they are inflationary and discourage food production because the payments are made to reduce retail prices and do not reach the farmers who produce the food.

Support Prices Allowed.

The committee bill would give the CCC authority to continue to pay support prices and other forms of subsidies to producers where such action is requested by the war food administration to increase or maintain food output.

It also would permit the CCC to sell at a loss perishable fruits and vegetables, purchased to support prices, when there is danger of loss of the food thru spoilage.

The CCC would be prohibited, however, from indulging in purchase and resale programs, whereby entire crops might be purchased and resold at a loss to hold down consumer prices.

Rep. Jesse P. Wolcott [R., Mich.], ranking minority member of the committee, said the latter restriction was included to prevent the payment of "subsidies by subterfuge" which he charged the administration would attempt if any loophole was left open.

THE 'REGIONAL UNDERSTANDINGS' PEACE METHOD VERSUS 'A LEAGUE OF NATIONS'

The regional plan was tried with success after the limitation of armaments conference at Washington in 1922. It worked all right for ten years and then failed thru no fault of the United States.

It worked until the Japs took Manchuria and showed the world that the league of nations could be ignored with impunity. That was when Mussolini learned to defy the league.

Why not a group of conflicting nations to adjust western European problems?

And another group of conflicting nations to smooth out eastern European and Asiatic problems?

And still another group to settle southeastern European difficulties?

OPA Sets 'All Year' Prices on 13 Vegetables

The office of price administration yesterday announced a range of retail price ceilings for 13 fresh vegetables, explaining that the action was taken to prevent a repetition of last winter's zooming prices.

"The increase in the cost of living from September, 1942, to May, 1943, was 6.2 per cent," said Chester Bowles, OPA general manager, in Washington. "Three-fifths of this increase was due to the soaring prices of fresh fruits and vegetables alone."

The range of retail prices to be fixed [depending on distance from shipping point], per pound unless otherwise noted, follow:

LIMA BEANS—December thru April, 18 to 21 cents; May thru October, 13 to 16 cents. [The new prices will be 10 to 30 per cent under 1943 prices.]

SNAP BEANS—May and June, 14 to 16 cents; July and August, 12 to 15 cents; September thru December, 14 to 17 cents. [The new prices will be 20 per cent under 1943 prices.]

CABBAGE—December thru April, 6 to 7 cents; May thru November, 4 to 5 cents. [New prices 35 to 50 per cent under March-June, 1943, prices.]

EGGPLANT—November thru June, 10 to 13 cents; July thru October, 9 to 12 cents. [Prices 35 to 50 per cent under 1943.]

LETTUCE—Ten to 13 cents. [1943 prices were 30 per cent higher.]

CARROTS—Seven to 10 cents a bunch. [New prices slightly below 1943.]

CAULIFLOWER—Eight to 10 cents. [A 50 to 60 per cent reduction in 1943 prices, which ranged from 18 to 28 cents a pound.]

CELERY—October thru June, 9 to 12 cents; July thru September, 8 to 10 cents. [New prices 50 to 70 per cent under 1943.]

CUCUMBERS — January, February, and March, 17 to 20 cents; April and May, 12 to 15 cents; June, 8 to 11 cents; July thru September, 6 to 9 cents; October, 8 to 11 cents; November and December, 12 to 15 cents. [New prices will be 35 per cent under 1943 in early months of the year, about 10 per cent under prices this fall.]

PEPPERS—February thru May, 14 to 17 cents; June thru September, 10 to 13½ cents. [New prices will be 50 to 60 per cent under this year's.]

PEAS—From this month thru April, 1944, 16 to 19 cents; May thru September, 16 to 19 cents. [Because of government support prices, retail pea prices are only slightly affected by the new ceilings and in some months may be increased over the levels of this year.]

SPINACH—All months except July and August, 9 to 12 cents; July and August, 10 to 13 cents. [A 10 to 15 per cent reduction.]

TOMATOES—January thru March, 18 to 21 cents; April, 17 to 20 cents; May and June, 16 to 19 cents; July, 10 to 13 cents; August and September, 6 to 9 cents; October thru December, 16 to 19 cents. [The ceilings will be about 50 per cent under some months of last winter.]

Previously, OPA area chiefs set dollar and cents ceiling prices on commonly used vegetables and fruits, making weekly changes in the price schedule. Under this new plan, prices are fixed in advance for all seasons of the year.

58 PASSENGERS HURT WHEN CHICAGO BOUND TRAIN IS DERAILED

Miles City, Mont., Oct. 14 (AP).—Fifty-eight persons were injured today in the derailment of the Milwaukee's Chicago bound passenger train, the Olympian. Only five were reported in serious condition. Fifty-three others were treated for minor cuts and bruises.

Officials said the water softened roadbed evidently gave way under the weight of the locomotive. The 11 car first section of the train plunged from the tracks at Paragon, 11 miles west of here. The baggage car and two coaches overturned, while the engine and the other cars remained upright.

Milwaukee road officials said traffice would be resumed in 24 hours.

4 CHICAGOANS INJURED.

Four of those injured are Chicagoans. They are Charles Paul, 5742 South Francisco avenue; Cecile Crull, 6442 Dante avenue; J. Doyle, 610 Madison street, and Dennis Washington, Negro, 3650 Prairie avenue, a dining car porter. Injuries of all were said to be slight.

J. C. SHAFFER'S $150,000 HOME IS LEFT TO N. U.

With the death recently of John C. Shaffer, former Chicago publisher, his $150,000 home at 1704 Judson avenue, Evanston, became the property of Northwestern university, it was disclosed yesterday by university officials. The home was deeded to the university on June 1, 1934, subject to occupancy by Mr. Shaffer during his lifetime. The university has made no plans for its use. Including the home, Mr. Shaffer's contributions to the university totaled almost $550,000.

17 Trains Can Take You Back to Childhood!

The young in heart from 2 to 102 are in for the time of their lives when the exhibition now being planned in the old Chicago Historical Society building at 632 North Dearborn street is unveiled about Dec. 1.

A hobbyist's dream show, 17 electric trains will chug in and out of the massive old rooms over dozens of miles of complicated tracks from morning to night.

For more than 50 years Elmer B. Tolsted, in common with most men who never quite stop being little boys, has been fascinated by model trains. A consulting engineer who headed the firm of Fonda-Tolsted, Inc. until his retirement 10 years ago, he has spent most of the last decade collecting the material and planning the show which he is now arranging for his own amusement.

Rail Terminal Busy Place.

Ready to greet the public's gaze in the great center hall of the building will be a fascinating model Chicago terminal, with trains shunting in and out on a labyrinth of tracks, carefully timed to schedule. Following the tracks to the elongated room at the rear, the sightseer will discover a miniature lake, with a deck truss bridge for the trains.

A gantry crane will load coal cars at one end of the room, while a car dumper performs the reverse procedure into the hulls of waiting boats in the lake.

There is a scenic stretch with scale models of the Swan house in England, a store-apartment structure in Coventry, England, the Taber Opera house in Denver, a church, the Vendrimino palace in Venice, and numerous houses, filling stations, garages, and stores to be glimpsed along a highway which parallels this section of track. The model buildings were constructed by Theodore Saunders, an artist and long time friend of Tolsted's.

Elaborate Sound Effects.

Enlivening the busy scene will be elaborate sound effects, with train whistles shrilling, fog horns hooting on the ships in the lake, chickens crowing in farm yards and ducks quacking in the ponds along the wayside. All in all, it's an exciting project, and no one anticipates it more than Tolsted, who is spending almost every waking hour in the old building directing the work of his construction crew.

Tolsted said he expects to collect 25 cents admission to pay part of the rent, but that he would assume the rest of the expenses himself.

RUSSIANS WIN ZAPOROZHE, BIG DNIEPER BASE

Peril Nazi Forces in Crimea.

LONDON, Oct. 15 [Friday]—(AP).—The Red army captured the Dnieper river bend stronghold of Zaporozhe yesterday, sealed off Melitopol, and cut its railway link with the Crimea, and in a new break-thru north of Kiev smashed three German divisions, Moscow announced early today.

Fall of the industrial citadel of Zaporozhe on the east bank of the Dnieper opened the way for a Russian landslide south into the Crimea, where 100,000 German troops risk encirclement. Front line dispatches said soviet units already are pursuing German remnants from the broken Zaporozhe-Melitopol line.

Nearly 10,000 Germans were slain as the Russians won Zaporozhe and fought toward early triumphs at Kiev on the middle Dnieper and Gomel in White Russia. In addition, Moscow's midnight war report said: "In the area north of Kiev our tanks broke thru German positions and smashed three enemy divisions."

Isolate Nazis in Melitopol.

Huge stores of equipment were declared to have been abandoned by the Germans at Zaporozhe, which is near the site of the giant Dnieper dam.

Sixty-five miles to the south Russian troops had isolated German troops holding out in Melitopol after cutting them off from the Crimea by snapping the main railway into the peninsula at two points.

The Russians also closed in on Kiev on the west bank of the middle Dnieper from bridgeheads north and south of the capital. Dispatches said the Russians were smashing ahead in an effort to take Kiev before German dynamite squads complete the wrecking of the city, already in flames.

Fight at Gates of Gomel.

Gomel, in lower White Russia, also appeared to be on the verge of falling to the Russians, who are attacking at its gates. Gomel also was reported being put to the torch by the Germans.

Premier Marshal Josef Stalin announced the capture of Zaporozhe in an order of the day, hailing it as one of the enemy's "decisive strong points" on the lower Dnieper.

Significance of its fall was noted by Stalin who ordered Moscow's 224 victory cannon to fire 24 salvos, one of the heaviest salutes yet given a Russian triumph.

Dual Crimea Blow Seen.

A Tass news agency dispatch broadcast by Moscow said Russian troops have reached the western tip of the Taman peninsula of the Caucasus across the two mile wide Kerch strait from the Crimea. These troops may make an amphibious attack on the Crimea from the east while other forces strike from the north.

[Germany's war report yesterday said Russian attacks were repulsed north of the Sea of Azov, in the Gomel area, and west of Smolensk.]

WATCHES YANKS CROSS VOLTURNO FROM A HILLTOP

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE 5TH ARMY AT THE VOLTURNO RIVER, Oct. 13 [Delayed].—Two a. m. was the zero hour for the long planned crossing of the Volturno river. Right on the second the doughboys started wading that swift moving river barrier in the wake of one of the most concentrated and spectacular artillery barrages American and British big guns ever laid down.

The first detachment went thru 60 yards of water to reach the north bank 20 minutes later. I watched them cross and all thru the night and morning I watched others cross. They went into action the moment they reached dry ground.

[Allied forces expand Volturno bridgeheads. Story on page 8.]

Artillery Opens Barrage.

Early yesterday [Tuesday] our artillery began its big chores. Guns thundered all afternoon, the Germans replying with only desultory 88 fire.

At 8:15 last night the full force of artillery started. We threw in everything — American 155 mm. "Long Toms," 105 mm. rifles, 105 and 155 mm. howitzers, British 17 and 25 pounders. Mortars, too, sent over a constant stream of shells.

It was 11 p. m. when Capt. Eugene Salet of Reno, Nev., invited me to "come up and see the show."

The moon was full and the night was cool as I drove north of Castelmorrone with him and Pvt. Harry Golden of Danville, Ill. We alighted when our jeep could go no further and started a long, stiff climb.

Doughboys ahead of us were plodding ghostlike on the moon silvered stony trails. Up and up we went, the side of the ridge hiding us from the foe.

Shells Blast German Nests.

Then the Volturno lay below about a half mile away twisting snaky black in the moonlight.

The low ground and high ground across the river were being raked mercilessly by the artillery. With brilliant flashes big shells plowed up the earth and the German nests. To the northeast the town of Caiazzo was flaming.

It was as bright as day. It was a furious and endless roar. But the Germans were not answering.

At 1 a. m. today the firing had died down. A little detachment of American troops, keeping to the shadows as best they could, were crossing the river with ropes to support those who were to come. The ropes were secured by trees on each side of the stream.

Shells Lay Smoke Screen.

The artillery and mortars whined again. But soon they stopped—and from now on the artillery would go into action on call only. Toward 2 a. m. phosphorescent shells flew over and others laid down a smoke screen.

It was 2 a. m. The infantry moved toward the crossing. Doughboys carrying their 25 pound packs and holding their rifles high to keep them dry stepped into the water. For the taller ones it was between waist and shoulder high, but some of the shorter ones were submerged and had to swim.

Although it had seemed that nothing on the opposite shore could have survived that artillery concentration, there were still well dug in enemy

Jap Base Hit by 100 Planes

ALLIED HDQ. IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Oct. 15 [Friday]—(AP).—In a new raid on Kahili, Japan's chief airdrome on the last important enemy Solomons holding of Bougainville, American planes have downed 12 Zeros in sky battles.

This announcement in today's bulletin added to the latest bag of enemy planes there. Yesterday's announcement reported the downing of 21 Japanese aircraft in the Bougainville sector during a raid by more than 130 bombers and fighters.

In the new raid, more than 100 American bombers and fighters attacked Kahili, which is near Buin on south Bougainville.

The raid was executed in daylight by Liberator heavy bombers, Avenger torpedo bombers and Dauntless divebombers. Fires visible for 30 miles were started in the supply areas. Airdrome gun positions were silenced, and a building and a bridge blown up.

Biggest Air Base.

The Kahili airdrome is the biggest air base barring the northward progress of the allies up the Solomons toward Rabaul, the enemy's New Britain fortress which on Tuesday was hit by a 350 ton bombing attack. The Kahili raid reported today occurred on Monday just prior to the assault on Rabaul.

Mitchell medium bombers meanwhile swept north of Bougainville and in attacks on shipping are believed to have sunk two enemy cargo vessels. The ships were attacked at mast height south of Buka passage.

The bulletin also reported a successful raid by medium and heavy bombers at night on Japan's Penfoei airdrome near Koepang, on Dutch Timor, 500 miles northwest of Australia. A fuel storage tank was exploded, buildings demolished, and fires set in areas where aircraft are dispersed. These fires could be seen 30 miles away.

"Makin Island Raided."

New York, Oct. 14 [Special].—The Tokio radio tonight reported that six Liberator bombers had raided Makin Island in the Gilbert group this morning. The broadcast said Japanese anti-aircraft fire had repulsed "every one" of the raiders and that the defenders "suffered no losses."

BATTLE COSTS GERMANS 104 FIGHTER CRAFT

600 Americans Lost on 1,000 Mile Raid.

LONDON, Oct. 15 [Friday]—(AP).—United States Flying Fortresses reached deep into Germany yesterday to smash the important ball bearing plant at Schweinfurt and lost a record number of 60 bombers while knocking down 91 fighters in what was probably the fiercest single air battle ever fought.

Map shows raid target.

Escorting Thunderbolt fighters bagged 13 aircraft, boosting the total of enemy losses to 104. Two American fighters were missing, raising the raiders' total losses to 62.

The heaviest previous American loss was 59 bombers on the Regensburg-Schweinfurt shuttle raid to Africa Aug. 17. The R. A. F. peak loss was 58 bombers in the Aug. 23 raid on Berlin.

Nazis Claim 90 Planes.

The Berlin radio said 90 British-American planes had been shot down during the day "over west German territory."

The American loss yesterday represented 600 American flyers killed or missing and perhaps $20,000,000 worth of precision bombing and fighting machinery.

But preliminary reports indicated the plant, whose products form key parts of the German war machine, was knocked out of production.

One crewman who watched hundreds of bombs pour into the target despite the desperate efforts of German fighter planes to break up the attack said: "There was a better concentration on this raid than at Marienburg in East Prussia and I saw both."

Among the midwestern airmen on the Schweinfurt raid were Sergeants Garland Morgan of Beaver Dam, Wis.; Robert Fernstaedt of Monroe, Wis., and D. O. Ellis of Newcastle, Ind.

Reports Heavy Damage.

The German overseas radio said considerable damage was done to Schweinfurt's residential section.

Schweinfurt's roller bearing factory supplying the prime essentials of almost every type of equipment necessary for modern warfare occupies 72 acres on the River Main at Schweinfurt.

Schweinfurt, about 500 miles from Britain and 65 miles east of Frankfurt, was raided then by a group of American heavy bombers which returned to British bases while another force went on to bomb Regensburg in southeastern Germany and then hopped to Africa on the first American shuttle raid.

Today's blow carried the Americans on a round trip of approximately 1,000 miles, but was considerably shorter than the record. On Oct. 9 a force went all the way to East Germany, Poland, and East Prussia.

400 Bombers on Attacks.

Even before today's attack United States bombers had dropped more than 4,400 tons of bombs on German targets this month and destroyed 450 German fighters—a record achievement for the 8th air force.

Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, United States air force commander in Britain, already has announced that more than 400 heavy bombers have been employed in recent smashes at Germany. It was announced yesterday that 855 planes made up the force attacking Bremen and Vegesack on Oct. 8.

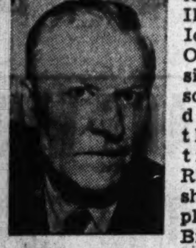
British Say Finns Talk of Ending German Tie

New York, Oct. 14 (AP).—BBC said tonight in a German language broadcast that the Finnish diet foreign affairs committee president had told the diet "we may have to part ways with Germany." The British broadcast quoted the legislator as saying, "We must now claim for ourselves the right to safeguard the security and interests of our country at all costs."

FOR BEING GOOD, RHODES ALUMNI SEE THE PRINCE

Iowan Tells of Britain's Hold on Americans.



Joseph G. Walleser.

Joseph G. Walleser, an English professor on leave from Quincy college at Quincy, Ill., and the first Iowan to attend Oxford university as a Rhodes scholar, yesterday denounced the administration of the Rhodes scholarships as "a subtle plan of spreading British imperialism and inculcating Americans with a philosophy of British superiority."

Walleser received a degree of master of arts from Oriel college at Oxford after attending the university from 1904 to 1907. At the time this was the highest degree in English literature, the department in which he studied. He has been teaching literature in Iowa and Illinois schools, but is working for the government at the veterans' hospital at Downey, Lake county.

Aim Revealed at Reunion.

Evidence that the administrators of the Rhodes scholarships intended that the American scholars studying under the plan should act, either consciously or unconsciously, as propagandists for British imperialism and British superiority developed during an Oxford reunion he attended in England in 1929, Walleser said.

The entire purpose of the reunion, he said, was to lionize the Rhodes scholars who had done something for the glorification of the British empire in the eyes of the citizens of other countries. Those of the 200 scholars attending who had done little or nothing for the empire, Walleser said, were made to feel that they had failed in an obligation. "The telling was not very subtle," he commented.

For example, Walleser asserted, a judge who had worked in Africa was praised in many speeches as a "symbol of the right and might of Great Britain." His greatest achievement, according to the speeches, was that he maintained the formalities of an English gentleman in the midst of 15 million Negro subordinates, and made them feel his power and their subjection to it.

Dr. Aydelotte Commended.

Another of those chosen for glorification by the Rhodes administrators, Walleser declared, was Dr. Frank Aydelotte, former president of Swarthmore college and American secretary of the Rhodes trustees. Dr. Aydelotte, according to Walleser, was officially commended for his work in education and for "his interpretation of English ideals and customs to Americans."

[Dr. Aydelotte attended Brasenose college at Oxford from 1905 to 1907 and from 1912 to 1913 as a student from Indiana. He has been American secretary to the trustees since 1918 and was president of Swarthmore from 1921 to 1940. He is now director of the Institute for Advanced Study. Included in his books are "The Oxford Stamp" and "Oxford Today."]

During the week-long reunion, Walleser said, the group of scholars were constantly shown sights calculated to impress them with British superiority. They were introduced to many of Britain's greats and near greats and were awarded the "honor" of a handshake with royalty, he said.

Shake Hands of Dignitaries.

"At the official dinner of the reunion," Walleser recalled "the head table was presided over by the duke of Windsor, who was surrounded by an awesome group of dignitaries. We were introduced to each one and allowed to shake his hand."

Later during the reunion the group was taken to the home of Lady Astor—the famous Cliveden—where the scholars again mingled with royalty.

Walleser said another event at the reunion fortified his opinion that the Rhodes scholars were intended to be British propagandists.

"I studied very carefully the changes made in the method of selecting Rhodes scholars that was proposed and selected at that meeting," he said, "and the change from selecting two students from each state to the selection of the students from districts made up of several states was done to make sure that the students would be the type that would promote Britain."

Instructor at Indiana.

Walleser is a native of Grinnell, Ia. He was graduated from Grinnell college in 1903 and began teaching there in 1909. In 1918 he took military training at Fort Snelling and Fort Sheridan. After the war he taught at Indiana university and later went to Quincy college, where he has remained. While working at the Downey hospital he is living at 873 North La Salle street.

Lt. John Insley Blair Pyne and his bride, the former Elizabeth Stuyvesant, in their car after their marriage in New York yesterday.

New York, Oct. 14 (AP).—Miss Elizabeth Stuyvesant Fish, daughter of United States Rep. and Mrs. Hamilton Fish of Newburgh, N. Y., was married today in St. Mark's-in-the-Bouwerie to Lt. [j. g.] Insley Blair Pyne, naval aviator and son of State Sen. and Mrs. H. Rivington Pyne of Far Hills, N. J. The couple will make their home at Coronado, Cal., where Lt. Pyne is stationed.

WILEY PROPOSES SEAT FOR YANKS AT PEACE TABLE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—The buck private, the corporal, the sergeant, and the officers "who do the bleeding, sweating, and dying" should have seats at the peace table after the war, Sen. Alexander Wiley [R., Wis.] declared in the senate today.

"The men who are fighting the war and who are paying the real price of war should have something to say about making and maintaining the peace," Wiley said. "With their contribution, we should find that formula for peace which is necessary for a war sick world."

Wiley said he was not thinking of the professional military and naval men who would be advisers at peace discussions.

"I have in mind the civilian who left his job in the factory, the bank, the merchant establishment, and the school to take up arms in the defense of his country," he said.

WOMAN TAKES POISON, DIES.

Mrs. Louise Chmela, 34 years old, 17902 Oak Park avenue, Tinley Park, died in St. Francis hospital, Blue Island, yesterday of the effects of poison. County police said she took the poison in despondency over illness.

Nye Protests 'Insults' in Stormy Session.

which ran the "monkey" cartoon of the five touring senators, saying that the paper "in all its long history, never in all its most sinister moments, never in any diabolical attitude it ever conceived of, was able to say or infer as much against the United States as THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE for more than a decade has constantly and vitriolically poured out against the personality of the leaders of Great Britain."

Sen. Carl A. Hatch [D., N. M.] joined Pepper in attacking Nye's stand, reading a column by Samuel Grafton, who recently won notice with his "moronic little king" reference to the king of Italy. The column said that criticism of the English, such as that expressed by the traveling senators in their report, is part of a political plot against Roosevelt.

Sen. Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.], majority leader of the senate, concluded the debate, pouring oil over the ruffled feelings of the senators. Barkley said that to his knowledge Churchill has not attempted to enter the American political scene.

Gallup Poll Criticized.

Barkley took the occasion to criticize the Gallup poll for its census of British opinion on the Presidential race here.

"I do not know by what right the Gallup poll is taken in England on a Presidential election in the United States," he said. "I suppose it is like all other Gallup polls—they are looking for means of taking a census among some people about something."

Barkley urged the senators not to become excited over the statements of "any politician or statesman of any country" involved in the present war.

ANGLO-AMERICA DUE AFTER WAR, SAYS EDUCATOR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Oct. 14.—Great Britain and the United States will become a political entity, an "Anglo-America," in the post-war world, Giuseppe A. Borgese, professor of the University of Chicago who is lecturing in political science at the University of Puerto Rico, predicted in an address today.

He expressed belief also that Prime Minister Churchill was the guiding spirit in the Churchill-Roosevelt combination and that Churchill was determined to use American power to perpetuate the British empire.

Borgese spoke at a meeting of the Men's Faculty association. Answering objections that anti-British groups, Irish-Americans, and non-interventionists, would oppose such a unification policy by the United States, he said trade and economic interests would be sufficiently powerful to overcome such factional opposition.

A. M. A. Gives OPA Guide on Points Invalids Need

The Journal of the American Medical Association announced yesterday that the A. M. A. had given the OPA a nutritional guide under which many invalids need not necessarily require extra ration points. It said the recommendations do not cover all conditions in which extra points might be necessary, but are a guide to a "vast majority" of such conditions. It said some physicians "have not hesitated to recommend large amounts of food entirely without relationship to the scientific criteria that should prevail."

ROTARY OFFICIAL DEFENDS SLANT OF LECTURERS

Holds List Is Not Packed by Global Dreamers.

Spokesmen for Rotary International at world headquarters here denied yesterday that there is any "globaloney" propaganda in the organization's current program of lectures whose theme is "Contributors to a New World Order."

Brightly smiling Herbert W. Hines is in charge of the Institute of International Understanding. He said that the 15 speakers who have been booked for this fall were selected with care. Each of more than 100 clubs in the middle west will have four speakers, for whom it pays $230.

In fact, pressure groups offering to provide speakers free of charge have been met with a firm "No," he said. Federal Union [Union Now] and the Commission to Study the Organization of Peace, he said, were among the latter groups.

Defends List's Balance.

Hines was asked how it happens that so many of the 15 speakers have internationalist affiliations or foreign ties. He replied that he did not believe there was a lack of balance in the number with such leanings and asserted that it is necessary to get lecturers who are well informed.

Here is the list of speakers:

Herbert S. Agar of Louisville, Ky., a leading interventionist, who last year was commissioned a navy lieutenant commander, but has been loaned to Ambassador Winant as a special assistant in England. Hines said Agar has been given other official duties and will not appear for Rotary.

Don Bolt of Rockford, Ill., who during World War I. served in the British merchant marine. He is a writer and lecturer on international affairs.

C. Douglas Booth of New York City, publicist and lecturer. He is a member of the Royal Institute of International Affairs, Chatham House, London, and during World War I. he was a major in his majesty's army.

Book Expert on Russia.

Simon M. Davidian of Lima, O., born in Constantinople of Armenian parentage, and now described as a "specialist in international affairs" with a "dependable knowledge of Russia."

I. J. Fisher of Vancouver, B. C. An Englishman by birth, he was for many years a faculty member of the University of Tokio and of the Japanese naval college.

O. D. Foster of Washington, D. C., publicist and student of Latin American affairs who has been on "many semi-diplomatic missions" and has served as unofficial consultant in a number of Central and South American countries.

George A. Malcolm of Jackson, Mich., who spent more than 30 years in government service in the Philippines. From January, 1940, to November, 1942, he was attorney general of Puerto Rico.

Former M. P. a Lecturer.

John A. Marsh of Ottawa, Ont., former member of Parliament and now special assistant to the minister in charge of munitions and supply of the dominion.

Sir Charles Morgan-Webb of London, now residing here at 40 East Oak street, described as a "British political and monetary expert." He has been chief secretary of the government of Burma and an author whose works include "The Money Revolution."

No-Yong Park of Kirksville, Mo., born in Manchuria and a student in China, Japan, Europe, and the United States, where he received his Ph. D. at Harvard university.

Albert Parry of Chicago, born Paretzky in Russia, who as a writer for radical publications described himself as a "left wing pink." He was one of the leaders of "Fight for Freedom," the organization which long before Pearl Harbor had the slogan: "We mean 'Fight' and we mean 'Freedom'."

One Speaker an F. R. G. S.

Gerhart Seger of New York City, former member of the German reichstag, who came to America in 1934 after escaping from a Nazi concentration camp.

Clarence Woodrow Sorenson of Chicago, described as a roaming reporter whose "keen and dependable observations brought him election as a fellow of the Royal Geographical Society of London."

Hugh C. Stuntz of Nashville, Tenn., who spent 20 years in educational work in South America. In Bolivia he was correspondent for Reuter's, the British news agency known for its empire building propaganda.

Tells of Early Movies

Lillian Gish with her dog, General Malcolm, as she spoke last night in the La Salle hotel.

Early days in the movies, when film palaces were known as nickelodeons, were described last night by Lillian Gish, star of the silent films, at a meeting in the La Salle hotel sponsored by the Loyola Service guild. The proceeds will aid underprivileged children.

Both Lillian and her sister, Dorothy, are back in the movies. Lillian has just completed work in a picture called "Top Man," and Dorothy is working now in her first picture in 15 years.

Lillian told how, when her mother pulled her out of a road show in Toronto, Ont., at the age of 5, her place was taken by a Gladys Smith, who later became Mary Pickford.

CHURCH LEADER SUES PUBLISHER OF SMEAR BOOK

Robnett Seeks $100,000 in Libel Action.

Charging that he is "depicted in a degrading, defamatory and scandalous manner" in "Under Cover," a smear book written by John Roy Carlson, George Washington Robnett, executive secretary of the Church League of America, yesterday filed the complaint of a $100,000 libel action in Circuit court against E. P. Dutton & Co., publishers of the book.

J. A. Cobbey, attorney for Robnett, said this was the first of nearly a score of libel suits that will be filed against other firms and individuals connected with the writing, publication, distribution and sale of the book.

Holds Jacket Worst Offender.

In his complaint, Robnett states that the book, and particularly the jacket cover, which contains indorsements by a number of individuals as well as advertising matter attacking "American Fascists," "Quislings" and "enemies within," brings disrepute against the church league as well as himself.

"The plaintiff and the said Church League of America," the complaint states, "are specifically referred to by name and depicted in a degrading, defamatory and scandalous manner; plaintiff further has falsely and maliciously been described in said book as engaging in un-American and disreputable activities."

Six Aliases Charged.

The name of the author, Cobbey declared, is one of at least six aliases. The attorney said the name of Arthur Derounian is claimed by the writer but that he has learned there was an earlier name by which Carlson was known in Armenia, the land of his birth. Carlson has admitted editorship, for a time, of the Christian Defender, a violent anti-Semetic publication. He has done other odd jobs of writing and investigating for various groups and individuals since coming to the United States.

LAST SHOPPING DAY FOR GIFTS GOING OVERSEAS

This is the last shopping day before Christmas, if you intend to remember the army service men overseas. The deadline for mailing Christmas packages for overseas delivery is midnight and Postmaster Ernest J. Kruetgen forecasts a heavy last minute rush.

Branch postoffices will close at 6 p. m. today and the parcel windows at the annex station in the United States courthouse will close at 10 p. m. The main postoffice will be open all night as usual but parcels for servicemen will not be received later than midnight. After that hour the only way an overseas soldier can receive a parcel is on written request for a specific article. The deadline for navy Christmas mail is Nov. 1, but the public is urged to mail early so shipping space can be arranged.

FLYING FORT'S GIANT BROTHER JOINS U.S. ARMY

Focuses Its Bombsights on Germany, Japan.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14 (AP).—A new American super-bomber hauling more explosives and having vastly greater range than any existing warplane is in production and a number of the air giants have been delivered to the army in the last several weeks.

Dwarfing the Consolidated Liberator and Boeing Flying Fortress, the new dreadnaught of the sky is reckoned capable of bringing the innermost production centers of Hitler's European fortress and the Japanese empire within the sights of United States bombardiers.

The plane has been identified as the B-29 by the army weekly Yank, in a recent article which said:

"A new super fortress, the B-29, is being built which will have a greater bomb capacity and longer range than any existing bomber."

Combat Service Delayed.

From previous guarded reports which have passed military censorship, it appeared officials do not expect to see the new airplane in combat before 1944. This presumably is because of the time required to attain full-scale production, train crews, and eliminate defects which may show up in early models.

A prediction that the new heavyweight puncher will be "the determining factor in crushing Germany" came last summer from Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, World war ace. In June he told the 10th air force in New Delhi, India, the new bomber would join the Liberators and Fortresses in 1944.

He also told American pilots and crewmen the super-bomber would have double the load and fighting power of the planes they were flying and was especially designed for bombing Europe.

Mass Production in 1944.

"No nation could survive the pounding a fleet of these planes can deliver and they will be out in mass production next year," Rickenbacker said.

Any statistical comparison of the new plane with the Flying Fortresses is unobtainable at this stage, but Gen. Arnold, commander of the army air forces, some months ago gave a hint of the difference by saying Liberators and Fortresses are "the last of the small bombers."

Introduction of the new bomber into the aerial arsenal will not mean the reduction of production schedules of present day bombers, it was made clear recently by Charles E. Wilson, executive vice chairman of the war production board. Reporting in May that heavy bomber output next April would be eight times greater than in April, 1942, Wilson added:

"This does not include the scheduled output of the new super-bombers."

New Production Record.

Production of Liberators and Fortresses reached a record high in August, the WPB revealed recently, with a gain of 11 per cent over July. Aircraft output in August total 7,612 military planes.

The Flying Fortress was undergoing changes to increase its bomb load to 10 tons, making it the heaviest in the world—until, presumably, the super Fortress gets into the fighting.

The Flying Fortress; Queen of the Army's Air Fighters

(Story in adjoining column.)

Horthy Gets Birthday Gift from Hitler, 4 Months Late

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 14 (AP).—Adm. Nicholas Horthy, regent of Hungary, got a birthday present from his boss, Adolf Hitler, today—about four months late. The gift was a Danube yacht, a Budapest dispatch said, and Grand Adm. Erich Raeder, admiral inspector of the Nazi navy, came around personally to present it. Horthy's birthday fell June 18.

FORT ACCLAIMED AS WORLD'S BEST FIGHTER-BOMBER

The American army's Flying Fortresses, which have been steadily enlarged and improved since they first went into production in 1935 at the Boeing plant in Seattle, are rated by many as the most efficient long range fighters in the world. They bristle with guns to battle attacking fighters and their ability to come home altho beaten and battered is well established. They do not carry as heavy a bomb load as the British Lancaster's 10 tons, but their capacity has been steadily increased.

The Fortress, fully loaded, weighs approximately 55,000 pounds, of which 15,000 pounds is the fuel load of 2,500 gallons. Its speed and ceiling is a secret, but it is believed the plane can exceed 300 miles an hour and reach 35,000 feet.

The Forts have a wing spread of 104 feet and are 73 feet long. The four Wright Cyclone engines develop 1,250 horsepower each and the exhaust driven turbo supercharger delivers additional horsepower that enables the ship to perform well in the stratosphere.

The Fortress' 13 guns give them protection in every direction. Twelve of the guns are of .50 caliber and one is .30 caliber.

FIND PENICILLIN IS 15 HOUR CURE FOR GONORRHEA

Doctors Describe Effect in 169 Cases.

New York, Oct. 14 [Special].—Penicillin, science's newest germ killer, has been used with amazing results in the treatment of venereal diseases by two physicians at the United States marine hospital on Staten Island who reported their conclusions to the war time conference of the American Public Health association today.

Dr. C. J. Van Slyke described the clinical procedure by which cures were effected in 169 out of 178 cases of gonorrhea by administering penicillin over a period of nine to 15 hours. Dr. John F. Mahoney reported on the treatment of four patients with syphilis who were given the penicillin treatment for eight days and whose blood stream showed no signs of the disease within a few weeks.

Available to Public in Year.

Penicillin [accent on "cil"], which is produced by the green mold that thrives on cheese, bread, and other substances, is reserved almost exclusively for the fighting forces, but enough of the drug for distribution to the general public is expected to be available within a year. The average cost of the penicillin in the gonorrhea treatment is $75 at the present market price, but this is expected to decrease with increased production.

Four months have elapsed since the patients were treated and none has shown evidence of a recurrence of the disease, both physicians said. In the nine failures in the gonorrhea treatment, penicillin was administered a second time and cures were effected in all cases.

Administered by Hypodermic.

Dr. Van Slyke said ill effects in the use of penicillin were negligible in contrast to the effect of sulfa drugs on some patients. The new drug is administered to venereal patients by hypodermic injection in muscular tissue, resulting in slight pain lasting only a few minutes.

The 178 patients treated for gonorrhea, all of whom were men, were divided into five groups. The following table shows the results:

| | Treated. | Cured. | No. doses. | Hrs. treatmt. | Units dose. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Group A.. | 75 | 74 | 16 | 9 | 10,000 |
| Group B. | 23 | 23 | 5 | 12 | 20,000 |
| Group C. | 25 | 21 | 4 | 9 | 25,000 |
| Group D. | 25 | 24 | 5 | 12 | 15,000 |
| Group E. | 15 | 12 | 5 | 12 | 10,000 |
| Group F. | 15 | 15 | 6 | 15 | 20,000 |

Dr. Van Slyke said that of 300 gonorrhea patients treated no type of the gonococcus has proved resistant to the drug. Altho hospitalization probably will not be necessary when treatment with penicillin becomes general, those on whom the reports were based were confined for 15 to 21 days for observation.

Six Doses Ideal Treatment.

The ideal treatment, Dr. Van Slyke said, is six doses of 20,000 units of penicillin each, administered every three hours in a period of 15 hours. One hundred grains of penicillin equals 1,000,000 units.

Dr. Mahoney, who reported on the use of penicillin in the treatment of syphilis, said that four patients were selected with the disease in its early stages. The drug was administered for eight days. Healing was rapid and blood tests which were positive at the end of the treatment returned to normal within a few weeks. Weekly blood tests have been made for the last four months and all have been negative with the exception of a doubtful reaction in one patient.

Dr. Mahoney said that, while the results are gratifying, a prolonged observation of a large group of patients will be needed to confirm the promise held out in the first group. He also pointed out that the treatment had yet to be applied to patients who have the disease in its later stages.

SALLY RAND.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 14 (AP).—Sally Rand of the fan and bubble dances was ordered to shed $3,294 today. Superior Judge Emmet H. Wilson gave judgment for that amount to Miss Olive Kephart, Los Angeles real estate woman, as the amount due on a note Miss Rand gave her for a $5,950 loan in 1940. Testimony indicated the dancer assigned Miss Kephart her claims against the Nude Ranch Corporation, which staged Sally's act at the San Francisco Fair, but that Miss Kephart collected only $1,155 on the assignment.

DAUGHTER FACES MOTHER IN FIGHT TO OBTAIN CHILD

Mrs. Ursula Duffy, 22 years old, of 2742 North Laramie avenue, and her mother, Mrs. Pearl K. Borkowski, 51, of 2663 Nelson street, faced each other in County court yesterday, each determined to gain custody of Mrs. Duffy's son, Arthur, who was born out of wedlock six years ago.

Mrs. Borkowski, who posed as Arthur's mother so the world would never know the circumstances of his birth, wept frequently during the hearing. She disclosed her secret after her daughter and the daughter's husband, John Duffy, 27, a machinist, obtained adoption papers for the boy. Mrs. Borkowski has petitioned Judge Edmund K. Jarecki to vacate the order and her daughter yesterday asked that the petition be dismissed.

Louis I. Shapiro, attorney for Mrs. Duffy, argued that Judge Jarecki's jurisdiction ended with the issuance of the adoption order Sept. 29, but the judge dismissed his point, gave Shapiro five days in which to submit written briefs, and set a hearing for Oct. 21.

Britain Offers Free Ships; Canada Insists on Paying

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 14.—Britain wishes to make an outright gift to Canada of two cruisers and two to six destroyers, but Canada insists upon paying for them, Angus L. MacDonald, minister of naval services, said today. He denied that the financial question will delay delivery of the warships by Britain. Cost of the ships may reach $20,000,000, it was said.

CAPT. COLMAN CASE STUDIED BY ARMY BOARD

Inactive Status Scanned for Ex-Colonel.

BY WILLIAM MOORE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson said today Capt. William T. Colman already has appeared before an army reclassification board which will determine whether Colman will be removed from the army active list.

Meanwhile, Rep. Paul W. Shafer [R., Mich.] renewed his demand for a transcript of the war department investigation and court martial proceedings against Colman. Shafer is conducting an independent investigation of the case for the house military affairs committee.

Other Counts Dismissed.

Colman formerly was commanding officer of the army air base at Selfridge field, Michigan. He was reduced to a captaincy after being found guilty at a court martial Sept. 14 on four charges of drunkenness and a charge of wounding his Negro soldier chauffeur by the careless use of a pistol.

The court martial acquitted the officer, however, on 23 other counts, including one of shooting the soldier, Pvt. Willie McRae, with intent to do him bodily harm.

Reopens Inquiry.

Stimson ordered further proceedings following the court martial after Rep. Shafer had denounced the verdict as "disgustingly inadequate" and had demanded an investigation.

Shafer, who originally investigated the shooting for the military affairs committee, was assigned by the committee chairman, Rep. Andrew J. May [D., Ky.] to reopen the committee inquiry.

5 JAP COLUMNS GAIN IN BIG DRIVE ON BURMA ROAD

Chinese Battle to Check Re-enforced Foe.

CHUNGKING, China, Oct. 14 (AP).—Reënforced Japanese units—five columns in all—pushed north along the Burma road at its entrance into southwestern China today, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's headquarters admitted, as Chinese forces fought desperately to hold the enemy drive in check.

After announcing yesterday that the Japanese had sent three columns into the advance, the Chinese high command said tonight that two more columns had entered the fighting in the vicinity of the Shuanhungchiao river and Lungma.

Japanese troops, based on Changachieh, continued their northward push toward Kantingchieh, the Chinese said, reaching Tatangtse where "brisk" interceptive fighting is going on.

Battle for Salween River.

Most of the fighting appeared to be in the region of the west bank of the upper Salween river, the crossing of which was a possible Japanese objective. Today's war bulletin, however, made no mention of the river which flows south from Tibet to the Bay of Bengal at Moulmein.

The bulletin reported only harassing action against an enemy column which was said yesterday to be pushing south on Mingkwang, while a third column moving north from Tengchung was reported stopped.

Of the two new drives, the bulletin said, the Japanese had won a position on the west shore of Lake Shaunhungchiao from which it shelled the Chinese positions on the opposite shore. Chinese counter-fire, however, silenced the Japanese guns and "caused heavy damage to the enemy."

Both Sides Suffer Heavily.

A fifth push near Lungma was being held.

Of all these operations in southwestern Yunnan province, the high command said, the "severe" fighting had resulted in heavy casualties to both sides.

Operations on the east China front in the Siaofeng sector, meanwhile, sprang to life again yesterday with "extremely heavy" fighting in the suburbs of that city, southeast of the former capital at Nanking.

The high command said its troops recaptured Potien on Tuesday, but Japanese reënforcements with the support of "many bombers" forced the Chinese back to the south where they "are now engaged in a brave, bloody fight against the enemy."

NAZIS PROTEST TO PORTUGAL ON AZORES LEASE

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

BERNE, Switzerland, Oct. 14.—Germany filed a formal protest with the Portuguese government today against the treaty surrender to Britain of naval and air bases on the Azores.

Germany said the Portuguese action not only constitutes a unilateral breach of neutrality in Portugal's military relations to the reich but is destined to affect Germany's relations with other neutrals, it was reported.

The text of the German protest had not been released tonight, but private advices from Berlin said that it avoids studiously an antagonistic or acrimonious tone.

FERN CARTER.

Fern Carter, 29 years old, a night club hostess who lives at 4840 Magnolia avenue, obtained a divorce in Circuit court yesterday from Stanley, 41, a master of ceremonies, when she told Judge Robert J. Dunne that on occasions when she did not feel able to go to work he beat her and attempted to force her to work. Thru her attorney, Robert E. Cherry, she waived alimony and reserved support for their daughter, Susan, 7, who was placed in her custody.

WAR IS TO MAKE AMERICA SECURE, SAYS PROFESSOR

The four freedoms were set aside by Dean Elmer L. Kayser of George Washington university, Washington, D. C., yesterday as reasons for fighting the present war. He spoke at the Chicago Bar association before a Chicago alumni luncheon of that university. He appealed for realistic attitudes as the coming conferences with soviet Russia draw closer.

"We are fighting to make America safe," he said.

Dean Kayser, noted as a commentator and analyst of European affairs, told the alumni that the country is fighting for practical things, and arrangements with Great Britain and Russia should assure definite understandings, such as the continuance of the Iceland base for the protection of Chicago and Detroit, and the maintenance of Caribbean bases.

World bases were demanded for America's air power, described as the most powerful in the world, and safe sea lanes for the country's immense new merchant marine, the dean said, must be assured in any international agreements.

TRUCK DRIVERS STRIKE ENDED IN SOUTHEAST

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 14 (AP).—A strike by truck drivers in major southeastern cities was "definitely settled" today with a vote by the Atlanta union local to return to work immediately, John Lacy, labor department conciliator, said.

The strike, which snarled motor shipments for more than a week, was ended yesterday in other cities when locals of the Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen, and Helpers [AFL] accepted assurances of operators and army authorities that a wage decision by the war labor board would be expedited.

Lacy said the operators had agreed also to reinstate, without prejudice, workers involved in the stoppage. The strike was attributed to resentment at delay by the war labor board in acting on an 11 month old petition for higher wages.

TRIBUNE PICTURE SHOWS A RAIDER WHERE HE WENT

Modest Hero Tells of His Trips Over Rabaul.

Staff Sgt. Henry Faurot III. of 1430 Lake Shore drive, the "unheroic" army air force hero who steadfastly refuses to talk about the exploits which won him his many decorations, stayed completely in character yesterday when he was asked to describe his experiences over Rabaul, the Japanese base in New Britain which was blasted Tuesday by the largest allied air force ever assembled in the Southwest Pacific.

"We never did anything special there," he said. Pressed for details of enemy anti-aircraft and fighter strength at Rabaul, he admitted that "you can usually find a fight there."

Sees What It's Like in Picture.

He was over Rabaul three or four times during his 11 months in the Southwest Pacific, but mostly at night. He said that he never really knew what it looked like until somebody sent him a TRIBUNE with a good back page picture of the base.

He grew very enthusiastic—for him—over Robert Cromie's story of the raid published in yesterday's TRIBUNE. "It was marvelous the way it was written," he said. "I never could see that much. A reporter can look around and describe what he sees. A crewman can't." He was waist gunner on an army bomber.

First Visit in 26 Months.

Sgt. Faurot is home on his first visit in 26 months. He is staying with his father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Faurot Jr. He has 32 bombing missions to his credit and holds the distinguished flying cross and the air medal with three oak leaf clusters as well as the Purple Heart for a wound which he passes off as "just a nick."

BILL WOULD END STALEMATES IN SUPREME COURT

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14 [Special].—Stalemated decisions of the United States Supreme court, assertedly caused by New Deal appointments of members of its legal family to the high court, would be avoided under terms of a bill introduced in the house today by Rep. Chauncey W. Reed [R., Ill.], a member of the house judiciary committee.

Rep. C. W. Reed.

The bill would empower the chief justice to request retired justices to assist in hearing cases in which the court lacks a quorum. In two recent cases four justices disqualified themselves, leaving only five qualified to hear the cases. The required quorum of the court is six.

A member of the house judiciary committee said the stalemates were caused by appointment of justices who originally instituted the proceedings and consequently disqualified themselves. He added: "If the President continues to appoint members of his official family to the court the situation conceivably could reach the point where no justice could conscientiously feel himself qualified to hear some case with which the government has long been connected."

JAP BOMBERS ATTEMPT RAID ON ATTU ISLE

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14 (AP).—The navy announced today an ineffectual Japanese raid on Attu in the Aleutian Islands.

The raiders, striking at Attu for the first time since the island was wrested from the Japanese more than four months ago, were driven off without damaging the air field. American planes have flown from Attu to pound the Japs' big North Pacific base at Paramushiro.

The navy provided few details of the raid. The bombers, it said, flew high over Massacre bay; American fighter planes sped up to intercept them and the raiders dropped their bombs without causing damage. There were no losses of American planes nor were any Japanese bombers shot down.

ITALY MAY DECLARE WAR AGAINST JAPAN, SWISS PAPER HEARS

AT SWISS-ITALIAN FRONTIER, Oct. 14 (AP).—A Chiasso dispatch to the Berne newspaper Der Bund tonight quoted "some Italian circles" as saying a declaration of war against Japan by Premier Marshal Badoglio's government could be expected soon. One foundation for that belief is the fact that the Italian fleet could be used in Pacific waters, the dispatch said.

The Italian ambassador at Ankara, Turkey, was reported negotiating for the elimination of Italy's state of war with China and several South American nations.

YANK PT CREWS FISH BIG BAG OF JAPS FROM SEA

Capture Many After Vella Gulf Naval Battle.

A U. S. TORPEDO BOAT BASE. New Georgia, Solomon Islands, Oct. 12 [Delayed]—(AP).—Capture of the largest group of Japanese naval personnel ever taken out of the water as prisoners in this war was described today by American naval officers who said the hardest part of their job was in keeping the enemy from swarming into rescue boats faster than they could be handled.

Several scores of Japanese were captured by four PT boats. The Japanese were survivors of the Vella gulf naval battle on the night of Oct. 10 when American destroyers sank one enemy cruiser and two destroyers.

Chicagoan Aids Rescue.

One boat commander, Lt. [j. g.] R. D. Shearer of 1327 Sherwin avenue, Chicago, a 1940 graduate of Wabash college, said the Japanese had been in the water about 16 hours.

"Not one had a life jacket and they were anxious to get out of the water," he said. "We had a net overside and let them aboard one at a time, but had a hard time keeping them from swarming up the net.

"Some of our boys had to hold their heads down and make them wait their turn."

"If you think the Japanese never surrender you should have seen these," said Lt. [j. g.] R. E. Keresey, Montclair, N. J., a PT section leader who directed the rescue.

Japs Clinging to Wreckage.

"It was about 4:30 p. m. the day after the battle and we were cruising Vella gulf when we saw the men in the water," he said. "When we got near we saw they were Japs.

"They all were clinging to boat oars or other floating debris. When we first offered to pick up some a few started swimming away, but after this first display they came back to our boats.

"One of them, apparently an officer, had given a signal and they were willing to be rescued. The ease we had in picking them up was surprising.

"We let them come aboard singly. The first thing I did was frisk them. The first one I went up to frisk was a fierce looking fellow. As I came up he threw up his hands and I thought he was a judo wrestler. We had a wrestling match all over the forecastle.

Starts to Pray.

"He reached into his pocket and I thought he was bringing out a hand grenade or pistol and grabbed him. What he was reaching for was his wallet, stuffed with money, which he handed over to me. Then he put the palms of his hands together and started praying.

"I soon convinced him he was not to be shot and we stripped him naked and herded him and those who came up onto the forecastle.

"We had so many customers it would have taken three hours to tie them all up and so we just stripped them and kept tommy guns trained on them. We figured that nobody feels so brave when he's naked and that way they wouldn't be likely to try to rush and overpower us. None tried it."

Helping in holding tommy guns on the Japanese were Gunners Mate Lyle Hanson, Ludington, Mich., and Ensign M. Y. Shender of Chicago.

MOSCOW CONCERT SEASON OPENS.

MOSCOW, Oct. 14 [AP].—Moscow's winter concert season will open tomorrow with the state symphonic orchestra's presentation of Dmitri Shostakovich's Fifth Symphony at the Moscow conservatory. A feature of the season will be the premiere early next month of Shostakovich's Eighth Symphony, the second major work completed by the Russian composer during the war.

A battle with 100 German fighting planes over Foggia, Italy, was described yesterday by Staff Sgt. Lawrence Stedman, 25 year old veteran of 300 combat hours as waist gunner in a Flying Fortress. Sgt. Stedman is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Downs, 8228 Eberhart avenue.

"The battle lasted for one hour and 10 minutes," he said. "Four of us each got one enemy plane. I got mine in the sight when he was about 1,000 yards from our Fortress. He kept coming on until he was only 500 yards away, then suddenly his plane blew up."

Sgt. Stedman holds the air medal and 10 oak leaf clusters and has been recommended for the distinguished flying cross.

Lt. Richard V. Lohrens has been awarded the silver star for courage, devotion to duty and leadership in North Africa, it was learned by his mother, Mrs. William G. Elliott, 6025 South Francisco avenue. The citation reported that Lt. Lohrens led a mortar squad thru the front lines under heavy enemy machine gun fire and destroyed a German artillery piece.

ALLIES EXPAND GAPS IN BROKEN VOLTURNO LINE

Pour More Troops and Tanks Across River.

BY JOHN THOMPSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ALLIED HDQ., ALGIERS, Oct. 14.—Veteran American troops, supported by their British allies, were fighting tonight toward the German held mountains north of Capua in an effort to win control of the heights dominating the roads leading north to Rome. The battle is reported to be raging with the intensity of the fighting at Salerno.

American tanks followed the infantry, which crossed the Volturno river early yesterday. Allied air superiority aided American and British artillery in quelling at least one enemy tank counter-attack before it got started.

The announcement that Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's men of the 5th army had secured several bridgeheads, both east and west of Capua, would indicate an advance of at least one or two miles, because normally that much territory is needed to make bridgeheads firm.

More Barriers Ahead.

Now the doughboys must plug ahead thru underbrush, across irrigation ditches, and thru woods, rolling farmlands, and small hamlets to knock out each enemy strong point. This is the sort of terrain facing them.

This would bring them first to the Agnena canal, which roughly parallels the Volturno one to three miles to the north and into which feeds a network of small streams, all of which are full as a result of last week-end's rains.

Three miles north of Capua lies one of the first small objectives, the village of Villa Volturno, just below the towering Maggiore mountains, which run northwest.

Yesterday the Germans were gathering a heavy tank and infantry force in the gullies north of Capua for another counter-attack when our P-51 Mustangs spotted them. Soon A-36 Invaders were dive bombing them so thoroly that the attack never materialized.

Nazi Thrust Repelled.

German infantry had pushed across the Volturno Tuesday night in an attempt to disorganize the allied offensive. They secured a foothold on the southern bank, but were sent plunging back into the river when our massed artillery barrage blasted them loose.

Then the Americans near Capua jumped off behind a smoke screen. Small assault boats carried some. Where the river is not so deep others forded it or swam. Still others ran across on footbridges while artillery, machine guns, rifles, and mortars covered their advance. Then tanks, trucks, and heavy guns began crossing while the Germans countered with heavy fire from their large caliber guns.

Other crossings apparently were made near Triflisco, three miles east of Capua.

Gain on Right Flank.

Meanwhile, on the right wing of Clark's 5th army, other veteran troops were moving northward to outflank the Germans' Volturno line. These troops were reported yesterday to be at Guardia four miles across the Calore river east of its junction with the Volturno near Amorosi.

Farther east the village of Gildone, five miles southeast of Campobasso, has been occupied by the British 8th army. This is near the road to Vinchiaturo. Monte Miletta, a nearly 7,000 foot high peak of the Matese mountain group, at present gives the Germans observation over all the lower peaks in the foreground.

Marauders [B-26s] pounded the town of Alife, 15 miles northeast of Capua, and Corp. Charles Sunday of Elkhart, Ind., a tail gunner in a Marauder said, "Our bombs formed a perfect square covering the town from one end to the other."

Fighters and R. A. F. Baltimores plastered road junctions at Sessa and Arunca, on the main highway northwest of Capua.

R. A. F. and Australian Kittybombers and American Warhawks [P-40s] smashed up railway lines north of Pescara on the Adriatic, destroying two locomotives and 51 coaches and damaging others.

R. A. F. Wellingtons made successful attacks on the rail lines in a defile south of Orbetello, 70 miles northwest of Rome, and jammed enemy transports.

GERMAN BATTLE CLAIMS.

"Strong British-American forces attacked on Wednesday in the Volturno sector and northwest of Benevento," the German high command bulletin said. "The attacks collapsed under concentrated defense fire or in counter-thrusts. In some places fierce struggles are still in progress." The Germans claimed their bombers scored a heavy hit on a large allied warship in the Gulf of Naples.

Several warships are standing off the Volturno river hurling shells into German positions, the German radio said.

"In carrying out their large scale attack in the Volturno sector with the support of their warships, the British employed a large landing formation for the purpose of pushing eastward in the Volturno valley and rolling up the German lines," the broadcast said.

It asserted this detachment had been driven together on the beach and was now under a withering fire, and that several bridgeheads across the river had been wiped out.

IDEA OF HONEYMOON FOR FRENCH: FLIGHT ACROSS FRONTIER

ALGIERS, Oct. 14 (AP).—A young French bridal couple just arriving in North Africa said today that the best honeymoon newlyweds in France could imagine was to flee across the frontier to freedom.

The two are Count Charles de Clare [a pseudonym], 22 years old, and his 19 year old bride, who were married June 10 at the bride's home near Limoges. They said more than 100 Frenchmen daily cross the Spanish border via underground railways.

The couple succeeded in crossing the Spanish border July 13, but were quickly arrested by Spanish guards. The count was detained in a concentration camp until Aug. 25, after which the young couple reached Algiers via Portugal. The bride, slightly ill, was kept in an American-British hospital in Madrid until her husband was released thru the intervention of Samuel Hoare, the British ambassador to Spain, whom the count described as "an acquaintance." The count said he was a distant relative of President Roosevelt thru his father's American mother, who was a Forbes of Boston.

NELSON HONORED IN MOSCOW WITH HOT DOG DINNER

MOSCOW, Oct. 14 (AP).—An impressive turnout of soviet dignitaries, headed by Anastas Mikoyan, member of the politburo and commissar of foreign trade in charge of Red army supplies, attended a buffet supper tonight in Spaso House, residence of the United States embassy, to honor Donald M. Nelson, American war production board chairman.

Former Ambassador Maxim Litvinov, Andrei Y. Vishinsky, vice commissar for foreign affairs, four Red army generals, and other officials were present. After hot dogs and caviar sandwiches they ate a supper featured by baked beans and spaghetti.

Rail Accident in Norway; Nazis Shoot Five Hostages

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 14.—Five Norwegian hostages shot by a Gestapo firing squad Wednesday in Oslo, Norway, were put to death for a railroad accident which the Germans attributed to saboteurs, but with which they admitted the victims selected by the Gestapo had no connection. They were executed because of their "notorious adherence to circles which are both morally and politically responsible for the commission of this disgusting act," a German bulletin said.

ITALIAN BASED PLANES ATTACK TIRANA, ALBANIA

ALLIED HDQ., ALGIERS, Oct. 14 (AP).—Emphasizing the value of the new allied air bases gained in Italy, Mitchell [B-25] bombers with Lightning [P-38] escort, have extended the allied aerial sway across the Adriatic to Albania where they bombed the Albania capital of Tirana for the first time, headquarters announced today.

The raid apparently caught the Germans by surprise for photographs showed heavy damage had been done to aircraft parked on the air field. Workshops, material dumps, barracks, and other buildings were flaming as the bombers raced for home.

Bomb Island Near Crete.

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 14 (AP).—Middle east raiders swung their Aegean offensive to the Island of Gavdos [Gozzo], a small island 22 miles south of Crete, where they bombed the barracks at Ambelo, the British announced today.

Green, in Elgin, Tells of War Work in Illinois

Gov. Dwight H. Green told a civilian defense rally in Elgin last night, "War has put Illinois to work as she has never been put to work before, and has placed our state indisputably in the vanguard of the nation's war work."

U. S. LEND-LEASE TO AUSSIES PUT AT 581 MILLIONS

CANBERRA, Australia, Oct. 14 (AP).—Australia received from the United States goods and services valued at approximately $581,000,000 under lend-lease from its inception until last June 30, R. V. Keane, trade and customs minister, told the senate today.

Australian expenditures under reciprocal lend-lease last year totaled $210,000,000 and during the current year will be about $325,000,000, he said.

Lend-lease to Australia was divided as follows: War materials, 52.4 per cent; petroleum products, 20.8; transportation equipment, 9.2; machinery and tools, 7.7; metals, 7.4; textiles, 4.7 and miscellaneous items, 7.8.

Eisenhower, 53, Devotes Birthday to 'War as Usual'

ALLIED HDQ., ALGIERS, Oct. 14 (AP).—It was war as usual today for Gen. Eisenhower on his 53d birthday. Members of his personal staff gave the allied commander in chief a surprise supper at an advanced command post.

YANK VOLTURNO CROSSING TOLD BY EYEWITNESS

Plunge in River at 2 A.M. —Drive Back Nazis.

machine gun, machine pistol and mortar posts and from farther north German shells now came pounding in. Our artillery and mortars were called on again and the duel was on.

Nazi Gunners' Mistake.

One German machine gun was firing tracers. It was a mistake that crew never lived to regret. A few minutes after the first tracers cut across the water one of our howitzers blew that machine gun and its men out of existence.

At one fording the Germans fired Very lights in a red, green, red series. That was the signal for heavy mortar support and those missiles arched into our ranks. Yanks died under that blasting and others slipped and drowned in the stream. But their comrades came on, smashing at that mortar nest.

Other Americans spotted a machine gun nest only a little beyond the river's north edge. A few men crept toward it and hurled hand grenades. That machine gun was thru, its members killed or taken prisoner.

Many Yanks Get Across.

The Germans kept fighting and the doughboys kept coming across. At 3:30 a. m. we had a considerable number north of the river in this spearheading position.

All along the long Volturno front like scenes were being enacted. At a few places German patrols managed to cross to the south bank of the river and engaged in a fierce small arms battle. Groups of these counter-attackers were quickly killed or captured. Others were able to stay on the south side of the Volturno part of the morning.

Leaving my hill perch for a few minutes, I encountered American litter bearers. They were carrying an officer who had 12 machine gun bullets in one leg. Other shots had grazed his cheek and knocked out a few teeth.

Wounded; Wants a Cigaret.

His attendants were trying vainly to give him a morphine injection.

"Hell, I just want a cigaret," he said with a grin.

A soldier stuck one between the wounded man's teeth.

"I'll be okay now," he said. But his face grimaced with agony as the litter bearers moved on in the increasing morning light.

When I returned to the hillside, I saw a farmhouse ablaze. Some of the enemy had been there and we had to fire on it.

The artillery and mortar contests went on all this morning. From another ridge I heard German 88s screaming overhead as they tried to interdict one of our back roads.

At this time our casualties were reported to be not heavy, but there were reported to be many German dead across the river.

Americans Capture Ridges.

Now at noon the Americans in some force have captured several small ridges and are striking for the higher ground beyond. Pontoon bridges are in operation at several points and our tank destroyeres are coming up from the south.

The Germans, fighting bitterly, have launched a counter-attack, training their 88 mm. guns and mortars from deep in the hills. Some of their machine gun and mortar crews are also fighting from nearer the river. But we come on with more foot soldiers and more small arms and incessantly our artillery hammers the enemy positions.

Allied B-25 Mitchell medium bombers have just come over to unleash their explosives at the farther German strong points. The enemy thus far has shown little in the air.

WAR PUTS MEN IN THE MIDDLE OF A TIGHT SPOT

Drawstrings are replacing scarce elastic bands in men's shorts, the style committee of the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers reported yesterday. Models that tie at the sides are being considered by some manufacturers for the close fitting types of shorts, according to Allen Sinsheimer, executive secretary of the association, who said there is little elastic available. Another man's fashion note, via the committee, is that soldiers are acquiring a distaste for green in their clothes because their work dungarees are green.

Wisconsin Air Cadet Killed in Texas Crash

Eagle Pass, Tex., Oct. 14 (AP).—Aviation Cadet Bernard G. Baebler, 21 years old, of Belleville, Wis., was killed yesterday in the crash of his trainer plane and another ship. Lt. Howard Wehmhoefer, 26, of Beecher, Ill., flying the other plane, parachuted to safety and suffered minor injuries. Both were stationed at Eagle Pass army air field.

U. S. RESEARCH UNIT TO MOBILIZE IDEAS IS URGED BY WALLACE

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14 (AP).—Vice President Henry A. Wallace today urged establishment of a great government scientific research agency to maintain "a constant flow of new ideas and industries" into the post-war economy and promote full employment and full use of productive resources.

Unless the government engages in research, he told a senate military subcommittee, free enterprise in an age of helicopters, television, light metals, plastics, and new foods may be "shackled and restrained" by concentration in a few corporations of control over new inventions.

"The application of modern science," he said, "should not be the exclusive domain of great corporations and cartels who can, if they desire, restrict and suppress new inventions and scientific information to suit their own interests instead of the public interest. Small business cannot support the large and costly laboratories which are necessary for modern industrial research. To fill this need government must make available these facilities."

GROCERY MANAGER ROBBED.

Benjamin Keith, a Negro, manager of the Clover Farm grocery at 4125 Indiana avenue, surrendered $60 to two armed Negro robbers yesterday, he told police.

RETURN SEALED VERDICT IN NAZI GOLD PLOT TRIAL

A sealed verdict was returned last night by a jury of six men and six women which heard the trial of three men accused of violating the trading with the enemy act by plotting to acquire and sell gold to Nazi agents. When he charged the jury shortly after noon yesterday Federal Judge John P. Barnes directed that a verdict, if reached, was to be sealed and opened in court today.

Those on trial are Elbridge Gerry Bates, 42 years old, of Glen Ellyn, an electrical supplies salesman; Frank S. Smith, 51, owner of the Perfection Furniture company, 2267 Clybourn avenue, and a rare coin dealer, and Kurt Erich Schimkus, 37, of 14139 South Western avenue, a research chemist.

The government, thru Harry A. Schaetzel, a secret service agent who posed as a mining engineer with unlimited gold bullion for sale, charged that the three men conspired to sell his bullion to Nazi agents.

Bates contended the negotiations were a hoax.

Roosevelt Renominates His Cousin as Controler

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14 (AP).—Preston Delano of Massachusetts was nominated by President Roosevelt today for another term as controler of the currency. Delano is a distant cousin of the President.

ROMMEL NAMED HITLER'S CHIEF IN JUGO-SLAVIA

Commands in Italy, Too; Kesselring Ousted.

LONDON, Oct. 14 (AP).—Adolf Hitler, whose armies have been pounded increasingly hard in Jugo-Slavia, has placed his ace soldier, Field Marshal Erwin Rommel, in general command of operations against the Jugo-Slav patriots, the Berlin radio said tonight.

The announcement followed receipt of a Swiss report thru Stockholm that Rommel had been placed in full charge of all Nazi occupied Italy, with Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring recalled from his command of southern Italy after a quarrel with Rommel.

Announcement of assumption of the Jugo-Slav command by Rommel was made in a German home service broadcast recorded by the ministry of information.

Above Balkan Field Chief.

There was no indication that Rommel was being withdrawn from his Italian command to take over the Balkans personally, but rather it appeared he would act in a supervisory capacity with Field Marshal Baron Maximilian von Weichs, recently named Balkan commander in chief.

The Jugo-Slav government in Cairo disclosed today that a new general headquarters under Von Weichs had been established for the Balkans in Belgrade.

German commentators asserted the allies were ready to strike a new blow in the Mediterranean area, to be timed with a general offensive in Italy.

A German radio war reporter said the Jugo-Slav patriots were "armed to the teeth," and that they had important aircraft units. For two weeks operations have been carried out against the Partisans and "the severity of the fighting can be gauged from the number of dead," he said.

Battle on Near Susak.

"Battles are still going on in northeastern Italy, Istria and farther to the east." He said Fiume was twice attacked by guerrilla forces coming from Bakar, who "even penetrated Susak."

Susak lies alongside Fiume on the coast at the head of the Istrian peninsula. The Jugo-Slavs in their daily war bulletin said the Germans had stormed patriot positions near Susak "and by great superiority of numbers succeeded in advancing" on the Croatian coastal plain. The Jugo-Slav inability to hold the Germans around Susak was blamed on lack of anti-tank weapons.

The 6th eastern Bosnia brigade under Gen. Milos Dekic was credited with beating off German counter-attacks on Tuzla in engagements in which 600 Germans were killed and 250 captured.

Gen. Peter Dapcevic followed up the capture of Berane with the seizure of Matesevo, a nearby highway junction, and other Partisan forces reported the capture of a 40 car German military train near Sibenik.

In the fighting around Knin, the guerrillas freed 80 Italian soldiers, saving them from being taken to Germany as laborers.

The Jugo-Slavs said new Italian divisions commanded by Italian officers, but directed by "Drug [comrade] Tito's" people's liberation army headquarters, were being forged.

EARLY FREEDOM FOR PHILIPPINES SOUGHT BY F.D.R.

Acts to Meet Japs' Phony Grant of Liberty.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—In an effort to counteract the effect of Japan's grant of phony independence to the Philippine Islands today, President Roosevelt is pressing congress for immediate legislation authorizing him to declare them independent earlier than July 4, 1946, the date fixed in the Tydings-McDuffie act, and to reward them for remaining loyal to the United States.

It is believed to be Japan's purpose to cause the "independent" puppet government set up in Manila today to declare war on the United States or at least to take up arms against the American forces once they reënter the islands. The Roosevelt program is to declare the Philippines independent as soon as the Jap army is driven from their shores.

Protection Planned.

It is also the President's purpose to project, thru the new independence legislation, plans for the future protection of the Philippines and the United States from aggression and "for the future maintenance of peace in the Pacific," as Mr. Roosevent stated it in his message to congress last week.

The plans embrace the cession by the Philippine government of bases in the islands for the use of American land, sea, and air forces, the acquisition by the United States of the Jap mandated Marshall, Marianas and Caroline archipelagoes for the same purpose and an Anglo-American-Chinese-Dutch agreement for collective security in the Pacific region.

Reparations to Be Sought.

The Roosevelt program calls further for "the physical and economic rehabilitation of the Philippines" by the United States, which would endeavor to reimburse itself from reparations exacted from Japan for the ravages of war in the islands. This reparations bill, it is estimated, would exceed 1 billion dollars.

In addition, the legislation is to provide for preferential trade agreements between the United States and the Philippines which would make the new nation "economically secure wherever possible."

This is a program intended to convince the Filipinos that if they want real independence and defense, reparations for property damage and the prosperity derived from American trade they will give the Japs a cold shoulder and put their trust in the United States.

Jap Campaign Revealed.

The move was inspired by President Manuel Quezon of the Philippine commonwealth in exile because, as his spokesman put it today, the whole campaign of the Japanese since their occupation of the islands has been to convince the Filipinos that they have been the victims of American imperialism, that the promise of independence was never meant to be kept and that this war is being waged by Japan to drive the British and Americans from the far east and give all the orientals their independence.

President Quezon's spokesman said purposes of the proposed legislation are: first, to reassure the Filipinos that their independence will be established; second, that it will be protected; third, that the economic status of the Philippines before the war will be reëstablished; fourth, that all those in the Philippines who have suffered losses caused by the war will be indemnified; fifth, that all the power of America will be used to drive the Japanese out of the Philippines.

Want to Make Pledges Good.

In other words, the spokesman said, the purpose is to make good the pledges America has repeatedly made since the heroic fight of the Filipinos at Bataan and Corregidor, and to keep alive the faith of the Filipinos who are somewhat disheartened because of the long Japanese occupation.

The term of President Quezon expires this Nov. 15 and under the Philippine constitution he is ineligible to succeed himself. Whether he shall be succeeded by Vice President Sergio Osmena or continued in office on the ground that the constitution has become inoperative by Japanese occupation is a question that probably will be put up to President Roosevelt to decide.

FINLAND TO HIKE DEBT PAYMENTS TO COVER LAPSE

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14 (AP).—Finland agreed today to increase its war debt payments to this country by more than $42,000 a year for 20 years in order to overtake a two year lapse cause by the Russo-Finnish war.

An agreement announced jointly by Hjalmar Procope, the Finnish minister, and Daniel W. Bell, undersecretary of the treasury, said the payments would be made semi-annually, June 15 and Dec. 15.

Those are the dates for Finland's regular debt payments, resumed last June with a check for $168,945.56. First payment under today's agreement, however, will not fall due until June, 1945.

The postponement, authorized by congress in June, 1941, involved an aggregate sum of $845,287.24.

Mrs. George Zohrlant, whose husband is in England; Mrs. Lewis Gray, whose son is in Sicily; Thomas Wilson, on whose farm the meal was served; Brig. Gen. J. E. Barzynski, commander, Chicago quartermaster depot, and Lt. Edwin L. Barrett, serving from the army M-1937 field range (left to right), as "10-in-1" ration was served.

Twenty wives and mothers of service men overseas learned yesterday how troops are fed at the front. The women were guests at a camp meal cooked on a gasoline field stove and served in a meadow on Thomas E. Wilson's farm north of Lake Forest. The occasion was a public demonstration of the "10-in-1" ration, a new development in army food preparation, said Brig. Gen. J. E. Barzynski, commanding general of the Chicago depot of the United States quartermaster corps.

The "10-in-1" ration, so named because each 45 pound waterproofed carton contains enough food to serve 10 men three meals, has entrees for five supper menus. These are canned pork sausage, stew, roast beef, corned beef, or the newly developed dehydrated corned beef, which was served yesterday.

The lunch boxes contain army ration K, which includes biscuits, canned cheese, meat, candy, gum, fruit juice powder, and cigarets.

Breakfast may be canned ham and eggs, sliced bacon, or cereal with pre-mixed cream and sugar.

Frick Assumes Post as 'Protector' of Bohemia

LONDON, Oct. 14 (AP).—Dr. Wilhelm Frick, who was succeeded by Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler as German minister of interior, arrived in Prague today to take over his new post as "protector" of the Bohemia-Moravia area in old Czecho-Slovakia, the Berlin radio announced.

2 U. S. WARSHIPS SENT DOWN IN MEDITERRANEAN

Navy Announces Loss of Buck and Bristol.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14 (AP).—The two year old destroyer Bristol and the slightly older destroyer Buck were lost this week in the Mediterranean, the navy announced today.

The loss of the destroyers as the result of underwater explosions, brought to 122 the number of naval vessels announced as lost since the war began. They could have been sunk by mines or torpedoes.

Skipper Is Missing.

The Buck, commanded by Lt. Comdr. Millard J. Klein of Long Beach, Cal., went down off Salerno on Oct. 9. She was a 1,500 ton vessel put into service in May, 1940. Her skipper is listed as missing in action.

Comdr. John A. Glick, Richmond, N. H., commanded the 1,700 ton Bristol which was sunk yesterday. Just where the Bristol went down was not disclosed, nor has the navy received word as to the casualty status of her commander. The Bristol entered service in October, 1941.

Carry 250 Men.

No complete reports of the number of men missing, killed, or wounded in the two sinkings have been received, but the navy said next of kin of all casualties "will be notified by telegram immediately upon receipt of casualty reports." Each destroyer carried approximately 250 men.

Navy officials said the casualties aboard the Bristol were "moderate" and the Buck casualties "somewhat heavier."

Report Cruiser Damaged.

MADRID, Spain, Oct. 14 (AP).—A dispatch from La Linea said today the United States cruiser Philadelphia entered drydock at Gibraltar for repair of damage received in Italian coastal fighting.

LOOT TAVERN OF $500 LIQUOR.

Emil Portschy reported to police yesterday that burglars pried open a window in his tavern at 4009 Armitage avenue and took 14 cases of liquor valued at $500.

GEN. FARRELL VICE PRESIDENT OF ARGENTINA

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Oct. 14 (AP).—Gen. Edelmiro Farrell today was sworn in as vice president of Argentina, succeeding Saba Sueyro, who died July 17. Gen. Farrell, 56 years old, retains his post as war minister.

Gen. Farrell pledged himself to discharge honorably "the mandate which has been conferred on me." He said he would devote all his energies to the "reëstablishment of complete constitutional rule, to the support of republican institutions, and to the restoration of administrative honorability."

The oath taking ceremony was held inside government house in the presence of governmental officials rather than upon an outside balcony within view of the people as has been customary.

NEW GERMAN GLIDER SHOWN.

LONDON, Oct. 14 [AP].—German military magazines are displaying for the first time, the Berlin radio said today, pictures of a giant new glider known as the BO-240 and capable of carrying troops in numbers "unimaginable to the layman."

BLAME PLACED ON MILITARY FOR NEWSPRINT CUT

WMC Denies It Hinders Greater Production.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—A house subcommittee investigating curtailment of newsprint use was told today that shortages of newsprint and other paper will "get progressively worse" unless military chiefs see fit to channel more man power into wood cutting and pulp production.

The prediction was made by Collis Stocking, associate director of the war man power commission's planning bureau. Stocking sought to disclaim responsibility on the part of the WMC for what he conceded is a "serious" shortage of workers in logging and pulp operations.

The WMC, he asserted, has done its part by placing workers in logging and pulp production on its essential list, but, he added, large scale recruitment of more workers for these jobs depends on decisions of the army and navy and other procurement agencies.

Problem of Allocation.

"With our labor reserves exhausted," Stocking said, "the man power problem of logging, lumbering, and of the wood pulp industry becomes more and more one of allocation. The importance of wood pulp has to be weighed in relation to other requirements by those responsible for military strategy."

Committee members expressed surprise that the WMC, which they thought was entirely responsible for allocating man power, is subordinate to military chiefs. They also criticized the WMC for failing to list the manufacture of newsprint as an essential activity, while its use by newspapers has been cut 15 per cent from 1941 levels and is expected to be further reduced.

Rep. Lyle Boren [D., Okla.], committee chairman, demanded to know why the WMC has failed to list newsprint production as essential, in the face of a request two months ago from the committee for such action.

Denies Shortage in Mills.

Stocking replied that, in the opinion of the WMC, there is no man power shortage in newsprint mills, and that the chief shortage is in the supply of wood cutters and pulp workers.

"Our committee has found a definite shortage of workers in newsprint mills," Boren retorted. "If you didn't find it, you didn't look for it."

Stocking said that in an effort to get more workers into the woods, the WMC has asked the war department to furlough 2,000 experienced woodsmen and is seeking funds from the budget bureau to import 19,000 foreign workers.

ALLMAN TO BE 67 TOMORROW; HIS PROGRAM: WORK

Police Commissioner James P. Allman, for 12 years head of the Chicago police department, will celebrate his 67th birthday tomorrow by opening his office at the usual hour of 8:15 a. m., disposing of routine business and then attending ceremonies attendant to the opening of the State street subway where he will actively direct a police detail.

Born in Ireland, Allman was brought to this country when he was 5 years old. He was educated in the Chicago public schools and in 1910 joined the police department. His tenure as chief has been the longest in the city's history.

Since his appointment as commissioner by Mayor Cermak, Allman has installed a crime prevention bureau and a scientific crime detection laboratory, placed radios in all squad cars and two way radios in some, and completed other reorganization work. A bachelor, he lives at 6237 University avenue.

BASE SEIZED BY REDS NEAR SITE OF GIGANTIC DAM ACROSS DNIEPER

Zaporozhe, which the Russians captured yesterday, is only five miles from the site of Russia's biggest industrial achievement in hydroelectrics—the $110,000,000 Dnieper dam destroyed by the soviet forces in August, 1941, during their historic "scorched earth" retreat before the invading German army.

The dam, one of the largest in the world, was completed in 1932 after five years of labor by engineers under the direction of an American, the late Hugh L. Cooper of New York, who had built the Wilson Muscle Shoals dam and several others in the United States. Despite the 60 months required to build it, Russian engineers wrecked the mighty structure in 60 minutes to keep it from falling into German hands.

The great turbines of the 140 foot high dam supplied a surrounding area of 70,000 square miles and 16,000,000 persons with an annual output of 2,500,000 kilowatt hours of electric current.

GERMAN WRITES GRIM STORY OF RED HAMMERING

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 14 (AP).—A picture of the terrific pressure the Red army is exerting on the retreating Germans was given today in the first dispatch from the Nazi front line to reach here since the German withdrawal "according to plan" started. A war reporter wrote:

"Silently rain-soaked grenadiers march thru the night. Not one speaks a word. They are too tired for that. They are dragging their machine guns and mortars and carrying their heavy munition boxes and equipment. Thus it has been for many days—by day battles with the enemy, by night noiseless retreat.

"Now the battalion has reached the new position. The exhausted grenadiers sink to the earth. Sleep not to be thought of. Every minute is precious. The attackers, pressing behind us, are close at our heels and won't allow us any rest. With the first light of morning, the enemy flood pours down again from the heights with tenfold superiority.

"How long will it last? Will the soviets continually attack?"

CATHOLIC PAPER SAYS AP FINDING PERILS FREEDOM

Calls It Blow at Religion and Unions.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

In an analysis of judicial arguments in the case of the attorney general of the United States against the Associated Press, the New World, official journal of the Catholic archdiocese of Chicago, in its leading editorial, to appear today, argues that not only the freedom of the press is now in jeopardy, but also freedom of religion and other voluntary associations.

The arguments of the two of three judges of the federal court of the southern district of New York, who agreed with the attorney general that the AP is a monopoly are "cloudy and therefore dangerous," the editorial says. The journal identified the AP with labor unions and church organizations as "free associations enjoying by-laws and the exercise of freedom in choosing their particular modes of membership."

Points to Church Rights.

"For instance," the editorial continued, "the Roman Catholic church can deny membership to any one who will not subscribe to her fundamental doctrines. An atheist can be refused communion at the altar rail.

"In a different sphere, newspaper copy is as sacred as a theological thesis from the pulpit. So far, no one has dared to challenge the church's right to issue copy, a sermonette, or the communication of religious news thru proper media over state lines, so long as it does not involve sedition nor jeopardize the public good.

The editorial then asks if such spiritual "copy" can be controled by court order, and if it is possible to force its transfer from a free association, which actually owns it, to the public at large. This, the editorial implies, is what the two judges decided in the case of the AP, with the argument that all this must be a "collective effort" toward the "illumination" of the public.

"Completely on the Ropes."

After saying the word "illumination" as used by the judges "has us completely on the ropes," and explaining the seeming judicial meaning of the word to be that the "free collective effort" was urged to "scatter 'illumination' sunburst fashion," the editorial said:

"If the Associated Press or any other free association can be compelled to change its by-laws by government order, newspapers, churches, and other organizations enjoying freedom of association might some day be controled by laws of commerce. This would mix up one of our great fundamental freedoms in the same crate as tomatoes or pecans being trucked over state lines from the southwest."

After recalling George Washington's plea that the rights of free men should be "impregnantly fortified," the editor said the "illumination" sought by the judges "can bring down a black night on a land of free man."

Did I know that Bond prices aren't lots higher only because Bond's make the clothes they sell? Did I know how this saves a heap of in-between costs? Did I know these dividends go to the fellows who wear Bond clothes? Mary gives it to me, fast.

So instead of seeing the light, I stick out my neck. "So far so good", says I looking wise. "But I'm after a long time investment—a suit that'll stand up and look good for a long time".

AFL DENOUNCES BUROCRACY AS MENACE TO U.S.

Assails Government by Agency Directives.

BY GEORGE HARTMANN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., Oct. 14.—The growing menace of "government by directives" was denounced today in a resolutions committee report adopted at the American Federation of Labor convention. The report was a rebuke to burocracy blaming bungling and ineptness of public representatives for preventing American war production from being even greater than it is.

The convention went on record as advocating that a purpose of the powerful labor organization should be to devote its energies to eliminating "this unwarranted discretionary authority" and protecting the country's wage earners from its evil influence.

Speakers condemned government "super-duper" agencies and the arbitrary power vested in the nation's leaders. They said it was difficult to determine sometimes "who's team some of the leaders are playing on."

Green Reëlected.

The business of the final session of the convention was concluded with the reëlection of William Green as president for his 20th term. The delegates also reëlected George Meany secretary-treasury and renamed 13 vice presidents.

The report recording the convention as opposed to government by directives was entitled "conscription and burocracy." It named no agencies or departments, but said, in part:

"We have reached the conclusion from a careful study of our war time production results that the already fabulous record for production would have been materially greater had it not been for the bungling and ineptness on the part of some public representatives charged with responsibility who, because of their lack of practical experiences in the relationships of men in industry—management and labor—harbored the thought that they knew better than both what was required and sought to impose regulations and rules to govern both groups thru the issuing of 'directives.'

Led to Confusion.

"The use of discretionary power vested in them has largely led to justified irritation, confusion, and, as serious as these, to the constant overlapping of the jurisdiction of numerous federal agencies.

"The deplorable development of government in our country by those vested with these powers has already indicated their menace to our American institutions. Discretionary authority is the condition within the government which makes burocracy the menace to government by law and to free institutions which it has always been."

A warning of the serious man power conditions prevailing in the railroad industry was given by George M. Harrison of the Railway Clerks union in a review of the railway wage dispute involving the 15 nonoperating unions. He criticized Stabilization Direct Fred M. Vinson for setting aside an increase of 8 cents an hour which the unions accepted at the persuasion of President Roosevelt, instead of the 20 cents asked.

Sets Oct. 25 for Hearing in $35,000 Larceny Case

Chief Justice Benjamin P. Epstein in Criminal court yesterday set Oct. 25 for a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus in behalf of Joseph T. Neilson, 37 years old, a New York attorney. Neilson is accused of larceny of $35,000 from the Texas Oil Company of New York, by whom he was employed. Neilson was arrested here in his rooms at 2207 East 70th place. He is being held in bond of $5,000.

THE QUESTION.

Did you ever make an apology that didn't help much?

WHERE ASKED.

North Western railroad station.

THE ANSWERS.

Doris Le Beau, accountant, 1540 East 65th place—First I wrote a very sweet letter to my best boy friend and then I wrote quite a nice one to a sailor friend. Then I mailed them in the wrong envelopes. The sailor didn't mind at all, but it took more than one apology to fix things up with my other friend.

Mrs. J. M. Kartanas, war worker, 2016 Cleveland avenue—My husband had the habit of giving me most of the pay check. One day he came home with less than half. I spoiled the pleasure of his getting me a gift because I demanded to know what he had bought. Apology didn't help much.

Mrs. C. J. Malachek, stenographer, 5450 North Monitor avenue—It had been two weeks since I had heard from my husband overseas. I wrote him about his thoughtlessness. He had been in hospital for two weeks and hadn't wanted to tell me. My next letter was full of apologies.

Lorraine Cummings, clerk, 5963 Walton street—My aunt had asked me not to use the ink near her new couch. I told her I'd be careful and then I went right ahead and spilled the bottle. An apology seemed quite inadequate, especially after she had had the foresight to warn me in advance.

La Verne Bushnell, stenographer, 1734 North Luna avenue—It was pretty risky for me to make a comment about a hat on our shelf at the office. I said there were very few places where I'd wear a hat like that. The owner was right beside me. I couldn't make a suitable apology.

Mrs. G. W. Stark, radio rewrite girl, 18154 Gottschalk street, Homewood—When I was going to college, a friend and I had tickets to a play and plans for a party to follow. Out of town, I realized I had not obtained written permission to leave. He had to take me home early. My apology didn't help much.

11 PLANES HUNT WOMAN ADRIFT IN BOAT ON LAKE

Coast guard cutters from Chicago and Michigan City, Ind., and 11 planes of the civil air patrol searched the south end of Lake Michigan yesterday for a fisherwoman of Ogden Dunes, Ind., who had been adrift on the lake in a 16 foot rowboat since 11:30 Wednesday morning. At 6 p. m., when the search ended for the day, no trace of the boat had been found.

The woman is Mrs. Elizabeth Allen, 41 years old, who started out in her rowboat from the mouth of Burns ditch, about 18 miles west of Michigan City, to tend her fishing nets. A neighbor, Mrs. Elizabeth Jans, reported she saw Mrs. Allen lose an oar.

PRESS FREEDOM ARGUMENT SET TODAY BY WLB

Guild Security Clauses Are Questioned.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14 (AP).—The question of whether freedom of the press would be impaired by granting "union security" clauses to the American Newspaper guild will be argued before the war labor board at a hearing tomorrow, called at the request of a group of publishers.

In a letter to the publishers and guild officials, the WLB said it does not desire to hear discussions on its general policy regarding union security or on specific cases now pending before the WLB newspaper panel and requested the parties "to address their remarks to the question of the relationship, if any, between the board's policy on union security and the freedom of the press."

Enforces Guild Membership.

The WLB referred to a standard maintenance of membership clause which it has ordered in several cases. This clause provides that union members must remain members for the duration of a contract unless they decide to withdraw during a 15 day "escape period."

Each of the publishers to whom a hearing notice was sent has cases pending involving questions of union security in guild contracts.

Tomorrow's hearing was asked by attorneys for Time, Inc., the New York Times, New York World Telegram, Cleveland Press, Cincinnati Post, Minneapolis Star Journal, Minneapolis Morning Tribune, Minneapolis Sunday Tribune and Star Journal, and Minneapolis Times.

Publishers Deeply Concerned.

In a letter to Chairman George H. Meade of the WLB industry section, made public today, attorneys for the publishers said:

"Many of the newspapers and news publishers of the country are deeply concerned over the demand of the American Newspaper guild [CIO] that the national war labor board order publishers to include a union shop or compulsory maintenance of union membership clause or other union security clause involving compulsory union membership in contracts with the guild.

"They feel that the question is of the utmost importance to news publishers and the public, and its implications are quite different from those affecting employes in industry generally."

The letter said there is a widespread feeling among publishers that "freedom of the press itself" ultimately may be lost if they are deprived of the right to retain in their employ reporters and editors who, because of differences in viewpoints, find themselves unable to continue as guild members."

The letter said union security clauses would vest in the guild means for control of the press. Morris Ernest, guild attorney, said the publishers' position was that freedom of the press precluded "any" government control as to "working conditions of employes."

Polio Drops to New Low; Only Two Cases in Day

The daily poliomyelitis case count for Chicago and Cook county yesterday reached a new low since the disease broke out here last summer. Dr. Herman N. The total city count for the year was 899 cases and 81 deaths.

ALABAMA MINE STRIKES SPREAD; 24 SHAFTS IDLE

Workers Hold Contract Is with Government.

Coal Supply Short

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14 [Special].—Secretary Harold L. Ickes, solid fuels administrator, said today he could see "no change for the better" in the coal supply situation. "We still are 30,000,000 tons below where we hoped to be at this time and getting in deeper every week," Ickes said. "Illinois mines are showing an inclination to fall off!" Asked whether the change was attributable to failure of the war labor board to approve the proposed contract between the operators and miners, Ickes said: "One of the important operators told me that that is so. He said coal cars come up to the pit with legends chalked on them 'when will we get a contract?'" At the war labor board it was said action would be taken on the pending contract next week.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 14 (AP).—Coal production for this industrial area dwindled almost to the vanishing point today as one after another of its major coal mines closed in a spreading work stoppage which followed return of the mines to their owners by the government.

A survey tonight revealed at least 24 mines, employing approximately 12,000, or half of the men employed in all Alabama mines, were idle and this number included all but one of the large shafts supplying fuel for the steel and iron industry.

Blast Furnaces to Close.

Republic Steel corporation announced it would take two Birmingham blast furnaces out of production tomorrow as a result of the fuel shortage.

E. I. Evans, southern manager, said "we can't make iron without coke." All of Republic's mines, which produced coal for its coke ovens at Gadsden, Ala., and Birmingham, are idle.

Miners Deny Contract.

John J. Hanratty, international representative of the United Mine Workers of America, said "the miners have no objection to return of the mines to their owners, but they say their agreement to work was with the government, and they have no contract with the owners."

Fuel reserves were depleted by the long series of work stoppages which followed expiration of the UMW contract last March 31 and capacity operation of furnaces has prevented the building of substantial stock piles.

THOUSANDS WALK OUT AT SHIPYARD AFTER 5 EMPLOYES ARE FIRED

Kearny, N. J., Oct. 14 (AP).—A walkout of almost the entire second shift of 6,000 employés virtually shut down United States Steel's Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company yard here tonight, Walter C. Hemingway, vice president and general manager, announced.

The work stoppage of CIO employés spread as the workers left the yard in small groups. It was disowned by union officials as unauthorized.

Both Hemingway and Gavin MacPherson, administrator of local 16, Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers, said the walkout resulted from the discharge of five shop stewards accused by the company of fomenting a work stoppage earlier this week. The union's contract with the company has been before the national war labor board for approval since July. The company official said the men were discharged for interfering with workmen reporting for work Monday.

Bus Crashes Into Truck Loaded with Dynamite

Punta Gorda, Fla., Oct. 14 (AP).—Nine passengers were injured early today when a National Trailways bus crashed into a parked truck loaded with dynamite on the Tamiami trail six miles north of here, Sheriff Fred Quednay reported. The dynamite did not explode.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

A MYSTERY COP GETS SPOTLIGHT IN GAMING QUIZ

Grand Jury Keen About Chicago Lawn's Nevell.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Unusual concern was shown last night by the grand jury over the duties and assignments of Sgt. Michael Nevell of the Chicago Lawn police district. It was in this district that John Williams, who is under arrest on a charge of plotting the murder of Martin [Sonny Boy] Quirk, a Guzik gambling syndicate agent, operated a gambling house at 3227 West 63d street, according to State's Atty. Courtney.

Considerable mystery surrounded the nature of Nevell's police duties as well as his connection with the inquiry. Prosecutors admitted only that the matter of Nevell's duties and his whereabouts on certain occasions were important and gave no explanation. At the station reporters were told Nevell was on the pay roll as a patrol sergeant but that for about four months of this year he had been on the assignment sheet as a desk sergeant.

Questioned by Courtney.

Sgt. Nevell was in full uniform and carrying a police club when he was called into the grand jury room. After a considerable time he was escorted to the office of State's Atty. Courtney who questioned Nevell privately for a long time.

"What is Nevell's position?" First Assistant State's Atty. Wilbert Crowley was asked.

"That's what the jurors are trying to find out" Crowley said. "There seems to be a mystery about him."

Later Nevell was sent to the grand jury's anteroom and a messenger was dispatched for the records of assignments and activities of all policemen at the Chicago Lawn station. Then Capt. Frank Demski, who formerly was assigned to that district and who, according to the prosecutors, did not permit any gambling there, was called to Courtney's office.

Said to Be Flynn's Agent.

When the jurors quit their investigation about 11 p. m., they told Nevell to get some records and come back later. It was then explained that Nevell was regarded as County Clerk Michael J. Flynn's representative in the police station. Demski, it was said, once had him transferred because he was taking his orders from Flynn, Democratic ward committeeman, instead of from Demski. But Nevell went back to the Chicago Lawn station and Demski was transferred, and it was in pursuance of the reasons for this move that Courtney and his staff were at work until after midnight.

Before Nevell testified, the jurors reported their amazement at receiving information that supervising police captains were not supposed to have anything to do with gambling; that gambling was a matter between the district captain and his men, and between the captain and Commissioner Allman. Capt. Frank Malone of the Chicago Lawn station and Supervising Capt. Andrew Barry, his superior, were the witnesses who brought out these points.

In another room of the criminal courts building, Williams was trying a legal maneuver to obtain freedom on bail. He was trying also to force State's Attorney Courtney to bring into court his accuser, James Egan, ex-convict who said he was employed by Williams in the gambling house and was hired by Williams to help in the Quirk murder. Judge Harold G. Ward postponed action on Williams' plea until Monday.

County Inquiry Put Off.

The questioning of numerous county highway policemen about two gambling raids in Cicero, in which the Chicago Crime commission charged the gangsters were given advance information that the police were coming, was put aside temporarily.

The jurors wanted to wait until they could tell Chief Hugh McCarthy of the county highway force and Acting Sheriff Joseph Higgins that Sgt. David Berkson, suspended leader of the squad which made one of the questioned raids, said he had no doubt he would be restored to duty and given his back pay. He said he had been on the highway police force 13 years and was sponsored by the 24th ward Democratic organization.

The jurors had other matters to report to McCarthy and Higgins, according to the prosecutors. The other complaints included the fact that persons arrested as gamblers were permitted to give phony names and were not required to show draft registration cards.

Courtney added that he would ask that the inquests into the murder of Danny [Public Enemy] Stanton last May, and the murder of Quirk on the night of Sept 18 be called off by the coroner. He said his office has ample information on both murders and there is no reason for bringing it out at the inquests, which are set for today.

MAY DE SOUSA, SINGER, IN GROUP FREED BY JAPS

Chicago Missionaries to Arrive on Gripsholm.

May De Sousa, who introduced the late Ald. John [Bathhouse] Coughlin's song, "Dear Midnight of Love," in 1901 and who was widely known as a singer in Chicago, is among the Chicagoans repatriated by the Japanese in an exchange of prisoners.

Her cousin, Mrs. Dorothy De Sousa Janke, 2905 Mont Clare avenue, said yesterday that she had received notification that her relative was to be placed aboard the Swedish exchange ship, Gripsholm.

Miss De Sousa, in private life the widow of Dr. William J. O'Hara, an English physician, has lived intermittently in China for 24 years, Mrs. Janke said. Her last visit to the United States was in 1936.

Former Emilie Hahn Returning.

Another Chicagoland repatriate is Mrs. Emilie Hahn Boxer, wife of a British officer who is a prisoner of the Japanese. Mrs. Boxer's mother, Mrs. I. M. Hahn, and her sister, Mrs. Mitchell Dawson, reside at 795 Lincoln avenue, Winnetka. Returning with Mrs. Boxer is her 2 year old daughter, Carola Boxer.

Mrs. Hahn said that her daughter went to the orient eight years ago on a pleasure trip and remained there as a teacher in the University of Shanghai. Mrs. Boxer also is the author of several books, her mother said.

Miss Elizabeth Hobart, listed among the repatriates, is the sister of Dr. Marcus H. Hobart of 621 Foster street, Evanston. A Methodist missionary, she was born in China where her parents also were missionaries. Dr. Hobart said that his sister came to the United States, where she was educated, returned to China in 1915 and thereafter was active in missions in the vicinity of Peking.

In Custody Two Years.

With other missionaries she was placed in technical custody when the Japanese occupied Peking two years ago, her brother said. Later, he said, he heard that she had been placed in a concentration camp.

A second returning missionary whose home is Chicago is the Rev. Donald Haven, a Franciscan priest, who has been in the Tu Yu region of China for 10 years. He returned to Chicago for a visit in 1939 and went back to China the following year, his sister-in-law, Mrs. John Haven, 2334 Cullom avenue, said yesterday.

The missionary has three other relatives in Chicago. Two sisters, Margaret and Mary, reside at 6213 South Kostner avenue, and a brother Thomas, lives at 2212 West 37th street.

Hospital Founder Coming Back.

An American medical missionary who saw her life's work, a hospital which she built from a mud hut to a 178 bed establishment, wrested from her by the invading Japs is Miss Lydia Reich, whose mother, Emma, lives at 236 Southcote road, Riverside.

Miss Reich, who is being repatriated, went to Tsingtao, China, 16 years ago and founded the hospital. Later she established clinics thruout the vicinity, the largest being at Chingtao, her mother said.

The missionary, who represents the Lutheran church, is a graduate of the former Chicago General hospital and for seven years was superintendent of nurses at the Deaconness Hospital in Milwaukee. Her latest visit to Chicago was in 1935.

Jap Exchange Ship Due in Portuguese India Today

MORMUGAO, Portuguese India, Oct. 14 (AP).—The port officer was informed today in a wireless from the Teia Maru that the Japanese ship bringing American repatriates from the orient would arrive at Mormugao tomorrow at 1 a. m., and that the Gripsholm, bringing Japanese from America, would arrive the following day. The Teia Maru will proceed immediately to dock but the passengers are likely to remain aboard until the Gripsholm arrives, for there is no shelter for them in this port except aboard.

FINDS 18 HOUR DAY TOO SHORT FOR OPA RULES

Because John Papajannis works 18 hours a day in his Qualey Fruit market at 2359 North Clark street, he has no time to observe the multiplicity of office of price administration regulations, he explained yesterday in pleading guilty to violating some of them.

Papajannis was before Municipal Judge Jay A. Schiller, sitting as an OPA hearing commissioner, charged with selling goods above ceiling prices, selling goods without ration stamps, and failure to post price schedules.

Judge Schiller took under advisement until Oct. 21 a request by Eugene T. Devitt, OPA attorney, that a suspension order be entered against Papajannis. Meanwhile, he will examine a statement of Papajannis' earnings.

Train Burns When Crash Touches Off Gasoline

Portsmouth, N. H., Oct. 14 (AP).—Three tank cars containing thousands of gallons of gasoline, the locomotive and one coach of a Boston-bound train, and three railroad shanties were destroyed by fire today after the passenger train went thru an open switch and sidewiped a freight train. The crewmen suffered minor burns but none of the 25 passengers was hurt.

REPORTS $475 JEWELRY THEFT.

The loss of $475 worth of jewelry was reported to police yesterday by Mrs. Amelia Gerber, 3829 Fremont street, a saleswoman in a bakery at 3709 Broadway. The jewelry, two rings and a wristwatch, was in her coat hanging in the store, she said.

HOUSE DEBATES HIGHER BENEFITS TO DEPENDENTS

More Liberal Service Grants Favored.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14 (AP).—In a liberal mood, the house today began debate on service men's dependency benefits amid indications it would insist on a minimum of a dollar a day for the upkeep of minor children of enlisted fighting men.

With a vote tentatively scheduled for Monday, the opening discussion was devoted to pleas for increases over the scale of benefits recommended by the house military committee—$50 monthly for a wife, $75 for a wife and one child, $95 for a wife and two children, and $15 for each additional child.

Like Senate Measure.

Most members appear to like the senate approved schedule—$50 for the wife, $80 for a wife and one child, and $20 for each additional child—but there is increasing support for a CIO proposal to boost the payments further.

The present law gives $50 to the wife, $62 to a wife and one child, and $10 for each additional child. Of this, $22 comes from the husband, the balance from the government. The service man's contribution would remain at $22 under all present plans.

Chairman Andrew J. May [D., Ky.] and several fellow military committee members supported the committee's military dependency recommendations as having been based on careful consideration of living costs.

Scale Is "Liberal."

Compared with payments by other nations, he said, the committee scale is liberal and framed with a consideration of the cost involved. May estimated the committee bill would add approximately $650,000,000 annually to the present $1,100,000,000 cost of the allotment and allowance act.

Continuance of dependency payments for a readjustment period after the war was urged by Rep. William J. Miller [R., Conn.], a World war veteran.

"When we are giving away money all over the world," remarked Rep. Frank Carlson [R., Kas.], "and when we propose to feed the people of the various nations, it seems to me we can afford to be more liberal with the wives and children of men who are called into military service."

Backs CIO Demands.

Rep. George Sadowski [D., Mich.] is ready to offer an amendment embodying the CIO demands for $55 for a wife, $90 for a wife and one child, and $30 for each additional child. He predicts it will be accepted.

Sadowski argued a $15 monthly allowance for all children beyond two would allow only 25 cents a day for food and 25 cents daily for clothing and other incidental expenses.

"If any mother can feed a child on a basis of an 8 cent meal in any city, town, or village in the whole United States of America, I would like to hear about it," he said.

CHICAGO AIRMEN DECORATED FOR DOWNING PLANES

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14 (AP).—Awards of the air medal or oak leaf cluster in lieu of a second air medal to 27 officers and enlisted men from Illinois, and members of the 8th bomber command of the United States 8th army air force in England have been announced by the war department. Each decoration was for the destruction of one enemy aircraft.

They included the following 18 men from Chicago and its suburbs. [All addresses are Chicago unless otherwise indicated]:

Oak Leaf Cluster.

Second Lieutenants Sidney H. Lang, 5138 North Kimball avenue [reported missing in action June 28, 1943], and Daniel F. Stevens, 6351 Kimbark avenue; Tech. Sgts. Robert L. Bennett, 618 Berkeley avenue, Elmhurst [reported missing in action July 28, 1943]; Paul A. Dickinson, 294 Maplewood road, Riverside [reported missing in action August 12, 1943]; and John R. Fibranz, 5037 Adams street; Staff Sgts. Loras J. Connolly, 4901 Hubbard street; Frank J. Krasick, 5748 West 65th street; Charles J. Fulanovich, 1511 West 19th street; and Fred R. Taylor, 320 South Francisco avenue [reported missing in action July 26, 1943]; and Sgt. Bruce A. Hardy, 1147 Maple avenue, Evanston.

Air Medal.

Second Lieutenants George W. Heinz, 9226 Ewing avenue, Evanston, and Thomas H. Petersen Jr., 415 West North avenue; Staff Sgts. William D. Barton, 724 South Taylor avenue, Oak Park, Theodore T. Cuceir, 1439 N. Ridgeway avenue; Charles J. Sandrik, 1317 West 19th street; and Peter J. Zibas, 2222 West 23d place; Sergeants James L. Ford, 33 South Sacramento boulevard, and John F. Maschmeyer, 10527 Corliss avenue [reported missing in action June 25].

Missing Flyer a Captive of Nazis, Parents Told

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Olson, 941 Wesley avenue, Oak Park, have been advised that their son, Lt. Nels G. Olson, holder of the soldier's medal and an oak leaf cluster, is a prisoner of the German government. Lt. Olson was reported missing in action after bailing out from his plane over enemy territory. His wife resides in Columbia, S. C. He was graduated from Oak Park High school and Northwestern university, and was an accountant for the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois.

BY SALLY JOY BROWN

[This department answers questions covering problems related to the social welfare of relatives of service men, both in the column and by mail, if stamped, addressed envelopes are sent with inquiries to Sally Joy Brown.]

Mrs. N. M. inquires: "At the age of 11 months a nephew of mine was left an orphan and I have cared for him up until the present. He is now 18 years old and is going to enter the navy. The last year or two he has been my sole support. I have been told that he can apply for an allowance for me. Is that true? I have never legally adopted him."

ANSWER: Yes, if you have cared for the child since infancy and have acted as a parent to him and have been supported by him, he will be able to apply for an allowance for you, if he is in one of the four lowest pay grades and wishes to contribute $22 a month toward an allowance. It will be necessary for you to prove dependency.

A. K. K. writes: "Please advise me as to what to do about my allowance. My son enlisted in the army last November, and in April I signed papers which my son supplied for me. I am 59 years old and unable to work because of illness. So far, I have never received a check. My son now is hospitalized in another state. Will you please tell me what I can do as I am greatly in need?"

ANSWER: Contact the Army Emergency Relief society, room 1109, 20 North Wacker drive. That agency can give you temporary assistance and can also advise you as to making inquiry concerning your family allowance. It seems likely that your son's application was not approved, or you would have been receiving checks by this time. If he is not too ill, you might write and inquire whether his contribution of $22 a month is being deducted from his salary. If not, the allowance is not in effect, and it will be necessary for either you or your son to reapply. The Army Emergency Relief society can also assist you in making application, if necessary.

Mrs. E. W. writes: "I have reason to believe that my son, who is in the army, has been secretly married. It was understood that he would name me as beneficiary on his government insurance. Can you tell me where I can learn whether the girl whom I believe he has married has been named as beneficiary?"

ANSWER: The name of the person selected as beneficiary for a service man's government insurance is considered a confidential matter and will not be revealed unless the policy becomes payable.

Mrs. L. A. writes: "Will you please tell me if my husband, who is in the navy, can class me as a dependent so that I may receive a family allowance? I have been doing odd jobs during the summer months, but during the winter I will be unable to work."

ANSWER: If your husband is in one of the four lowest pay grades you are entitled to a family allowance, regardless of your own income or earnings. Your husband can apply for such allowances at his present station.

ALL DELINQUENTS IN DRAFT WILL BE CLASSIFIED 1-A

WMC Cracks Down on 100,000 Cases.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—The war man power commission today cracked down on draft-age men who are delinquent in complying with selective service requirements.

The WMC selective service bureau announced that starting Nov. 1 all draft delinquents between 18 and 38 years old automatically will be classified 1-A and will be subject to immediate induction, regardless of their draft order numbers or their deferment status.

Almost 100,000 draft registrants had been reported as delinquents by their local boards as of last Aug. 31, the bureau said. Of these, 47,457 are delinquency cases pending before the justice department. The delinquents face prosecution under the selective service act of 1940, which provides maximum penalties of a $10,000 fine and five years imprisonment. The remaining cases are pending before local boards and many of them will be cleared without referral to the justice department, it was said.

Lists Delinquencies.

The bureau listed the following reasons for delinquency:

1. Failure to return a completed draft questionnaire within 10 days.
2. Giving false information in the questionnaire.
3. Failure to register for the draft.
4. Failure to keep local draft boards informed of changes of address.
5. Failure to report a change of status which would affect draft classification.
6. Failure to report for physical examination.
7. Failure to report for induction or [if conscientious objector] for work of national importance.

The bureau said delinquents in the 38 to 45 age bracket will be classified 1-A but will not be ordered to induction unless the army or navy agrees to accept them.

Rehearing Possible.

If the delinquent can demonstrate that he unknowingly failed to comply with regulations, he will be entitled to a reopening of his case or to an appeal, the bureau said.

The bureau said its sterner policy toward draft evaders is imperative because of man power shortages and the start of the draft of fathers.

Draft registrants were urged by the bureau to notify their local boards immediately if they have moved, changed their jobs, or altered their dependency or occupational status.

ALLMAN ASKS DRAFT DELAY FOR FATHERS ON CITY POLICE FORCE

Police Commissioner James P. Allman said yesterday that he is requesting draft deferment for married members of the department with children who now are eligible for induction. Chief Fire Marshal Anthony J. Mullaney said the fire department might have to take the same action to prevent loss of too many men to the military services.

Allman disclosed that 717 members of the police force are in service and approximately 1,000 more are eligible for call under the father draft. The normal strength of the force is 6,752. He said he had signed deferment requests for about 25 men in the last two days.

"I think that, because of the great amount of work we are doing for the government, our men are essential," Allman said.

70, SHE PAINTS HER ANSWER TO WAR JOB SNUB

After waiting patiently for months for painters to come and paint her two story house at 1402 Dempster street, Evanston, Mrs. Robert S. Milne, 70, wife of the owner of an Evanston print shop, lost her patience.

"I'll paint the house myself," she told her husband, who is in ill health. And she did.

In addition, the elderly woman papered and painted the home's interior, painted a picket fence around the back yard, and devoted her evenings to painting the storm windows.

"But what makes me mad," she said yesterday, "is when I tried to get a job in a war plant they told me I was too old."

OIL EXECUTIVE DEFENDS DEAL IN ARCTIC AREA

New York, Oct. 14 (AP).—Large quantities of crude oil for the Alaskan war front have been made available by the development of new wells near Fort Norman, Canadian Northwest Territory, R. W. Gallagher, president of Standard Oil company [N. J.], said today.

The wells, located only 100 miles from the arctic circle, were drilled by Imperial Oil, Ltd., Standard's Canadian affiliate, at the request of the United States army. The Norman field, Gallagher said, is the only proved source of crude oil in quantity near Alaska.

[Gallagher's report follows demands for an inquiry into the use of American funds to develop the Canadian oil field. Rep. Norris Poulson (R., Cal.) charged Monday that the army and navy petroleum board had spent 100 million dollars developing the wells at Fort Norman while an Alaskan naval petroleum reserve remained unexploited.]

Defends Price of Oil.

Oils from the Norman properties will be sold at $1.25 a barrel. This, said Gallagher's statement, compares with a price of crude in the United States ranging from $1 to more than $2 a barrel. He asserted that oil transported from the United States to Norman would cost approximately $6 a barrel.

Expansion of production at Norman is a part of the big so-called Canol project being carried on in support of the Alaskan war theater. It includes construction of roads, air bases, a pipe line to Whitehorse, near the Alaskan boundary, and a refinery at Whitehorse. Gallagher said Imperial Oil has no part in any of these activities, its sole assignment being the development of oil production.

Standard Runs Refinery.

The refinery will be operated by Standard Oil Company of California, which, Gallagher said, has no corporate ties with Standard of New Jersey or Imperial.

Gallagher's statement added:

"The United States government is underwriting direct expense incurred by Imperial in developing the project, but this money is to be repaid to the government thru a reduction to 50 cents a barrel of the price of crude it buys. This reduction will begin after the government has purchased 1,500,000 barrels of oil at the regular price of $1.25 a barrel and will continue until the government has been reimbursed for all outlays to Imperial."

THE ENGLISH WANT MR. ROOSEVELT.

William Benton, vice president of the University of Chicago, recently returned from England, says that one of the greatest anxieties of the British people is concerned with the American elections. They fear that Mr. Roosevelt might be defeated and they fear the consequences of that on British interests in the war. A radio commentator and newspaper columnist in Washington said, the other day, that Mr. Churchill, when here, told a newspaper publisher it would be a tragic catastrophe if the American people failed to reëlect President Roosevelt, and it would be even worse if he were elected with a Republican congress.

Mr. Churchill may have made the statement, but if he did he's probably well covered up so that no confirmation of it would be obtained. He is wise enough in the ways of American politics to know that traces of British influence in our internal affairs should not be left in public view. He allowed the Roosevelt stooges at the Republican meeting at Mackinac to promote the Anglo-American alliance before he himself advocated it at Harvard.

The English have good reason to believe that Mr. Roosevelt is indispensable to them. Mr. Benton says that they are ill-informed as to American opinion generally and have a particularly distorted idea of the midwest. They don't know that a Republican President and a Republican congress would be determined to win this war. If the Republicans followed their party traditions they would put emphasis on American interests and the British may feel that that would be disadvantageous to them. They are sure of Mr. Roosevelt and they are sure of the Democratic leaders who follow him.

Mr. Churchill no doubt would read with regret that he would have to deal in the closing stages of the war, and at least in the peace which followed, with a Republican President and a Republican congress. It would be a godsend to the American people if he did. And in the long run it might be better for England if he did. However, he has cultivated Mr. Roosevelt, he is familiar with all his probabilities, and is quite certain of him.

Once in a while the British use of their persuasive and forceful influence in our domestic affairs has exploded on them. In September, 1888, Lionel Sackville-West, British minister in Washington, received a letter asking him for political advice in the campaign which was to see the defeat of President Cleveland by Harrison. The minister did not know it was a booby trap. He is described as a man with large, sad blue eyes expressing ennui. He liked poker and poker playing friends in Washington but he was not very astute.

Trouble with Canada over American fishing rights had raised an international question with domestic explosions. New England fishermen had been harassed and arrested in Canadian waters. The Salisbury government in London and the Canadian government were willing to negotiate a new treaty. Joseph Chamberlain was sent over to undertake it. The commission headed by him on one side and Secretary of State Bayard on the other got off to a bad start, but gradually mended their differences and produced an agreement which the Republicans in the senate rejected. The Presidential campaign was in full swing and the Irish-American vote was important.

Politically the rejection was to appear as a Republican defense of national interests against a Democratic attempt to sacrifice them to Great Britain and Canada. It did so appear to the Irish-Americans then agitated by the relations of England and Ireland, and the failure of Gladstone and home rule. Cleveland replied to the senate action by sending a message to congress asking for broad powers to adopt retaliatory measures against Canada, not only in the fisheries, but in all transit of goods and railroad operations. The Republicans in the senate refused to pass it. Irish-American sympathies then swung back to the administration. It was at this moment that a Republican out in California, George Osgoodby, made up his mind that the message was a trick to fool the Irish and probably had been played in collusion with the British.

Mr. Osgoodby, to test out his suspicion, wrote a letter to Sackville-West in which he represented himself as an Englishman named Murchison, a naturalized American citizen, who, like thousands of other English voters in the United States, he said, wanted to serve English interests. The fictitious Murchison said he was puzzled by Cleveland's actions. Could the British minister tell him whether Cleveland's policy was merely temporary? When it had served its political purpose would Mr. Cleveland again be the good and dependable friend of England and the foe of the "dynamite school of Ireland?"

Sackville-West picked up the booby trap. The impropriety, the folly, of advising a former British subject how to vote as an American citizen seems not to have occurred to him. He explained to his trickster that no American party could openly favor the mother country without losing votes, but that Cleveland was the best choice—"there is every reason to believe that while upholding the position he has taken he will manifest a spirit of conciliation in dealing with the question involved in his message." Mr. Osgoodby had what he wanted and, little bothered by the fact that his Mr. Murchison had led the minister into a private and confidential correspondence, he turned the letter over to the Republican campaign managers. They held it until Oct. 24 and then exploded it.

Sackville-West hurried to see Secretary Bayard and there wasn't much he could say, but he did give a newspaper interview which was not complimentary to American politics, congress, or the President. Twenty-four hours later his recall was demanded. Now it is not the least interesting part of this story that the Salisbury government refused to ask its meddling minister to put on his hat and come home. Salisbury apparently was ready to support his representative in Washington as if a foreign official's interference in American political affairs had been entirely proper. Salisbury was assuming, as so many Englishmen of the ruling classes do, that America was still a colony in all but name. Why shouldn't the king's spokesman advise these colonials on a political question? Cleveland thought differently. He sent Sackville-West home.

THE WAR'S GREATEST GENERAL.

Gen. MacArthur's flyers dealt a crushing blow to the Japanese at Rabaul, New Britain, in a single raid which destroyed 177 enemy aircraft and sank or damaged 123 ships in addition to the bombing of shore installations.

This is another great victory for the tiny forces of the general who is carrying the war to Japan in the face of hindrances and inadequate support. It is probably well within the truth to say that we have lost more bombers in recent months in Europe than he had to send against Rabaul.

The victory shows plainly that MacArthur is the great general of this war. Given the support that his courage and genius deserve, Gen. MacArthur can defeat Japan within a year. But it will have to be honest support and not the token forces that he has had to use sparingly, altho most brilliantly, in his campaign so far.

The capitulation of the Italian navy has left the British fleet with nothing to do in Europe. The British for the most part aren't guarding Atlantic supply lines with capital ships. Destroyers, destroyer escorts, land-based planes, and small airplane carriers are doing most of the work of patroling the sea lanes.

The German navy has been reduced in three years of war to a squadron of Flying Dutchmen, occasionally seen, but hardly an excuse for immobilizing the fleet of a major world power.

If Gen. MacArthur is given the coöperation of the British fleet in the Pacific, together with land and air forces big enough to do the job, his military genius will soon carry the American flag back to Bataan and beyond, into the heart of Tokio.

CONGRESS AND OPA.

Prentiss Brown has been pointing with unrestrained pride to a recent decline of a few points in the cost of living index. He doesn't say that whatever the people may be saving as consumers is fully balanced by the liability for subsidies the same people have been forced to assume as taxpayers, tho that is the fact.

At any rate, the administration is claiming great credit for the achievements of OPA. That is curious because it is only a few months since the New Dealers were howling that congress had made it impossible for OPA to accomplish anything and that prices were, therefore, destined to run hog-wild.

Congress refused to appropriate all the money that was requested for enforcement. Congress required that the policy making jobs be held by men who had the benefit of experience in the businesses they were regulating. Even worse, congress had brought such heavy criticism to bear against maladministration in the OPA that Leon Henderson and a number of other New Dealers in key positions were replaced. It is only since these changes were made that the price index has ceased to rise and has tended to decline.

If there is anything in OPA for which to claim credit, the ribbons go to those members of congress who, in response to public sentiment, insisted on reforms of personnel and methods.

Editorial of the Day

CONVICTS INSTEAD OF DADS.
[Christian Science Monitor.]

Lewis E. Lawes, former warden of New York's Sing Sing prison, recently has advocated induction of prison inmates into military service before the drafting of fathers. Judging by the Massachusetts experience, this is easier said than done.

On April 29, this year, Gov. Saltonstall signed a bill providing for the release, under parole conditions, of selected inmates of Massachusetts prisons for entrance into the armed forces. A special selective service board composed of members of the state department of correction and two outside civilians was set up to review the inmate cases and to recommend for military service.

Nearly four months have passed since the enabling legislation was signed by the governor, yet releases from Massachusetts prisons for military service to date total only 14.

It is known that as many as 300 inmates at one institution were selected by the special board for military consideration, and that only five were accepted by the army. Not one of the 675 prisoners at the Charlestown state prison proved acceptable to the army.

From the point of view of practical penology the result of the plan to draft prisoners in Massachusetts raises the question: If these men cannot be safely released under the restrictions of military discipline, will they be safe cases for release into a peace time society where job opportunities may be few and adjustment difficult? The question may be raised in other states.

"Yes, We Have No Bananas" used to be just the rather silly sounding title of a popular ditty. Now it is one of the great basic truths of American domestic economy.—Washington Evening Star.

Strange, that the army turns down two Fresno lads for induction—one being 8 feet 6½ inches tall and the other 4 feet 10 inches. Doesn't the QM still carry uniforms in two sizes?—Detroit News.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

THE FIFTH SEASON.

The hunter's moon swam briefly into view night before last in spite of overcast skies. Clouds driving toward the northeast gave the impression that this brilliant moon was traveling like a projectile from some secret weapon. Its folklore is scanty, but in times of peace it was generally a signal among city folks for the organization of harvest home dinners. John T. McCutcheon has cartooned the hunter's moon, and the original drawing may be found in a collection of choice old McCutcheons in the museum of the Chicago Historical society.

* * *

The much debated question of Indian summer is coming up. Here and there among the populace, during the last two weeks, there have been mutterings of "This must be it, and if not, why not?" This column's feelings in the matter are: [1] Indian summer comes whenever you feel like giving a fine spell of autumn weather a special name; [2] Indian summer becomes official in this vicinity when McCutcheon's long-distance cartoon is republished; [3] Indian summer cannot be pinned down by rules.

* * *

The Indian summer rulebook, which insists that it cannot happen until after the first killing frost, was written in New England. It has influenced reference works to such an extent that the Britannica, which gives the subject an inch of type, says: "Indian summer is preceded by squaw winter, a cold spell when the thermometer first drops below the freezing point." We submit that the midwestern and the New England climates are not identical twins, and that our Indian summer often comes before the first killing frost and always before Nov. 1. Any balmy days thereafter may be called St. Martin's summer, according to the English and French custom. Incidentally, Martinmas falls on Nov. 11, which no midwesterner counts on as a day for picnics.

* * *

England borrowed the term and makes fairly free use of it. In Charlotte Brontë's "Shirley," published in 1849, you will find this passage:

"The gilding of the Indian summer mellowed the pastures far and wide. The russet woods stood ripe to be stripped, but were yet full of leaf. The purple of heather bloom, faded but not withered, tinged the hills. . . . Fieldhead gardens bore the seal of gentle decay."

Charlotte, of course, could not see the Indian ghosts dancing in the haze; they belong only to the American dream.

THE HOUSE ON THE HILL.

The house on the hill is white of wall
With a gay red roof, and rooms that sprawl
From north to south, and east to west,
And I scarcely know which I like the best!
Perhaps the room where the sun comes in
At the crack o' dawn with a golden din;
Perhaps the one with the river view,
Or the summer room where the winds romp thru.
Or, maybe, it isn't the house at all
That I care about, but the patio hall
With its colored tiles and plants in jars,
Open to sky, and clouds, and stars!

And a house is nothing without trees
To gossip together at every breeze;
Without a garden to lend it grace,
A house would be but a sorry place.
And so there are roses of every hue,
And iris borders, chiefly blue,
Fragrant lilies, proud and tall,
And hollyhocks pert against the wall.
Whatever blossoms or bears a fruit
Is welcome there to strike its root.
And the garden is apt to invade the house,
So that leaf, and branch, and bud carouse
And scatter petals and pollen about—
But I just can't keep the flowers out!
And even in winter the wildflowers bloom
On the English china in the dining room!

In winter the house takes precedence
Over wood, and field, and picket fence;
And there's nothing left for the heart to desire
As we pile the logs high on our open fire,
While the household gods draw close to share
Our music and books, our laughter and prayer.
The folk who pass on the roads at night
Look up at our windows warm with light,
And they must wonder who is lucky enough
To live on the hill there with his love!

O, winter and summer, fall and spring,
The house on the hill is just the thing:
Perfect to live in, to work in, to play—
A dream house is easily built that way!

Under a Flag of Truce.

To all the other famous, more or less impregnable Lines, such as the Maginot Line, the Siegfried Line, the Mannerheim Line, the Stalin Line, etc., may I add another one? It is, in my belief, more formidable, tho not constructed of steel and of concrete. I submit herewith the Line o' Type. Time and again I have attempted to take it by storm. But I have always been repulsed ignominiously, with heavy casualties, loss of self-esteem, and a drop in morale.

The escarpment in front of the main works is strewn with mangled remains of my manuscripts, mowed down unmercifully. When frontal attack proved to be hopeless I resorted to stratagem. I disguised a chosen few of my would-be contributions by signing divers pseudonyms, in the fond hope of sneaking in unrecognized. But it was to no avail.

Sadly I have come to the conclusion that the Collins Line cannot be taken either by force or by stratagem. So here I come under a flag of truce, with malice toward none. You would not shoot at a white flag. Or would you?

TABLE UTENSILS MAY SPREAD INFECTIONS.

No matter how much our authorities scold about the dangers of imperfectly washed eating and drinking utensils, bad practices continue. Health may be seriously disturbed because the devices employed are teeming with germs which are taken into the mouths of unsuspecting persons.

In this respect, at least, we dare not boast overly much about our standards of sanitation. Restaurants, soda fountains, etc.—in the presence of an epidemic disease or of respiratory disorders—may become sources of infection. Because a glass sparkles, this does not prove that it is free from microbes. Greasy materials have a fashion of forming a gluelike film which can bind bacteria to the surface.

The only way to check the efficiency of dishwashing procedures is to test the individual cups, glasses, etc. Under carefully controled studies, many an establishment will reveal several thousand "bugs" per square inch.

Where do these invaders come from? They are planted by the fingers and lips of users and sometimes they will actually increase in number because the wash water is little more than lukewarm. If drying is accomplished by means of a soiled towel, certain areas may be loaded with bacilli. A case of septic sore throat, for example, may spread streptococci over literally scores of pieces if cleaning is inadequate. Safeguards include proper equipment, with plenty of scalding water, soap, and some additional chemical [such as sodium hexametaphosphate] to "cut the grease."

Particular attention will need to be given to spoons and forks, as bits of edibles may cling to these articles unless scrubbing is thoro. Thereafter, they may be rinsed at a temperature of at least 180 degrees F. Dishes thus handled will dry without toweling, in approximately one minute. A temperature below this reading is unsafe altho the silver or cutlery will appear just as clean and bright. The fact is that with less heat, organisms are either not dislodged or not destroyed.

Most housewives do not choose to steam up the kitchen. The only safe substitute is two or three sprayings, following the employment of strong suds. Items from the sickroom should be subjected to boiling. Even then, it is wise to keep the "set-ups" on the invalid's tray separated from those used by the balance of the family.

In 1918, tableware was definitely convicted of transmitting influenza. In addition, a number of reports point to the dissemination of septic sore throat in neighborhoods where soda glasses were merely dipped in a supposedly antiseptic bath. Real progress has been made thru the popularity of paper cups and straws. But this does not take care of the situation in a cafe where chinaware is utilized. Greater caution than ever is required because unskilled assistants are more likely to become careless. In addition, regular inspection of the dishwashing apparatus may save many an infection.

Water vapor [steam] cannot be depended upon unless it is under pressure. The chances are that it will fail to heat the cup or plate, as the case may be, as effectively as immersion at a substantially lower level.

E. D. writes: Is it harmful not to take enough water?

REPLY.

Enough is enough. With some of us, the tissues require a generous amount of irrigation. Much depends upon the state of the blood vessels and elimination. Thirst is the best guide.

DISTURBED GLAND ACTIVITY.

D. M. writes: I was rejected for service partially because of an endocrine deficiency. How does this disorder manifest itself?

Depends upon the gland involved. One would need to check the output of thyroid, pituitary, adrenals, etc.

DIFFERENT BREEDS.

No. They are different maladies—quite. Ringworm is caused by a plant parasite while psoriasis is due to upset metabolism.

Is that called the black market, ma'am,
Or a hybrid "shady-Sunkist?"

KENT TAYKIT.

Soldiers' Field in the Pacific.

In a letter from Lt. Kermit Holt of the marine air intelligence, somewhere in the Pacific:

"I'm living in the Hotel de Gink with the war correspondents, and we all got caught recently when the Japs paid us their nightly visit. Usually we have plenty of time to roll out from under our mosquito nets, grab our shoes, pants, and steel helmets and tear down the hill to the big foxhole. But that night we had been drinking torpedo juice, alcohol snitched from the torpedo mechanism, diluted a bit with water and grapefruit juice, a mighty fine drink. The first thing we knew antiaircraft shrapnel was banging on the roof, and bombs were falling a few hundred feet away.

"I bounded out of bed, clad only in my shorts, picked up my steel helmet and started for the door. Just then a big stick of bombs fell. The whole press corps dived to the floor and tried to burrow a hole in the wood. I don't mind admitting I thought my day had come. I was shivering like a wet pup. I was pretty safe, tho. Everybody was on top of me.

"Finally the ack-ack let up a bit, and Pat Robinson [of I. N. S.] ventured outside. 'They got him!' he screamed. We all rushed outside to view the most thrilling sight I've ever seen. The Jap bomber was in flames, a ball of fire at about 22,000 feet. Slowly it spiraled downward, shooting out sparks like a spent skyrocket, and hit the earth with a tremendous explosion.

"Then the other bombers dropped their eggs, and we hit the deck again. Some idly looked up, and saw another bomber ablaze. Our night fighter had shot down two Japs in less than two minutes. The hills rang with cheers as everybody all over the island peeked out of his foxhole to watch. It was just like Soldiers' field when Notre Dame makes a touchdown."

City Guide.

Our column scout, Roberta, the other day by chance met two friends with four sailors in tow, three of them eastern boys, the fourth the brother of one friend. They had arrived in Chicago after dark, had spent the week-end on the south side, and had managed no sightseeing in the loop, an omission which they hoped to remedy on their way to the station. Roberta was asked to join the entourage and began to point out spots of interest to the sailor beside her, bearing in mind possible competition with the dizzying heights of Rockefeller center. However, he responded with enthusiastic "o's" and "ah's", and her civic pride was stimulated. They reached the Board of Trade and stood gazing at its towering height, when a sudden lull in the traffic noise gave her the impression that his loud exclamations had a slightly exaggerated tone. As she turned to wither him with a look, she discovered she had been showing the loop to the Chicago sailor.

FOR A FEDERAL SALES TAX.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 8.—Your editorial suggestion of a federal sales tax to speed up war production makes good sense. Specifically, an income tax penalizes production, for the more a man works, the more he is taxed. A sales tax encourages steady work by raising the expense of living; it also encourages saving by raising current prices, with the prospect for lower prices in the future when taxes are lowered.

Understanding this, Russia has a low income tax and depends largely on a sales tax for revenue. As a result, prices are very high and the quality of industrial effort is intense.

Back in peace times one of the chief arguments against the sales tax was that it tended to restrict consumption and thus depress the demand for consumer merchandise. This was a correct analysis. Today, with war time shortages, restriction of consumer demand is necessary if inflation is to be avoided. However, the treasury department has forgotten logic and still insists on higher income taxes. This apparent inconsistency is explained by a recent government release which estimates that 9,000,000 present taxpayers would be exempt from making payments under the new tax law proposals, while levies on the middle class would be doubled or tripled.

Apparently, it is the old "votes before victory" game, now that 1944 elections are in sight.

WANTS NO HOMEWORK.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—I have just read Gertrude Cronin's answer to the mother who objects to so much home work. I, too, am a mother of a high school youngster, and it doesn't seem long ago that I was obliged to do hours of homework and disliked it very much. The average person if he is honest never did appreciate hours of study at home.

Each teacher means well and thinks her subject the most important one, so, at the end of the day our youngsters come home with hours of homework and no time to get out and breathe good clean air and soak in sunshine.

We will encounter little or no child delinquency if the young folks are given interesting clean outside interest. We have a friend whose son was threatened with a failure because he was anti-social. He did nothing but study, and was wholly self-satisfied. It surely was an unhealthy state of mind for a child. Here's another vote for no homework.

TOOL OF THE INTERNATIONAL BANKERS.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—It seems to me that the propagandists are using the terms "world state" or "super-world government" as a smoke screen to hide the real scheme, which is to put over a world bank plan.

The Keynes plan or any other plan for world monetary control would place us under the economic control of a clique of international bankers.

They are not interested in the welfare of the people, but only their own selfish gains. They could wield their economic power against any nation, corporation, or individual who dared to breathe against their will.

We must stop all plans for world domination, because they are schemes to place all of us in economic slavery.

GEORGE W. BUERGER.

HOW TO GET A STOVE.

South Houston, Tex., Oct. 7.—We are being refused the vital things of life in which to carry on our daily activities, and all for the purpose of prolonging the war so certain powers will gain more control over us all so as to achieve their aim.

Some of us are unable to buy certain goods when our old ones wear out. For instance, we wrote the OPA here that we were in need of a new gas range as our old one had worn out and was not safe. We haven't heard from them, but in the meantime a notice came out in the newspapers that before one could be permitted to buy a stove he would be required to have an inspector come to his home and look the old stove over and then this inspector would have to sign his name to OPA papers which would prove that the stove was past repair.

In the first place we are unable to obtain a stove repair man here in this little town as we are unable to hire any kind of laboring man. Now if the OPA thinks we are going to pay some one from the city, miles away, to come to our home just to prove we are not lying about our worn out stove, then the New Deal's OPA has another think coming. People are so rationed on gasoline these days that they are unable to drive far just for the silly purpose of inspecting worn out stoves.

Can't we loyal Americans impress on congress how we feel about this kind of rule in our nation and then demand that it act before we here are completely under European rule?

MRS C. R. JACKS.

NEW "L" PLATFORM.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—I propose this plan to help pull the Rapid Transit system out of the red and to speed up the service. Eliminate some local stations on the "L," keeping stops only at one mile distances. The surface lines and bus company, issuing and accepting transfers, would be feeder lines.

From the discontinued stations, material could be salvaged to build a Randolph-Wells to Lake-Wells platform to reinvigorate the Lake street "L." No longer would it be necessary to go around the loop to go west from the north side, or to go north from Lake street.

SYNOPSIS: Lady Hyacinth calls at the office of her husband, Peter Gloam, and demands money for a venture in shipping antiques to America. With her are her two cousins, Joanna Fripp and Cyril Brockett. Wren Dancey is Peter's secretary; Sam Molesey, the bookkeeper, and Harold, the office boy. The office has been bombed. Ronald, now Capt. Warre, calls to see his uncle. Sounds of falling bricks are heard in the inner office where Lady Hyacinth and Peter are quarreling. Peter suffers a stroke. During a violent air raid, Lady Hyacinth arranges for immediate removal of furniture, by van, to a Dorset cottage. Parker, the cook, tries to warn Wren of the amazing things Lady Hyacinth has been doing, but, interrupted, she runs to an air raid shelter, and on the way is murdered. One of the van drivers, Mike Riley, is the next victim of foul play. A bomb has sent Lady Hyacinth to the hospital with a broken leg. She sends Wren to Dorset to look after the furniture. Wren is happy to be alone, but her rejoicing is cut short, for Joanna descends upon her. After the local constable warns Wren of a light showing in the cottage, his body is found near a brush, with a service man's button in his hand. Cyril and Sam Molesey, with Groucho, the cat, arrive. Groucho leads Wren and Cyril to a gruesome discovery of blood and a tuft of the constable's hair. Ronald, who comes to visit, is sure Lady Hyacinth hid something she plans to dispose of illegally, and that Cyril and Joanna are after it, too. Police call at the cottage and talk to Wren, Joanna, and Ronald, from whose coat a button is missing. Then suspicion falls upon Lem Gallus, van driver. Ronald asks Wren for three days in which to search the cottage. They check up on Cyril and Joanna and find Joanna has not been to Framleigh, then visit Gridley's poultry shed where Mike Riley was murdered. Inspectors find the defective catch and nail which scratched the constable's hand, and that the packing cases have been tampered with. Cyril agrees to advise Lady Hyacinth, by telephone.

INSTALMENT XXIII.

TREASURE HUNT.

"Gosh, Ronald! Did you see him? Cyril, yes! I felt just for one instant he wanted to cut my throat. O, not seriously," Wren cried, aghast, "but the way he turned on me when———"

"Step on it," Ronald gripped her elbow. "We've got to work fast. . . ."

In the stairhead cubbyhole, Wren crossly brushed a cobweb from her nose.

"Well, that's the last crate. If you've noticed anything worth committing murder for I'll eat it."

"Cracked Battersea enamel. Pink Bristol glass. Chinese what's it. It's junk. Why are you nodding like that?"

"Just seeing," he said, "if my head had come unstuck. Here let's plaster all this back."

"Sold again," she snapped. "No, it's a total washout. Quite a few of these things are new to me, she must have kept them put away; but there's nothing . . . what did you stipulate? Something small, something——"

"With self-advertising value. Obvious answer, jewels."

"O, absolutely," Wren jeered. "Just a few black pearls, a handful of Koh-i-noors. Be your age! Don't you know your aunt's cashed in on every decent piece of jewelry your uncle ever bought her? And if she hadn't can you see her letting it out of her hand? No, I've been thinking. If there is anything, it's almost got to be [a] some Berhaven antique both Cyril and Jo know about, subject to family entail, therefore not Hyacinth's to dispose of; or [b] some personal article she's pretended to lose and on which she's claimed insurance. I don't think so much of that second guess, because why should she need her husband's consent before she could sell it? Peter, of course, might have found out.

"We have to remember, Ronald. that she didn't mean to be parted from any of this stuff. You realize, don't you, it was her fixed intention to ride down on the van?"

His eyes turned on her. "That's a fact, is it? You actually heard Hyacinth say she was going to sit on the box between those two gorillas and——?"

Wren wrapped a jade book-end, thumped it down. "Ronald! Why has there got to be something phoney about Cyril's coming here? That last blitz broke what little nerve he'd got. He had to get out of town. And, just as urgently, he had to save his face. Hence Groucho —and the food. I expect he meant to camp on me only Joanna got first innings. Right now it's not the fact of murder having been perpetrated in this cottage that's bothering Cyril. It's the police. Do you think he'll clear out?"

"Not while Joanna stays put."

"This I do know," Wren stated. "If any fact doesn't suit Joanna's book, she just closes her mind to it. I'd say her determination not to budge was a pure matter of cash if it weren't for . . . Yes?"

"Hyacinth. She took bags into the nursing home, didnt she?"

"One small week-end case. I packed it myself. Why?"

"Just wondering."

Ronald was bending down. "Candle-grease. Fresh."

Wren stared at the clean waxy blobs, proof positive of someone's presence in this room after dark. "But, Ronald, how can he have got out. Not thru these windows. Not past me to the larder one.

From the inner room Ronald summoned her. A narrow door disclosed an iron ladder leading to a trap. Already on the roof, Ronald announced that a 10 year old could slide off the low eaves to the rain-barrel and so make the ground.

Back again he said dryly that the slates didn't show marks.

"I can tell you who did take this way out." Wren's breath quickened. "What happened after I left you before lunch makes me certain." She detailed her surprise encounter with Lem. "I don't know yet if Sam saved the day. I'd like to laugh it off, but quite honestly it seemed as close a call as I had with that garden roller—tho that can't have been anything but pure accident ——"

"Accident! How, when?"

Despite the swiftly barked questions, she sensed that Ronald was thinking of other things.

"I don't believe it's been stolen. I think tries are still being made. What's wrong with us we can't locate it?"

"It! What are we hunting for? You don't know," Wren scoffed. "I don't know. We've ripped this cottage wide open. We've even," she derided, "combed the innards of Sam's clock." Candle-grease — lights-loosened nails . . . "Ronald, there must be some place we've missed out."

She stood staring up, as Ronald was doing, at the grimed trap-door. her brows banded in thought.

"Parker!" she cried. "Was that what she wanted to tell me?"

Donald didn't turn. His back, she thought, tensed with an odd awareness. "Parker?" he repeated. "You mean Hyacinth's cook?"

"Of course," impatiently. "She kept insisting her Ladyship had gone balmy. Naturally I didn't encourage her, but I couldn't shut her up. Right after the siren went she came tiptoeing into my room and started hissing something about it being certain Lady Hyacinth was not sane. We were interrupted before I could get what it was. It seems quite possible, tho, that Parker actually saw Hyacinth hiding something."

"Who interrupted you and Parker?"

"Why I don't——" Wren blinked. "O, yes, Joanna called Parker away; but Sam and Cyril were there, too, wanting to come in—and you were about a foot from them. In a couple of minutes Parker'd left the flat. I do wonder if it'll be the least use writing to Park . . . Golly! What's that?"

Crash! The whole cottage jarred. Amidst the tinkle and shiver of glass mingled Joanna's savage cry.

Blundering down the enclosed stair Wren whispered to Ronald that she'd known that huge mirror would come to grief.

"Joanna, you're not hurt?"

"Hurt? I'm bruised, cut to ribbons! Your priceless notion, I suppose leaving this where——ouch! You're driving glass into my foot!"

STAY AT HOME, JUVENILE JUDGE WARNS MOTHERS

Judge Frank H. Bicek, presiding judge of the Cook County Juvenile court and chief justice of the Circuit court, yesterday warned that mothers should not go to work except as a final necessity if their husbands are drafted in the program scheduled to start in Illinois on Oct. 22.

The judge declared that the lack of supervision caused by both parents being away from home in war work or war service already has brought a sharp increase in juvenile delinquency. The number of boys brought before the Juvenile court has increased 14 per cent and there has been a slight increase in the number of girls, Judge Bicek said. Many girl delinquency cases, however, are settled before they get into court, he added, which accounts for the variance from national figures, which show a great increase in delinquency among girls.

Social service agencies joined with Judge Bicek in urging mothers not to work if it means breaking up home routine in families of school age children. With the father drafted and the mother working, chances for delinquency are increased, spokesmen said.

SEDUCTION SUIT NO. 3, ROUND 1, WON BY FLYNN

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 14 [Special]. —Charged for the third time with seducing a 'teen aged girl, Film Star Errol Flynn today won a round in Superior court when Judge W. S. Baird denied a motion to tie up his reputed $6,000 a week salary and other assets pending trial of the suit by Shirley Evans Hassau, who accused him of being the father of her 2 year old daughter.

Flynn, however, must show cause in the court Oct. 22 why he should not pay the young woman's demands pending trial of her suit. Mrs. Hassau, who recently married a former orchestra singer, sued Flynn yesterday demanding $1,750 a month for support of her child, $5,000 medical fees, and court and attorney's costs.

The actor, who has denied her charge, declared he would fight the suit to the bitter end before I'll make any payoff to avoid unpleasant publicity." Shirley's attorney said Flynn paid her $2,000 in settlement of personal injuries he allegedly inflicted on her in November, 1940, the month her baby was born. She was 18 at the time she charges Flynn seduced her after a night club meeting.

TARPY ACCUSED IN TRUE BILL ON OFFICE SLAYING

The grand jury was reported yesterday to have voted a true bill charging J. Walter Tarpy with the murder of Walter G. Habenicht, 45 years old, office supervisor of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company. Tarpy, 42 years old and a former business associate of Habenicht, shot and killed Habenicht in the insurance company office at 135 South La Salle street last Oct. 4. Tarpy surrendered after the shooting. Tarpy's motives for the slaying have not been explained fully. In one confused version, he told police he once lost first place in a sales drive because of unfair means he attributed to Habenicht.

O'CONNELL FILES APPEAL IN BOND EMBEZZLEMENT

Lawrence J. O'Connell, who is under a 1 to 15 year sentence in prison for embezzling bonds and cash deposited with the Illinois industrial commission when he served as chief securities examiner, appealed his conviction yesterday before the Illinois Supreme court. O'Connell served on the commission during the previous Democratic regime. He was convicted last spring by a jury in the Criminal court of Judge Stanley H. Klarkowski. O'Connell was accused of misappropriating $54,000.

SENATORS CALL SCHOOL AID PLAN FEDERALIZATION

U. S. Control of Education Held 'Inevitable.'

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14 (AP).—Legislation to authorize annual grants aggregating 300 million dollars to public schools was assailed today as an opening wedge for government control of education.

Beginning senate debate in behalf of the measure, Sen. Elbert D. Thomas [D., Utah] asserted it is needed to raise teachers' salaries and to bring educational opportunities in poorer states in line with those in industrial sections.

He said every safeguard had been taken to prevent any federal control over the administration or curriculum of the schools, which he agreed is strictly a local function.

Federalization Feared.

Sen. Kenneth Wherry [R., Neb.] expressed fear that such a step might bring "federalization of the public school system," and Sen. Harlan J. Bushfield [R., S. D.] asserted government control of education would be inevitable.

Sen. Robert A. Taft [R., O.] said that while in his state white and Negro children go to the same schools. southern senators are committed to segregation.

He called attention to a provision of the bill requiring that Negro education share in the proposed allotments on the basis of the percentage of Negro population in each state.

'We Will Never Stop.'

"Once the federal government goes into the question of white and colored schools," he told the senate, "we never will stop—we will go on until we require every state to permit white and colored children to go to the same schools as we do in Ohio.

"If a bill of that sort comes up, we will have exactly the same problem presented that we had on the poll tax and other measures."

He referred to filibusters by southern senators against passage of legislation to prohibit collection of a poll tax as a requirement for voting in eight southern states.

A report that opponents of the bill might offer a house approved anti-poll tax measure as an amendment, with a view to blocking passage, drew from Sen. Lister Hill [D., Ala.], co-sponsor with Thomas of the educational aid bill, the remark that if such an amendment did not fail on a point of order, "we would do everything to prevent it from coming to a vote."

Opposes Extra Tax Burden.

Meanwhile, Sen. David I. Walsh [D., Mass.], a member of the education committee, filed a minority report asserting he could see no justice in adding to the tax burden of states providing good educational opportunities to improve the education system of some other state "unwilling or disinterested in striving for the best educational facilities."

The bill would authorize annual appropriations of 200 million dollars during war and other emergencies, to supplement state funds for the payment of teachers salaries, and permanent annual appropriations of 100 millions to equalize educational opportunities in the states.

The 200 millions would be distributed to states on an enrolled pupil basis and the 100 millions on the basis of financial needs.

FATHER DENIED BOY, 7, 'WILLED' TO GRANDUNCLE

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Huszar of 5436 North Western avenue, who have cared for their grandnephew, Robert J. Kovacs, 7 years old, since his mother's death six years ago, yesterday won the right to keep him in their home when Judge C. Lewe dismissed the petition for a writ of habeas corpus brought by the boy's father, John Kovacs of 3918 West 13th street.

The Huszars, who contended that the boy's mother, Rose, orally willed the boy to them on her deathbed, testified that Kovacs had visited the boy only four times in six years.

Kovacs testified he tried to obtain custody of his son in 1937. Judge Lewe held that he had failed to show himself an interested father and that the boy was in good hands and should remain there.

SUIT TO DISBAR AURELIO FILED IN N. Y. COURT

New York, Oct. 14 [Special].—The Association of the Bar of the city of New York today launched disbarment proceedings against former Magistrate Thomas A. Aurelio, protege of Mayor Fiorello La Guardia and now involved in a scandal that caused both Democrats and Republicans to repudiate him as their candidate for the Supreme court.

The association petitioned the appellate division of the Supreme court to direct Aurelio to show cause why he should not be disbarred.

Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan recently charged that Aurelio received the Democratic nomination to the high bench thru the aid of Frank Costello, czar of the slot machine racket, and that the magistrate pledged "undying loyalty" to the gangster for his influence.

LAUNDRY DRIVER ROBBED.

Leslie Weismann, 45 years old, 2876 South Tripp avenue, was robbed of $72 and his laundry truck in front of 2111 South Trumbull avenue yesterday, he told police. The truck was abandoned in front of 3252 West 16th street.

Have you finished your Christmas shopping?

if not please do it now

Make out your list and decide what to give each one—have second and third choices for safety.

Shop now for all out-of-town gifts, mail now, mark them "Do Not Open Until Christmas."

Simplify your giving by choosing War Bonds and Stamps for many—the best gift of all is a share in Victory.

Finish your Christmas shopping earlier than you ever have before.

Because we want to give you the best service possible under wartime conditions, we urge you to finish your gift shopping earlier than ever before. It's patriotic and it's good sense to eliminate the hectic Christmas rush of peacetime years. A rush of shopping late in December would put a terrific strain on smaller sales staffs, transportation systems, truck delivery services, and the United States Post Office. Thanks for Christmas shopping now!

G.O.P. LEADERS LAY FOUNDATION OF '44 CAMPAIGN

Jockey for Party Posts at April Election.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

The political pot already is bubbling in many parts of Chicago, and political leaders are on their toes in an attempt to comprehend all developments which may affect the 1944 campaigns.

Bernard S. Black, a leader in the Business Men's committee—organized in 1940 to combat vote frauds—has moved into the La Salle hotel with his family, making him eligible to run for the important post of 1st ward Republican committeeman. The committee, which defeated Committeeman Daniel A. Serritella's bid for renomination as state senator last year, is being strengthened.

Job Stands in Way.

Fred Gillies of Flossmoor, plant superintendent of the Inland Steel company, last night told precinct captains at a 22d ward meeting that the field is open for his successor as G. O. P. committeeman in next April's election.

Gillies, another Business Men's committee leader, was asked to step into the west side ward after the death of the elected committeeman, Anthony Golusinski, in 1940. Not living in the ward, he cannot run for election.

Sinon A. Murray of State Auditor Arthur C. Lueder's office, who long has been active in the 20th ward, now resides in the 22d and is said to be leading the list of contenders for the coming vacancy.

On the north side a combination of forces calculated to elect Richard A. Donnellan as 44th ward leader was arranged at a meeting a few nights ago. Lionel G. Thorsness, who ran against Donnellan in 1940, agreed to support Donnellan.

Whitney to Retain Reins.

Emerson C. Whitney, 48th ward committeeman, who was violently interventionist before the Jap attack on Pearl Harbor, is scheduled to enter the army as a draftee Oct. 29. He was inducted Oct. 8. The normal course would be for him to resign and permit the election of a successor by his precinct captains.

Instead, it is reported that Whitney will take a leave of absence and give his proxy to former Judge Edgar A. Jonas. Carl Buddenbaum has announced his intention to run for the post in April.

G. O. P. SPOTLIGHT PUT ON WILLKIE IN POST-WAR QUIZ

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 14.—Missouri Republicans today were awaiting with interest what response Wendell Willkie will make in his speech here tomorrow night to a list of questions as to his views on international and domestic issues submitted to him last month by state and national party officials.

The 1940 Presidential nominee is to address a meeting arranged by the state G. O. P. organization, members of which say they have made no commitments.

The Willkie visit grows out of a questionnaire asking him for precise definitions on his post-war views. The list of questions was approved by the Missouri delegates to the 1940 national convention in Philadelphia, Pa.

DOG TAKES SWIM IN LAKE; BOY, 3, GOES WITH HIM

Dougie Seator, who is 3 years old and lives at 817 Hinman avenue, Evanston, and Tim, an Irish setter, are great friends. Wherever Dougie goes there goes Tim. And vice versa. Yesterday Tim went for a swim in the cold waters of the lake and Dougie went with him.

John Hoffman, Evanston dog warden, was the first to learn of their adventure. He spotted Tim and Dougie on Main street. Both were wringing wet and Dougie was clad only in an undershirt. Hoffman hurried the boy into the home of Mrs. Robert J. Hornung at 132 Main street and she gave him a hot bath while Hoffman notified police. A few minutes later Mrs. Douglas S. Seator telephoned police to report Dougie missing and was told where to find him.

MOVES TO LIMIT U. S. PRESIDENT TO SINGLE TERM

Sen. O'Daniel Asks 6 Year Maximum.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel [D., Tex.] today introduced in the senate a resolution for an amendment to the Constitution which would limit the tenure of the President of the United States to one six year term.

The amendment also would change the rules regarding election of federal officials and would clip the wings of "lame ducks."

Proposed Curbs Listed.

Under the amendment, which was referred to the senate judiciary committee, these limitations would be set up:

1. The President's and Vice President's terms would be placed at six years, and no Vice President could be elected President, or no President elected Vice President.

2. Members of congress, senators, and representatives would be limited to an aggregate of six years' service in congress in either house, or in both.

Barriers to Civil Office.

3. No person could be appointed to civil office if he is serving, or has served during the last five years, in the congress, or as judge of any court under the authority of the United States. This section would not apply to appointment of judges to other judicial positions.

O'Daniel said such an amendment would bring about the election of men with "programs" to the Presidency and to the senate and house of representatives, rather than "politicians."

Present System Assailed.

"They shouldn't be allowed to stay in Washington too long," he said. "Democratic government cannot be maintained in America if the present system persists. We need a thoro housecleaning. When public officials stay in office too long they come to think of themselves as masters rather than servants."

NAVAL STOREKEEPER IS KILLED IN SALERNO ACTION, WIFE HEARS

Mrs. Elaine F. Standish, 8348 Drexel avenue, was advised yesterday by the navy department that her husband, Norman Carroll Standish, storekeeper second class, was killed in action on Sept. 11 during the battle of Salerno. Born 32 years ago in St. Paul, Minn., Mr. Standish was employed in Chicago in the general office of the Walgreen Drug company prior to his enlistment in the navy.

OVERSEAS VOTE O. K. IN ILLINOIS, HUGHES ASSERTS

Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes yesterday said that passage of the Lucas-Green senate bill would make it fairly practicable for Illinois soldiers and sailors to vote in 1944, but that trouble might be encountered in some other states.

Chief difficulty for Illinoisans overseas would be that only 30 days would be available for the round trip of the ballots. In view of the fact that air mail is proposed, Secretary Hughes believes that most of the votes would be returned in time.

Any attempt to allow more than 30 days for the absentee balloting would run into complications, he said, in view of laws establishing the series of dates for various steps in the process of getting candidates' names placed on the ballot. On the 1944 election calendar issued for Cook county, 26 dates are mentioned prior to the April 11 primary.

Under the Lucas-Green bill, after the ballot is made out, it would be inserted in an envelope bearing affirmation of his right to vote, attested by any commissioned or noncommissioned officer not below the rank of sergeant, and then returned to the United States war ballot commission, which would distribute them to the secretaries of state in the various states.

NAME SEN. MILLS TO HEAD ILLINOIS BIRTHDAY GROUP

State Sen. George D. Mills [R., Chicago] was elected chairman of the commission to arrange celebration of the 125th anniversary of Illinois as a state in a meeting yesterday in the state department of finance offices. The observance will be held Dec. 3 and the chief event will be a program at Vandalia, the state's second capital.

Rep. William G. Thon [R., Oak Park] was named secretary of the commission. Mills and Thon were named on a subcommittee to plan the Vandalia celebration and observances thruout the state. Other committee members are Sen. Norman G. Flagg [R., Moro], Rep. Albert Salisbury [D., Carthage], and Mrs. Gertrude Enelow, Chicago.

The anniversary commission is composed of five senators, five representatives, and five members appointed by Gov. Green.

RECALL TURKISH ENVOY.

LONDON, Oct. 15 [Friday]—[AP].—The Budapest radio, quoting a dispatch from Bucharest, said today the Turkish ambassador to Rumania had been recalled and left for Ankara.

DAY BY DAY ON THE FARM

The FARM by Ben Markland

Oct. 14, 1943.

SOYBEAN practices among northern Illinois farmers this season were considerably different than those followed last year. Soybeans are a valuable cash crop, and so many were lost due to last autumn and winter weather conditions that the smart farmers switched to new varieties and some changed their planting and harvesting procedures.

Last year the men on the Fox river farm planted Illini soybeans, a late maturing type. Before the beans were mature a series of autumn rains caused lodging, prevented proper harvesting of the beans, and made the fields so muddy that harvesting could not be efficiently done. By the time the fields were dry enough to be harvested the winter snows had fallen, and many fields never were combined. The men on the Fox river farm turned their cattle into one soybean field, and that was the extent of their harvest.

Grow Early Varieties.

This year the story was different. Most northern Illinois farmers deserted the late maturing types of soybeans and turned to early maturing varieties, such as Richlands and Mukden. When we were on the farm last week the soybean harvest was under way, so the job will be done before corn picking time and before bad weather places a serious barrier on the harvesting processes.

The men were combining a 20 acre field of Mukden soybeans. The current price for No. 2 beans is $1.75 to $1.88 per bushel, and the yield is running around 22 bushels to the acre, so the men expect a gross return of at least $750 from this 20 acre field. The main deduction from this gross will be a charge of $55 for harvesting costs, and 75 to 80 bushels of beans will be saved for 1944 seedings.

All for Human Consumption.

This year's entire soybean crop is going into foods for human consumption, mainly shortening, margarine, and salad oil. Sixty-three per cent of all soya products have been allocated to the military services, lend-lease, and the Red Cross. The other 27 per cent will be processed for civilian consumption. Soybean by-products will include soybean meal for hog feeding, but many farmers are worried that despite the greatly increased acreage of soybeans in the country this year there may be a shortage of such by-products.

It is probable that the government will urge farmers to plant even more soybeans next season, so most landowners are saving a portion of this year's crop to insure that they will have sufficient seed of the varieties they wish to plant next spring.

The GARDEN

CONTINUING the discussion of vegetables seldom grown in home gardens: Utah and Giant Pascal celery have been cultivated in the farm gardens for many years, and the gardeners there don't agree with the usual belief that celery requires complicated cultivating methods. They believe it is an entirely practical crop for home gardens because the culture can be simplified, a high yield is possible from a small space, celery is rarely subject to insect attack, the flavor of home grown celery is greatly superior to that bought on the market, and the plants can be harvested from the row until the Christmas season.

Gardeners who plan to grow an experimental crop of celery next season should make plans late this winter to start their own plants in a home coldframe, or order plants from their greenhouse. Most greenhousemen do not sell celery plants except upon order.

A simple method of blanching the stalks, used for a portion of the farm crop this season, is that of placing 4 inch tiles over the individual plants. The main portion of the crop has been blanched by natural hilling of loose soil around the plants. The celery crop is being harvested as needed, and the hearts and inner stalks are flavorful, crisp, and not stringy. With the soil serving as winter protection, the stalks can be dug until late December.

Thank you!...Thank you!...Thank you!

The men and women of our telephone team are doing their best to please you — in spite of serious war shortages that make perfect service difficult and at times impossible.

Through it all, we are getting many kind words from telephone users. Some complaints, too, of course — but surprisingly few compared to the scores of nice "thank-you" letters.

These letters come from war-plant officials and government agencies, from high-ranking officers of the Army and Navy, from railroads and newspapers and training schools, from the FBI and the USO and others. Some are from soldiers and sailors who have had special help from Illinois Bell operators or other telephone workers.

You may be sure that our people will continue to carry on with the same earnestness and efficiency. They know that fine telephone service here on the home front is one of the nation's vital war assets.

PLAN HEARINGS TO GET PUBLIC'S TRACTION VIEWS

Council Committee May Call Kelly, Harrington.

BY WILLIAM SHINNICK.

Preliminary work toward implementing Mayor Kelly's proposal that the city purchase and operate the major local transportation companies is to start Monday.

Ald. James R. Quinn, chairman of the council committee on local transportation, said he probably will ask the mayor and Philip Harrington, commissioner of subways and superhighways, to appear before the committee and expand on the message the mayor sent to the council on Wednesday.

"We have been trying to figure out the necessary procedure," Quinn said. "We may have hearings to get the views of citizens for and against municipal ownership. We may also go into the prices that will be asked for the properties."

Harris Touches on Price.

One price suggestion was made yesterday. It came from A. W. Harris, banker and chairman of a committee holding a large portion of the 72 million dollars of first mortgage surface lines bonds, which have paid interest regularly since 1907.

"Perhaps this is the time for the city to exercise the right to buy the surface lines, which it has under the 1907 ordinance, and in which the price to be paid was agreed upon," said Harris. "I would not be one to express views on that. However, as the fund accumulated toward that purpose—the traction fund—has been spent for other purposes, it will be necessary to raise the total amount some other way.

"Whether the city should embark in the transportation business is for the people to decide, assuming a way can be found to carry out purchase and operation. Financing transportation on estimates is not as easy as it used to be, especially estimates on earnings by elevated lines and subways."

Mayor Suggests Plan.

The mayor's proposal was that the elevated, which has lost money for many years, could be carried by the surface lines and bus lines, combined and relieved of taxation. The financing of the proposed company, the mayor held, could be done thru the sale of revenue certificates guaranteed only by the company earnings.

Mr. Harris would not elaborate on his statement, but it was assumed that he referred to the city having a contract for purchase at a price which has been kept up to date since 1907. This price now is about 170 million dollars. Bookkeeping methods used were specified in the 1907 franchise ordinance, which expired in 1926. The mayor indicated the purchase must be at a much lower price.

Surface Lines' Plan.

The surface ownership has pending in federal District court a petition to be allowed to reorganize, get out of receivership and spend nearly 30 million dollars for improvement of its own lines. In a merger this cash would be available for subway or elevated betterments.

Mayor Kelly said he had an "informal commitment" for financing from a nationally known investment house. The mayor's opposition to a separate street car reorganization is backed by the government, which has threatened to withhold further funds for subways unless there is unification.

SHOW EXTENDED THRU NAVY DAY; FEATURES ADDED

The free "Back the Attack" navy show in Tribune Square, which was to close Oct. 23, has been extended thru Navy day, Oct. 27. A variety of special features will mark the closing days. Today and tomorrow there will be demonstrations by coast guard fire boats in the river every hour on the hour from 3 to 10 p. m. The demonstrations began yesterday, and great streams of water arched up into the sunlight by day and into a battery of lights by night.

Tomorrow at 3 and again at 8 p. m., the marines will demonstrate their flashing precision drill and their skill at hand to hand combat. Sunday a 750 ton destroyer escort, a ship which was built upside down in the Bay City, Mich., yard of the Defoe Shipbuilding company, will be on view thru the afternoon and evening.

The navy show is sponsored by the treasury department in cooperation with THE TRIBUNE. Bonds and stamps may be purchased there. Hours are 10 a. m. to 10:30 p. m.

CHANGE CANAL ZONE COMMAND.

BALBOA, Canal Zone, Oct. 14 [AP].—Rear Adm. Harold C. Train assumed command of the 15th naval district [Canal Zone] today, succeeding Rear Adm. Clifford Van Hook, whose reassignment has not yet been announced. Adm. Train formerly was director of naval intelligence.

WBBM TO OFFER 2-HOUR SHOW ON THANKSGIVING

The second annual Thanksgiving day show paying tribute to America's fighting men will be broadcast from 3 to 5 p. m. on Nov. 25 over WBBM and the full Columbia network. Among the headliners signed to appear on this show are Elsie Janis, "Sweetheart of the A. E. F." during World War I.; Jose Sturbi, concert pianist; Alan Reed [Falstaff Openshaw]; George Burns and Gracie Allen, and, as host, Robert Young.

As last year, the program will originate in Hollywood, and will be followed a month later by a two hour Christmas show of the same character.

Crooner Frank Sinatra will be the subject of a discussion between two young Chicago Tribune copy girls on June Baker's Home Management program at 11:45 a. m. today on W-G-N. Marguerite Ratty describes Sinatra as "so much fluff," while her co-worker, Catherine Reilly, believes that the baritone's popularity will last "because he makes every female listener think that he is singing to her alone."

SENATE PASSES LEVEE DISTRICT DAMAGE BILL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—The senate passed today and sent to President Roosevelt for signature a bill introduced by Rep. Sid Simpson [R., Ill.] to pay $303,500 seepage and drainage damages to Illinois river levee districts. The bill previously had passed the house. The levee districts are in Jersey, Greene, Scott, and Tazewell counties. The compensation will be available, if the bill is signed, for the improvement of the various districts' facilities.

DENTIST'S HOME LOOTED.

Dr. Harry Hultgren, 1724 Bryn Mawr avenue, a dentist, told police yesterday that burglars entered his home Wednesday night and made off with two cameras, a wrist watch, and war stamps, the total value of which was $336.

PARKING IN LOOP FOR 45,000 AUTOS POST-WAR GOAL

Parking space for 45,000 automobiles in the loop and near-by districts after the war is contemplated by the Chicago plan commission, J. Howard Raftery, director of the commission's master plan division, told a city council subcommittee yesterday.

Facilities presently are available for 12,000 cars. Raftery said he hoped the additional space could be provided by private companies, thru razing obsolete buildings, but observed that it might be necessary for the city to acquire and operate parking lots.

He presented his views to the council subcommittee on parking, headed by Ald. Joseph S. Gillespie [29th].

SPECIAL SHOWUP TO AID VICTIMS OF CHECK GANG

40 Identify Six Women; Leader Spurns Food.

While victims yesterday streamed into the Stanton avenue police station to identify six women prisoners who have admitted obtaining more than $200,000 in the last six months in a worthless check racket, their alleged leader sat in a cell and refused to eat.

Forty persons identified the women yesterday. At a night showup 25 more identified one or more of the suspects. So many more are expected that detectives scheduled a special showup at 3 p. m. today in police headquarters.

Walter Pelka, 29 years old, a former printer, was named by the women as their ringleader who provided checks and identification and took most of the money obtained. Since his arrest Wednesday morning Pelka has refused to talk to detectives or to take food.

Women Pose as Unmarried.

The women held, all of whom said they are unmarried, are Agnes Corcoran, 19, and Alice Sampureanis, 23, both of 3500 Ellis avenue; Mary Engle, 27, and Grace Geiger, 25, of 6543 University avenue, and Geraldine Hunter, 23, and Donna Peay, 21, of 867 Oakwood boulevard.

Also in custody is Nick Chamales, 45, of 4943 Lake Park avenue, a bartender at 3501 Cottage Grove avenue. He is accused of referring Miss Geiger and Miss Engle to Pelka when they came here several months ago from Buffalo, N. Y., and told Chamales they were looking for work.

These two women told Detective Edward Smith yesterday that they had worked for Pelka six weeks, during which time they cashed checks totaling about $40,000 and received $500 each from him for their efforts. Last night they told Lt. Andrew Aitken that they received between $1,500 and $2,000 each.

$350 Loan Still Unpaid.

Miss Geiger said Pelka once borrowed $350 from her to get a friend out of jail, and never paid it back.

"We were broke when we came here," Miss Engle explained. "It was the easiest way to make money." Both girls said they quit Pelka in July and went to work in a war plant.

Smith said the women usually dressed in slacks and posed as factory employes when they cashed the checks. Often they cashed two checks in one place, asserting one was for their regular pay and the other for a week's vacation. Most of the checks were cashed in currency exchanges, department stores, and small business places.

ROUND-THE-CLOCK AIR RAIDS over Germany and South Pacific . . . Every time you read this headline in your newspaper, remember that United Nations war planes are vastly improved war weapons because their tanks are filled with 100 octane gasoline from the United States.

To say that this super-fuel is equivalent to a fifth engine in every four-engine bomber is actually *under*stating the facts! Compared with German aviation fuel of 87 octane, it improves performance much more than 25 per cent; how much more, is a military secret.

Long peacetime research for new and better things from petroleum gases, as well as from petroleum, prepared Phillips for an important role in wartime production. Phillips Petroleum Company was among the first to take 100 octane gasoline . . . as well as butadiene for synthetic rubber . . . out of the laboratory and into mass production.

Twenty-four hours a day, our best efforts are devoted to the production of these and other synthetic chemicals which will bring closer that great day when once again you can say "Fill 'er up" . . . and the service man will crank into your tank a new and amazingly improved Phillips gasoline.

Until then, every time you see the Phillips 66 Shield, let it remind you that Phillips refineries in addition to producing gasolines, lubricants, fuel oils, are also gigantic chemical plants pouring out weapons for victory.

Concert Today to Be Followed by Many Teas

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE first Friday afternoon symphony concert today will be followed by so many teas that music lovers will be scattering in all directions when they leave Orchestra Hall, just as they did in the height of pre-war symphony seasons. There is one important difference, however, and that is the part that food rationing is playing in after-concert entertaining.

"How can we tactfully suggest that our guests not eat so much?" wailed the head of a well known Chicago organization at a meeting at the Arts club where she and members of her group were discussing plans for a number of social gatherings this winter. "I could write a story about pouring at teas," said another, who often is found behind the tea or coffee urn at smart clubs. "I know the big eaters by heart."

Still another woman told of a tea planned by a committee on which she serves to which guests came a half hour early and enjoyed themselves to such an extent that there were no refreshments left for the guest of honor and receiving line. The caterers had supplied the usual amount of sandwiches, and the embarrassed committee found itself unable to provide more.

There's no doubt that today's tea tables will look bountifully spread, whatever the dearth of replacements in the pantry. Members of the Cliff Dwellers will repair to their headquarters in the Orchestra Hall building to meet Désiré Defauw, new conductor of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, following the program. Mr. Defauw has another party on his calendar today, a cocktail party Mrs. Welch Dickinson is giving for him and Mrs. Defauw, and for Hans Lange, associate conductor, and his wife.

The Cordon is giving a tea today, too, with Lola Fletcher as guest artist, and the English-Speaking union is giving the first of a series of after-symphony parties in its headquarters in North Michigan avenue.

Wedding News.

There will be many who will leave Orchestra hall a little early today to go to St. Chrysostom's church, where at 4:30 p. m. Miss Eleanor Cochran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis Cochran, is to be married to Ensign Louis Lee Hemingway Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hemingway of New Haven, Conn. Some of the music that will be heard before the lovely young dark haired bride comes down the aisle was composed by the bridegroom, who was a member of the Yale Whiffenpoofs during his college days, and dedicated to his bride.

Altho the Hemingway-Cochran wedding was arranged with much of the haste that accompanies war time weddings, it will seem nevertheless as unhurried and detailed as if the preparations had taken weeks. Some old wooden candelabras in the form of crosses that seldom are used in the church have been brought out and placed at every third pew and draped in smilax. Their three candles each and the light from the altar candles will provide the only illumination.

The bride will wear the beautiful rose point lace veil that belonged to Mrs. W. Press Hodgkins' great-

Teachers of the northeast Illinois division of the Illinois Education association meet in Aurora today. More than 2,000 will attend sessions which will last thru the day. There will be no school in the district comprising Kane, Kendall, McHenry, and Will counties. Among the speakers will be Ely Culbertson.

Defauw Pays Stock Tribute on First Night

Concert by the Chicago Symphony orchestra, Désiré Defauw conducting. Presented at Orchestra hall Thursday evening, Oct. 14, 1943. The program:
Concerto Grosso, D minor, for string orchestra ........ Handel
Symphony No. 5, C minor ....... Beethoven
String Quintet in C major, Opus 163 ........ Schubert
[Transcribed for orchestra by Frederick Stock.]
[First performance.]
Rondo, "Till Eulenspiegel's Merry Pranks" ........ Strauss

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

The Chicago Symphony orchestra entered its 53d season and the third phase of its career at Orchestra hall last night when Désiré Defauw, the new musical director and conductor, took formal charge of its destiny, and generously devoted the place of honor on his program to the last composition of his beloved predecessor, Frederick Stock, who died last Oct. 20. This was Mr. Stock's orchestration of Schubert's superb Quintet for Strings, an elaborate and often striking treatment, which failed on first hearing to measure up to some of his major successes in transcription, notably the Tschaikowsky Trio.

Mr. Stock was a sick man when he wrote this score, and, no doubt, he would have made some changes had he lived. The true Schubert quality is most richly retained in the adagio, particularly in the solo for violin so beautifully played by John Weicher. The first movement has something of the sound of a Tschaikowsky ballet, while the scherzo takes on an elephantine gayety reminiscent of Beethoven, with a touch of Bach splendor in the trio, and the work ends on an almost fluffy note that evokes memories of Offenbach. It was generally well played, but the performance lacked the acerbity, the sometimes biting wit with which Mr. Stock invariably pricked the overblown bubble of sentimentality. And it kept reminding me that Leonide Massine once told me he would like to do a ballet to precisely this quintet. Here, at least in embryo, is his score.

Mr. Defauw opened his regime to a packed house and a chuckling audience, amused at its mistake in confusing the conductor with the librarian, Mr. Boos, who came out to check on a score. But the silver crested little Belgian arrived at last, took his baton from the concertmaster, and embarked on Handel's Concerto Grosso [the 10th, in D minor], with Mr. Weicher, Franz Polesny, and Edmund Kurtz as accomplished soloists, following it with Beethoven's Fifth symphony.

Neither performance had the complete authority, the biting brilliance of tonal and structural lucidity, but no doubt some indecision was due to the presence in the orchestra of 11 new players, some of them in crucial positions. The Handel was radiant in solo performance, and at times it took on some of the plasticity Mr. Defauw obviously intended to draw from his huge instrument. The Beethoven, unaccountably, was far more sentimental than the crisp performance that was Mr. Defauw's major success at Ravinia last summer. He lingered long over the crescendo that introduces the finale, almost completely losing the line that acts as bridge to the listening ear. As an experimental performance, some of it was interesting and some of it was dull, but none of it achieved the exhilaration that comes from listening to Beethoven magnificently played.

The concert ended with Strauss' "Till Eulenspiegel," which came too late in a long concert to be heard by a victim of war time deadlines.

Chicago Society Auxiliary Has Benefit Party Tonight

To raise money for war work and social welfare activities, the Chicago Society auxiliary will give its annual benefit party at 8 o'clock tonight at the La Salle hotel. Mrs. Paul B. Czaja and Mrs. Edward Warszewski are chairman and cochairman, respectively, for the event. The auxiliary's scholarship department recently gave its annual award to a Chicago girl of Polish parentage, and the organization has alloted $100 for Polish refugee children in London and Iran.

New Yorker Winner in Carnegie Institute Exhibit of Paintings

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP).—Wayman Adams of New York City, one of America's foremost portrait and figure painters, tonight was announced as winner of the $1,000 first prize in the 1943 Carnegie institute exhibition for his painting, "Gregor Piatigorsky."

Other winners in the exhibition of contemporary American painting—a war time outgrowth of the famous Carnegie Internationals—included Robert Gwathmey of New York City, who won second prize of $700 for his painting "Hoeing," and John Rogers Cox of Terre Haute, Ind., who won the $500 third prize for his canvas, "White Cloud."

Paintings by 304 American artists, all of them living except one, were presented in the show, which opened tonight and runs until Dec. 2. Marsden Hartley died Sept. 2, after his painting had been invited.

Adams, the first prize winner, was born in Muncie, Ind., in 1883.

53d Symphony Season Begins Conservatively

BY ELEANOR PAGE.

Any one who sought in the opening of the Chicago Symphony orchestra's 53d season last night in Orchestra hall a first night that might rival the traditionally glamorous opening of grand opera, which is denied to Chicagoans this year at least, was doomed to disappointment.

The ultra-conservative orchestra audience turned out in even more conservative dress than usual, due to war time conditions, and there was none of the flurry and excitement that goes with an opera opening. Kleig lights and ballyhoo hardly were expected, but without an opera season there were some hopes of a fairly brilliant turnout to welcome the orchestra and its new conductor, Désiré Defauw.

From all indications, a short black dress and a fur jacket will be standard evening dress at similar functions this winter, for that is what Chicago's smartest women were wearing last night—with the exception of a handful who sat in boxes and who wore long gowns. Their masculine companions almost without exception were in business suits. Edward L. Ryerson, president of the Orchestral association, was one of half a dozen men in black tie.

Also, as opposed to opera audiences, last night's was extremely camera shy. "Gee, what is this, a bookie raid?" exclaimed an exasperated photographer whose prospective subjects buried their faces behind pocketbooks or muffs, or ducked hurriedly when they saw the camera. "I feel like I'm at the state's attorney's office" he complained.

There was definite luster in some of the center boxes, however, where an occasional orchid or precious jewel flashed in the semi-dark. Three loyal symphony supporters, Mrs. Charles H. Swift, Mrs. Percy B. Eckhart, and Mrs. George Voevodsky, occupied front chairs in one box. Holding court in the center box, as guests of the orchestra, were Mrs. Frederick Stock, widow of the beloved Dr. Stock, longtime conductor of the symphony, and her daugh-

Carroll Forum Opens Seventh Season Sunday

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The seventh season of the Charles Carroll forum will open at 3:30 p. m. Sunday at the Morrison hotel, and the 30th season of the North Shore Sunday Evening club will open at New Trier High school, Winnetka, Sunday night, Oct. 24. Each of these noteworthy forums has called speakers of world eminence before their memberships.

The Rev. Dr. James A. Magner, assistant secretary and treasurer of Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C., founder and executive secretary of the Carroll forum, will open its series and will speak on "Inter-American Relations and the War." Father Magner is widely noted for his knowledge of South and Central American affairs.

Other Carroll speakers during the fall and winter will include Prince Otto of Austria; Sister M. Madeleva, C. S. C., of St. Mary's college, Notre Dame, Ind.; Henry C. Wolfe, author and correspondent; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. George W. Johnson of Catholic University of America; Alexander Kerensky, Menshevist revolutionary leader of Russia, and Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch.

The opening North Shore club program will be given by the Great Lakes chorus of 200 voices. Succeeding programs will present Burton Holmes, travel lecturer; Robert M. Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago; Norman Thomas, Socialist leader, and Sid Hossain, descendant of the prophet Mohammed.

Preparation for the observance of Mission Sunday, Oct. 24, is being made by the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, under the leadership of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. James J. Horsburgh, diocesan director. Tomorrow afternoon 120 children from parochial schools will rehearse their procession, garbed in the habits of the various missionary orders of the Catholic church.

The observance on Mission Sunday afternoon will be marked by a sermon on missions by Archbishop Stritch, and prayers for the world-wide work of the Catholic church will be led by Msgr. Horsburgh. Music for the service will be sung by the Cathedral choristers, under the direction of the Rev. Charles Meter.

Crocheted Chair Set

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Filet crochet offers a perfect background for numerous motifs, and animals are among the favorites. The central motif in this chair set is a cat. Floral motifs are worked into the arm rests with the same motif repeated in the two corners of the back rest. White mercerized crochet cotton furnishes an ideal medium for this group.

For the crocheted filet chair set with the cat motif, No. 957, send 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost, to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Religious News Notes

Century old Second Presbyterian church, Michigan avenue and 20th street, is inviting its city-wide congregation to dinner following each Sunday morning service, with service men served free and a nominal charge for others. Dr. William Clyde Howard, pastor, said the experiment is a war time measure to round out a full Sunday program. After the meal, the diners may listen to the radio or read the Sunday papers, magazines, and books, or play games in the game room. At 4 p. m. Dr. Edward Eigenschenk, organist, and Ruth Slater, contralto, will offer a concert followed by tea at 5. . . . Bishop Wallace E. Conkling, of the Episcopal diocese, will meet with members of vestries and finance committees of the northern deanery of the diocese Sunday at St. Luke's church, Dixon. It will be the first of a series of such meetings covering all the deaneries. . . . First Baptist church, Decatur, in celebrating its centennial will climax the observance as host to the Illinois Baptist convention, opening Sunday. Dr. Ralph Schell, executive secretary of the convention, has announced his resignation to become pastor of the Morgan Park Baptist church.

The council of the Emmanuel Lutheran church, 1901 South 19th avenue, Maywood, is inviting the congregation and other friends of the Rev. Dr. John M. grandmother. She will be attended by her sister, Miss Nancy Cochran, as maid of honor, and by the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Donald Keefe of Key West, Fla., Miss Shirley Hopkins, Miss Diana Hill, Miss Dudley Winston, Miss Anne Ryerson, and Miss Lee Cudahy.

A reception at the Casino club, of which the bride's mother is president, will follow the ceremony. Ensign Hemingway's parents are here for the wedding, but the bride's grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Murray Peabody Brush, and Mrs. Cochran's godfather, Grant Mitchell, were unable to obtain transportation from Ojai, Cal. The bride's great aunt, Mrs. Daniel Hebard, may arrive from Philadelphia today.

Ensign Robert Fitzwilliam will be best man, and the ushers will include a number of fellow navy officers who are stationed here and Sgt. Henry Faurot III., W. France Anderson Jr., J. Gardner Fabian, and Pvt. David Baldwin. Ensign Hemingway and his bride will go east for a two week wedding trip and then will be at home in Cambridge, Mass., for two months.

Instead of serving as a bridesmaid at the marriage of Miss Roberta Bosworth to Lt. [j. g.] E. Gardner Counselman, tomorrow in Highland Park, Miss Beverly Roach will be a bride herself. From Norfolk, Va., Lt. [j. g.] Frederick Kent Blatchford sent word that he had received a leave of a few days, so his pretty blonde fiancée, her mother, Mrs. Edward A. Roach of Highland Park; her younger sister, Patsy, and their grandfather, John J. Cleary, packed up and drove east on Wednesday.

Lt. Blatchford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Blatchford, are arriving there from Long Beach, Ind., tonight in time for the bridal dinner at the Monticello hotel in Norfolk. After a few days at the Virginia Hot Springs, Lt. Blatchford and his bride will return to the apartment they have taken in Norfolk.

Here and There.

The heroine of the local Red Cross volunteer nurses' aid corps is Mrs. DeWitt Buchanan Jr., whose quick thinking in a train accident last Friday afternoon in Winnetka helped in saving the life of the victim. Seated in the rear coach on her way home to Lake Forest from a day's work at the Cook County hospital, Mrs. Buchanan looked back when the train made an unexpected second stop at the station, and saw a man who had been caught accidentally under the wheels, causing the loss of a leg. She quickly got out to go to his assistance. Sending a couple of naval officers to look for a stick, she made a tourniquet out of one of her nurses' aid stockings, and stemmed the flow of blood until an ambulance arrived to take the man to a hospital. Mrs. Buchanan's husband is a junior grade lieutenant in the navy who has been serving overseas for nearly a year. She devotes three days a week to volunteer work at Cook County hospital.

Two Fashions for Girls

Both these patterns are for the girl in your family. One fashions a nightgown with long sleeves which is especially attractive in those gayly sprigged cotton flannels. The other design creates a frock with contrasting collar and sleeve bands, and with lace outlining the bodice detail.

Style No. 2699 is designed for sizes 6 to 14. Size 8 requires 3¼ yards of 35 inch material.

Style No. 2786 is designed for sizes 6 to 14. Size 8 requires 2 1-6 yards of 35 or 39 inch material, with ⅝ yard contrasting and 1¼ yards of lace or ruffling.

Each pattern is 10 cents, plus 2 cents for mailing.

Order Clotilde patterns from Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Annex, NEW YORK CITY. Print name and address; state size. Each pattern is 10 cents, plus 2 cents for mailing. The pattern book is 15 cents, 10 cents if ordered with pattern.

Thru the Looking Glass

The other day we watched a young woman, who has a livid birthmark, uncover the facial blemish and then in a few swift moments camouflage it with a cream that has proved a blessing not only to her but to many others similarly marked. She's the representative here for the concern manufacturing the product and has practically a missionary's zeal about her work. And when we saw what can be done with it we weren't surprised at her enthusiasm. The cream works like magic and for some time now has done wonders in reëstablishing self-confidence in persons who have marks that trouble them.

The opaque cream comes in several shades and is applied rather heavily according to the intensity of the mark to be covered. It's to be blended well along the edges to fade into the natural skin tones and then patted over with powder. The cream is available at cosmetic counters, and while it doesn't take much dexterity to do a perfect piece of work with it, those who would like to have help in learning how to apply it most effectively can look up this young woman and obtain her personal assistance. Men as well as women will want to consult her, for there is a version of the product especially for them.

The cream may also be had in stick form and is a valuable aid in concealing the little blemishes that most every one is troubled with now and then. Such blemishes have a way of popping out at the most inopportune times, usually just when we want to look our best. With the help of the little stick they can be camouflaged quite effectively.

ter, Mrs. Alfred Wolfe. They were in handsome black evening gowns and furred evening wraps. Near them were Mrs. William Sherman Hay, Mrs. Telfer MacArthur, head of the woman's committee of the symphony, whose silver fox wrap was decked in orchids; the Thomas I. Underwoods and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graves. These women were in formal gowns, also.

Mrs. Defauw, with a delicate diamond tiara on her head and clad in cloth of silver, was among the Ryersons' guests. The white carnations that the orchestra members were wearing were the gifts of Mrs. Ryerson. Mrs. Thomas Furness' young guests were divided between street and evening dress, with Miss Eunice Hale in a long gown, and Mrs. Daggett Harvey and Miss Elizabeth Hubbard in street dress.

The short frock is practical in these times when so many young women go unescorted, and Miss Lucia Winston and Miss Joan Hixon were a duo smartly and appropriately turned out in black short frocks, little skull caps, and furs. Mrs. Roger Faherty, who returned from New York for the opening, and Mrs. Welch Dickinson were others of the "dressy informal" school, Mrs. Ernest A. Hamill II., Mrs. Walter Paepcke, and Mrs. John R. Winterbotham created a stir when they arrived in glowing evening gowns; Mrs. Rudolph Ganz and Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed were in quiet black gowns and fox jackets. Mrs. Thomas Hinde, Miss Sarah Hinde, Mrs. Albert F. Madlener Jr., Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank, Arthur G. Cable, William Darrow, Miss Alice Roullier, Capt. and Mrs. Francis R. Stanton, who have returned to Chicago to live; the junior Edward R. Bacons, their daughter, Miss Mary Alice Bacon, and Miss Barbara McNulty were other loyal symphony-goers in the capacity audience. Men in uniform again are being admitted to concerts for 30 cents, and there was a generous sprinkling of sailor suits and khaki uniforms last night.

Mrs. E. C. Wilbur, 215 North Broad, Elkhorn, Wis.—I have found it a help to use my vegetable brush to clean a sieve or grater—holding it under running water.

Mrs. Berton B., Milwaukee, Wis.—When freezing weather comes and you want to keep your clothespins from freezing to your garments give them this treatment: Make a strong solution of salt water and give them a good boiling in it just before the first cold spell. Usually one such treatment will last the winter, but if it doesn't you can repeat later on.

Mrs. Tom F., Chicago—I have done a lot of the window and wall washing around our house this last year—and woodwork too—and I was forever misplacing my drying cloth and spending good time hunting for it. Now I tie a knot in one end of it and stick it in my apron pocket. It "stays put" this way.

Versatile Beets Win New Spot on Bargain List

BY MARY MEADE.

Beets have stepped away from the high priced vegetable counter recently to win first place on the shopping list as a bargain item. And rightfully they deserve a place at the top of the list, for every one knows that plain, buttered beets are a good addition to any meal, and, flavored with honey or dressed up with a spicy sauce, they're something to remember.

Beets can vie for honors in the salad realm, too, for their bright red color alone is enough to tempt the palate. To take full advantage of the versatility of this economical root vegetable, you'll want to pickle it to save points and pennies in the future.

Cook the beets the speedy way, if you like, by peeling them, then cutting them into cubes or slices. Their complexions won't fade if the water is permitted to evaporate during cooking so that lost color will be reabsorbed.

Don't discard the beet tops, either, for they'll serve as greens for another meal. Wash the tops thoroly and cook in only the water which clings to the leaves. Add salt, butter, and other seasonings if desired and the greens are ready for the table.

Honey Buttered Beets.
[Serves six.]

3 cups diced, cooked beets
½ cup beet juice
½ cup water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 teaspoon cornstarch
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons honey
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Let beets, beet juice, and water come to a boil. Mix lemon juice and vinegar and blend with a paste made from the cornstarch, salt, and honey. Stir into the hot beets and simmer for five minutes, stirring frequently. Add butter and serve hot.

Deviled Beets.
[Serves six.]

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons horseradish or minced onion
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
2 teaspoons sugar
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
[illegible] cups cooked, sliced beets

Heat butter, vinegar, horseradish, seasonings, and sugar and pour over the hot, cooked beets. Serve at once.

Jellied Beet Salad.
[Serves six.]

1 tablespoon plain gelatin
¼ cup cold water
¾ cup boiling water
½ cup vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar
1½ cups diced, cooked beets
1 green pepper, diced
1 cup chopped raw cabbage
2 tablespoons grated horseradish

Soften gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes. Dissolve in boiling water. Add vinegar, salt, and sugar. Chill mixture until it begins to thicken. Add remaining ingredients and pour into one large or six small molds. Chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce or other greens and top with mayonnaise.

Pickled Beets.
Small, cooked beets [about 3 quarts]

2 cups cider winegar
2 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
[illegible] cups sugar
1 tablespoon white mustard seed
1 teaspoon whole allspice
1 tablespoon broken stick cinnamon
1 teaspoon whole cloves

Cook and skin beets. Make a sirup by combining vinegar, water, salt, sugar, and spices which have been tied in a muslin bag. Boil for 5 minutes. Add beets and simmer for 15 minutes. Remove spice bag and pack beets and liquid into clean jars and seal. [The beets may be packed into jars without further cooking in pickle sirup if desired. In this case, pour the boiling sirup over them and seal as usual.]

Record Potato Crop Requires Storage in Homes of Consumers

Because of an all-time high record crop of Irish potatoes the cooperation of consumers is needed vitally if the crop is to be fully utilized and food waste prevented. Storage is a major problem in handling the crop, for space must be found outside the producing areas for about 50 million bushels of potatoes. Homemakers can help this situation tremendously by storing a bushel or more to get the crop under cover before the arrival of severe weather.

Since fall potatoes are relatively easy to keep, home storage is a thrifty practice for any family with suitable facilities. Potatoes may be purchased beyond present needs during harvest time and supplies kept for future use. Keep the potatoes in a place where the temperature stays between 40 and 60 degrees. [Freezing at a temperature below 40 degrees will cause spoilage.] A cellar, closet, back porch, or garage will do. Potatoes should be kept in a dark place for they will turn greenish in color and become bitter in taste in the presence of light. A cloth or paper covering, or a bag may be used to shut out the light.

Inspect the potatoes carefully and remove any decayed ones before storing. Badly bruised or cracked potatoes should be segregated and used first, since they will not keep successfully.

Homemakers can help the present situation, too, by giving potatoes a prominent place in regular menu plans. Important food values lie under and within the jacket of the Irish potato—vitamin C, calcium, protein, phosphorous, iron, thiamin, riboflavine, and vitamin A, and their high caloric count makes them good energy providers. These precious nutrients can be utilized if the potatoes are baked or boiled in their jackets and their brown skins eaten. If they must be pared, make the paring thin, and do it just before cooking. Don't soak them or minerals and vitamins will be lost. Use the liquid in which pared potatoes are cooked, for it contains food values, too.

Try Dutch Potato Soup on a Day That Is Cold

Dutch potato soup will hit the spot on a cold day. Fry three slices bacon, chopped; add six medium potatoes, cooked and diced; two onions, chopped fine; two cups water, and simmer a few minutes, or until potatoes are tender. Add two cups milk and cook five minutes longer. Season and sprinkle with two tablespoons chopped parsley. Serves four to six.

Orange Supply Is Too Light, Retailers Find

Oranges are scarce on the Chicago retail market at this time because of unusually heavy civilian consumption plus demands of lend-lease and military forces and adverse weather conditions in some producing areas. This was established yesterday by a survey of wholesalers, government agencies and representatives of growers.

Growers and wholesalers are "proportioning" supplies of oranges to customers on the basis of purchases a year ago. This "pro-rating" was considered the only fair method of distributing the extremely light supply for this season of the year. The main source of supply at this time is the California crop of Valencia oranges.

This year the Valencia crop in California was larger than usual. An excessively large demand, attributed to consumers, who were limited in purchases of rationed food, purchases of fresh fruit by military forces, and orders to set aside 20 per cent for processing for lend-lease and overseas shipment to the military, reduced the available fruit.

Supplies have been light for several months, but became extremely short this week because weather conditions in Florida and Texas have affected shipments from these areas which were expected to take up the slack.

Florida oranges, held up by rains which prevented packing, are expected to become available next week. In Texas picking has been held up also by bad weather. California navels are expected to be on the market around Nov. 1, with large supplies coming in from Nov. 20 to Dec. 1.

Out of a crop of about 60,000 California Valencias, some 9,536 cars have gone to processors making orange concentrate for the government for lend-lease and overseas shipment, growers said. It is estimated that more than 8 per cent more, or about 3,500 cars, have gone to military forces in this country.

Lettuce Can Be Used as a Vegetable, Too

Lettuce can be served as a vegetable as well as a salad green, by shredding the leaves coarsely and cooking them in 2 tablespoons margarine in a covered pan for about 10 minutes. Or quarter a head of lettuce, cook like cabbage, and serve with cream sauce topped with toasted crumbs.

Good Morning!

"Little Caesar" is Little Pain-in-the Neck during a large part of this movie's action. . . . Not to you, but to his buddies aboard the destroyer John Paul Jones, which has been built to take the place of the old ship of like name, and on which he had served as chief boatswain's mate. . . .

WHY? Well—this is the story:

Steve Boleslavski, better known as "Boley," works as a welder on the new ship—and is in everybody's hair. He wants this Jones to be perfection and is here, there, and everywhere, yelling his head off in protest over this, that, and t'other.

The men don't know what's eating the little man till the truth comes out. Boley had loved the old Jones and yearns to feel that "she—don't you call her IT—" is reincarnated in the job at hand. . . . And does he get a thrill over the fact that her captain, Lt. Comdr. Clark, is the same common seaman whom he, Boley, had heckled into taking examinations for Annapolis!

The ship is launched. . . . Boley rejoins the navy and, thru finangalin, again lands the chief boatswain's job—replacing Mickey Donohue, a younger and more capable man—who is in love with Boley's daughter. . . . Quite naturally Mickey resents the situation—but he's a right guy. . . .

On her test cruises the Jones—WHY I don't know—no saboteurs midwifed her building—piles up a lamentable record. . . . She's always limping back to port for repairs. At last she's demoted to mail carrier. Her crew ask for transfers. . . . Boley makes them think better of it. . . . Then, in an unexpected and stirring sea battle, the John Paul Jones does credit to a great name and—go on with the picture from here.

Mr. Robinson is sincere and lovable and maddening as Steve. . . . Glenn Ford is a forceful and likable Donohue. . . . Regis Toomey plays Lt. Comdr. Clark quietly and convincingly, and Marguerite Chapman is a lovely heroine. Thank Edgar Buchanan, Leo Gorcey, and Ed Brophy for most of the laughs.

"The Destroyer" was going over big at Woods' the day I was there.

See you tomorrow.

Chicagoans Among Winners in Bridge Tourney's Opening

Chicago bridge players took some of the honors in the first event of the All-America bridge championships which opened Wednesday night at the Morrison hotel. Competing against 70 pairs, Mrs. W. O. Bennett of Cincinnati, O., and Dr. S. Manheimer of Chicago were first in the mixed event. Mrs. Charles H. Barnes and Albert F. Meyer of Chicago were second, and Mrs. Madeline Anderson of Milwaukee and Syd J. Heinrich of Detroit, Mich., were third.

The first sessions of the women's pair and masters' individual events were played yesterday afternoon and conclude this afternoon. Last night, the qualifying session of the nonmasters' individual was played, with the finals tonight. The team of four game also opened last night and concludes tonight. Tomorrow and Sunday are given over to the four session open pair championship.

Miss Hope Chamberlin, newly appointed publicity representative for the U. S. O. in regions five and six, which embrace six states.

Miss Hope Chamberlin, public information director for the U. S. O. in the Chicago area since last January, has been appointed publicity representative for U. S. O. regions 5 and 6, according to I. B. Rhodes, regional executive.

Miss Chamberlin's new duties will cover six states—Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Michigan, and Wisconsin—and will consist chiefly of gathering, distributing, and interpreting information concerning all U. S. O. activities. Early next month she will accompany Mrs. Dwight Morrow, national chairman for volunteer service, on a tour of state conferences.

Miss Chamberlin, who was assistant publicity director at MacFarland, Aveyard & Co. before joining the U. S. O. staff, is a graduate of Oregon State college and received an M. S. J. degree from Northwestern university in 1939. She is president of the Chicago Alumnae association of Theta Sigma Phi, national professional society for women in journalism, and a member of the Chicago Publicity club and the local Gamma Phi Beta sorority alumnae group.

Succeeding Miss Chamberlin in the Chicago area is Miss Norma Schuelke, according to Jeffery R. Short, U. S. O. president. Miss Schuelke is a graduate of the University of Missouri school of journalism and also a member of Theta Sigma Phi. In her new job she will direct public relations for the 12 U. S. O. clubs and six troops-in-transit lounges in Chicago and north shore towns.

The first anniversary of the organization of the junior hostesses who serve at the USO club in Waukegan will be held tomorrow night in the clubrooms, 133 Belvidere street. There are more than 200 members in the group, according to Miss Helen E. Elsinger, associate director of the club.

During the intermission, diplomas will be awarded to those girls who have completed the second training course for junior hostesses. The course, which consists of four lectures, is a "must" for young women who wish to become members of the GSO [Girls' Service organization]. Phyllis Edholm is general chairman of the party, and Dorothy Crooks heads the GSO.

The Chicago unit of the Women's Overseas league will hold its monthly meeting at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the clubrooms of the Alliance Francaise, 410 South Michigan avenue. Miss Celia M. Howard is president of the local group, and Miss Sara Frances Jones is national president, with headquarters at 29 South La Salle street.

League members are women who served overseas as nurses and other war workers in the first World war. Any woman who had overseas duty at that time and has an honorable discharge from the organization with which she served is eligible for membership. Mrs. Ellen M. Kelley, 2229 North Leamington avenue, Berkshire 7564, is membership chairman.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1943: by Ely Culbertson.]

It is one thing to lead partner's suit under normal conditions, but it is quite another thing to make that lead when his bid may well have been influenced by the state of the score. For example:

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.
North-South 70 part-score.

NORTH
♠ 7 4 3 2
♥ 10 7 4
♦ Q 8 5 2

WEST
♠ Q 6 5
♥ J 6 3 2
♦ J 10 9
♣ K 8 5

EAST
♥ K 8 5
♦ K 7 4
♣ J 10 7 4 3 2

SOUTH
♠ K J 10 9 8
♥ A Q 9
♦ A 6 3
♣ A Q

The bidding:

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 spade | Pass | Pass | 2 clubs |
| Double | Pass | 2 spades | Pass |
| Pass | Pass | | |

West, a player who makes a fetish of such so-called rules as "leading your partner's suit," woodenly opened the club king, and after that successful defense was out of the question. Declarer won, cashed his other club trick, and led a low spade. East, on lead with the blank ace, made the best return of a low heart. Declarer finessed the queen and thereafter had to concede only one more trump trick, two diamonds, and a heart, losing in all five tricks and thereby fulfilling his contract.

Under normal circumstances, the opening lead would not have been bad, but West should have realized that these were not normal circumstances. His partner's two club bid had been made in the face of an adverse score of 70 points. In other words, South's one spade bid, if undisturbed, would be enough for game and rubber. Thus it was reasonable to assume that East's bid was made under pressure, hence West had no right to count on high clubs, not even the queen, in his partner's hand. If West had not had another lead available which promised safety, he would have been justified in opening a club, but he did have a safe lead, namely, the diamond jack. In cases of this type, the soundest philosophy is to disregard partner's bid [if made under pressure] and to select an opening lead on the basis of no bidding from partner.

Obviously, if West had "used his head" and made the normal, logical lead of the diamond jack, the contract would have been defeated.

Wise Parents Do Not Hurry the Children

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"My 3 year old son is so hard to manage because he is so slow. When he began to creep and then to toddle it was really comical to watch his easy going movements, but now I wish I had hustled him a bit then. He might have been able to help himself more now in regular routine things.

"He is so slow he gets on my nerves when I'm busy and in a hurry. Spanking and scolding just make him worse," writes a mother.

As I've said so often, it isn't difficult to manage these little girls and boys, if we understand them.

A large proportion of the trouble parents have in training their small children is due to the fact that they don't realize two things:

First, that a small child's sense of time, or perhaps I should say his relation to time, is entirely different from a grown person's.

Second, that little children's response to orders or directions coming from outside themselves is usually slow. It takes time for a request or direction to sink in and then to be translated into action.

The mother who senses these facts will see why her attempts to hurry her young children are so disastrous. She will allow plenty of time for all routine actions which have not yet become automatic, like the washing of hands and face before eating and so on. She won't try to hurry her little son, who is just learning to undress himself, nor will she spank or nag into a faster tempo this same little fellow who, later on, is learning to lace his shoes or button his clothes. She will, instead, give her small child both time and peace in which to learn to help himself. Make time your ally, instead of haste.

The Standard Oil company, in sending gifts to employes overseas, is taking note of the girls in service as well as the men. Cold cream is substituted for masculine items in the parcel when the package goes to a woman. The greeting reads: "To you who entered the armed forces from a job with Standard Oil Company of Indiana this package is a Christmas gift from your company. It is also something more: a symbol of the fact that you are much in the thoughts and good wishes of us who remain at work on the home front." That suggests an idea: What is the best company message inclosed with Christmas packages this year? What did your company send? . . . The British ministry of labor contends that four-fifths of all industrial jobs can be performed by women. In Canada today 80 per cent of the workers on airplane instruments are women. . . . Sequel.

Here is something which, in my opinion, matches the story of the girl who took care of her roommate so faithfully. In a hotel where we were living we had the services of a maid who had come from Scotland. Her parents were old and she had been saving for years to go home. Just as she had accumulated the necessary sum of money for the trip a friend of hers was taken ill and had to have an operation. Without hesitation, the maid handed over her savings to pay expenses.

Eventually she reaped a reward for her kindness as she was left some money by a guest in the hotel who died. The name of the Scotch maid was Joan Kyles.

Popular Color Duo, Black and White, Is Back

BY REA SEEGER

The most definite contrast in fashion is the dramatic combination of soot black with snow white. You'll see this black with white featured in a superb showing of late fall and winter clothes in one Chicago store. The display is well worth a trip to town, just for an approving inspection or a selection while the showing is complete.

You'll find sleek fitted black velvet coats teamed with a frosty white barrel muff or ermine and a spanking white bow of the same fur as part of the shoulder trim. There are smart all-black suits ready for wear with white blouses or jacket blouses. There is a stunning white and black combine of slim coat dress worn under a dashing cape of dull black with the sensational lining of beautiful white caracul, a caracul so fine it looks like thick silk moire.

Some of the most effective black and white costumes are those for dress wear—slim, distinguished suits with blouse of glistening white sheer material in which threads of silver provide the sparkle. Or there are dusky white crepe blouses spangled with silver sequins, or long sleeved blouses of silver thread tissue with clusters of ermine tails for trim at the throat.

See the long, dull black fabric coats that are particularly ideal for white dress contrast, both in slim straight lines or semi-fitted. These coats are slick all-purpose buys. The same coat is easily contrasted with anything featuring this new wave of white or goes out with the subtle accents of brown fur or furs of sleek shiny black. This black and white excitement is the fashion news of this season.

FASHIONS

By Angela

There is no more imposing dignity than that of a well built and well proportioned woman—especially when she wears her clothes with style and becomingness. Designers delight in creating a garment for the heavier figure from 38 to 44, since they can combine simple lines and glamor trimming in outstanding fashion.

A slenderizing black sheer of straight lines drapes three folds from the shoulder to just above the waistline on the figure at the left. The elongated Vee neckline is designed to create that swanlike illusion so dear to our hearts. A satin fold of ice blue starts at the shoulder and culminates in a smartly tailored bow. Bias folds of the satin form a simple turn back cuff on bracelet length sleeves. The only skirt detailing is that of three front gores; the sides and back are straight.

As a guest at a formal afternoon wedding, nothing could be more appropriate to wear than the sequin trimmed black crepe afternoon dress, in center. The sweetheart neckline is flattering, there is just enough sequin trimming to bring out the richness of the material. The cut and detailing of the skirt is a masterpiece of emphasis on the new up and down silhouette.

A perfect example of a dressy two piece black crepe is sketched at right. The skirt is perfectly straight and the jacket is well fitting and smooth with long, tight sleeves. Shiny black bugles radiate from a raised swirl of the black crepe and are scattered haphazardly across the front. An ice blue crepe vestee buttons up to a high neckline which is tied with a tailored bow.

Looking at Hollywood . . . . By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 14.—Capt. Clark Gable took a course in photography from Metro's ace, Johnny Arnold, before going overseas. Camera, sound equipment, and 16 mm. film was a present to Clark from Metro. He's not turning his stuff in for newsreels, but bringing it back to cut it himself and then have it blown up to regular theater size. . . . Arnold has trained more than 350 camera men for the government in 18 months. When I asked what would happen to those boys when they came home, he said, "I don't know. They can't work for the studios because of the union situation. I suppose they'll just go back to their regular trades before entering the army." . . . Gracie Fields flew with 26 men all the way from Africa to Britain. . . . Henry King's flying about the country in his own plane with a print of "Song of Bernadette" for company. . . . Tala Birell will be the only woman in "The Purple Heart." She toured with John Barrymore in his play "My Dear Children."

Tala Birell.

Would Welcome a Slight War.

Ran into Xavier Cugat who said, "Let me do a caricature of you." He did, in nothing flat, wrote on it, "I'm disgusted. Nothing ever happens in Hollywood." Cugie told me he was afraid to come out here, thinking things would be difficult. Now he wishes they were. Life has never run in a smooth pattern for him, and he's worried. I offered to kick him, but that didn't seem strong enough. . . . John Murray Anderson thought up a new ballet for "Mr. Co-ed"—40 girls swimming to the rhythm of The Beguine in red and green costumes, all being shot in color. Then two sets of twins do a shadow number under water. One of the swimmers broke her leg six weeks ago. It's just out of a cast. She's on crutches, but her M. D. said she could swim—not walk. Esther Williams made the whole thing look as easy and natural as breathing. Gosh, what a girl!

Scene from London, 1880.

Watched Ingrid Bergman and Charles Boyer do a scene in the tower of London while they looked at the British crown jewels, Ingrid in a gown authentic to the last bit of ball fringe. Very interesting combination, those two—she with that Swedish calmness, he with a fiery Latin temperament. George Cukor passed out cokes. Wonder where he gets 'em. Arthur Hornblow came over to say hello, then took me to see the rest of the sets for "Gaslight." I doubt if you realize how much detail and searching goes into picture backgrounds. When we got to Ingrid's bed, a massive affair of inlaid rosewood, and heavily canopied, I turned to Arthur and said, "Wouldn't it be fun if we knew the story of this bed?" He replied, "I wanted to put that story on the screen—weave the yarn around a bed from the cradle to the grave—but the Hays office promptly turned it down." . . . Hornblow leaves for New York when "Gaslight" is finished, to join Bubbles Schinazi, but there'll be no wedding bells.

Everything but Gandhi.

Wait till you see Ronald Colman, Jimmy Craig, Edward Arnold, and Hugh Herbert done up in gigantic turbans and beautiful brocades in "Kismet." You'll roar. They looked like cheating cheaters in drag. Ronnie asked if I'd dare to try on his turban, which resembled a pagoda done in balloon layers. After the first shock of finding themselves in skirts, the boys entered into the spirit of the thing and now, except for complaining about the weight of the costumes, they're quite gay about it. But their asides are unprintable.

More Fun for Soldiers.

Delmar Daves, who wrote and directed "Destination, Tokyo" with Cary Grant, directs "The Hollywood Canteen," Jesse Lasky's big musical for next year. The Theater Wing will get a good chunk of the profits, just as it did from "Stage Door Canteen." And speaking of our canteen, only service men are supposed to go thru the front door. All stars and volunteers go thru rear entrance—except Harry Cohn, who insists on using the front door—and gets away with it. . . . When visitors try to get a brass hat on the phone, they get this rubber stamp reply: "Mr. Big is in conference." The best definition of which is, "the man who can do nothing by himself calls a conference so that they can collectively announce nothing can be done."

JOHNSON FIGHTS FOR RETRIAL OF INCOMETAXCASE

Perjury Plea Put Before 3-Judge U. S. Court.

The United States Court of Appeals yesterday took under advisement a motion to remand the case of William R. Johnson, former Chicago gambling boss under a five year prison sentence for income tax evasion, back to the trial court to determine whether the case will be reheard in view of alleged new evidence.

The basis for the motion, filed by Johnson's attorney, William J. Dempsey, is the contention that Atty. William Goldstein, the government's chief witnesss, offered perjured testimony. The alleged perjury, Dempsey argued yesterday, conveyed the impression to the jury in the case that Johnson was the sole owner of a string of gambling establishments, including the Bon Aire Country club near Wheeling, altho he actually shared ownership with William R. Skidmore.

Bank Issue Challenged.

Dempsey also challenged the issue raised by the government on the ownership of an Albany Park building, formerly occupied by a bank, which the prosecution alleged Johnson directed Goldstein to purchase for him for $60,000.

"There was never any evidence that Johnson owned that property," Dempsey declared. "The evidence, in fact, is to the contrary. Records show that Goldstein purchased the building in the name of his son, Ted Goldstein, who still holds title, and that Ted soon afterward opened up a currency exchange in the bank building."

Testimony Vital on Income.

Dempsey emphasized to the three-judge court that the question of Goldstein's alleged perjury was of vital importance in the case, since if Johnson had received but half the income from the gambling interests there would have been no evasion of taxes. The government's case against Johnson was based on the theory that he had received the entire income.

Asst. United States Atty. Earl C. Hurley branded Dempsey's petition "a phony motion," and a "last desperate attempt to have this whole thing gone into all over again."

Hurley denied that Goldstein had committed perjury. The witness' testimony, Hurley said, was brief and clear cut.

Johnson's conviction earlier had been reversed by the Appeals court, but upheld by the United States Supreme court, which directed, however, that Johnson's contention that he had been convicted because of perjured testimony should be scrutinized by the Appeals court.

The three United States Circuit judges who heard the arguments were Will M. Sparks, J. Earl Major, and Sherman Minton.

CRIMINAL AT 14, HE GETS 10 YEARS IN PRISON AT 19

Donald Moore, 19 years old, whose crime career began at the age of 14, was sent to prison yesterday as a habitual criminal.

Donald Moore.

Moore faced Chief Justice Benjamin P. Epstein in Criminal court with a surly look as the judge sentenced him to 10 years each on five charges of larceny, the sentences to run concurrently. Because of his previous criminal record he was sentenced under the habitual criminal act, which provides that the maximum sentence must be served.

Capt. George Teeling of the stolen auto detail told how Moore and his brother, Daniel, 22, joined together in a series of burglaries, robberies and auto thefts. Daniel, who was arrested first last April, is now serving one year to life in the penitentiary for his part in the crimes.

KNIFE SLAYING SUSPECT HELD.

Deering police said yesterday that Norman White, Negro, 38 years old, 4041 South Dearborn street, was being held in connection with the knife slaying of Jessie Raxton, 39, of 4548 Calumet avenue, Negro, during a fight in a packing company plant at 944 West 38th place, where both worked.

'UNCLEAN HANDS' OF COUPLE HALT 3 SUITS IN COURT

The three petitions of John Wanda, 59 years old, of 5236 South Francisco avenue, and Helen Wanda, 52, who lived with him 13 years, altho they never were married, were dismissed in Circuit court yesterday by Judge Julius H. Miner, who asserted both parties came into court "with unclean hands."

"This couple lived together for 13 years believing they were married," he said. "Now he is asking for money and she is asking for property. Under the law I must dismiss both complaints, because both parties came into court with unclean hands and, therefore, no relief is due either of them."

Besides dismissing Mrs. Wanda's petition for sole title to the Francisco avenue property, and Wanda's suit for $23,024 for money spent on Mrs. Wanda and her three children, Judge Miner also dismissed the woman's suit for divorce. Casimir Wachowski, attorney for Mrs. Wanda, who now is living with her daughter at 5027 South Seeley avenue, said he would appeal the case to the Supreme court.

Dear Arch: Wish you could be here to see how these boys can transplant an American scene to British soil. Yesterday we played football against a rival unit. You would have sworn it was a mid-western gridiron, tucked away in a peaceful valley, under a flawless September sky. One quarter back was calling signals in Brooklynese; the other in the staccato bark of northern Illinois. . . . Just before dark we sat on a hillside and talked over the afternoon's game. You know, the traditional "fifth quarter." Suddenly, our returning bombers came thundering back across the sky. We forgot football, in fact, no one spoke, as we counted our planes and figured the real score.

Michigan Sets Ahead Start of Football Games

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 14 (AP).—Coach H. O. [Fritz] Crisler announced today that all four remaining home football games of the University of Michigan will start a half hour earlier, at 2:30 p. m. [E. W. T.] instead of 3 p. m.

Crisler said the change was effected to permit navy-marine players on visiting teams to return to their schools within the navy's 48 hour absence deadline.

Athletic heads of the University of Minnesota, Michigan's next foe, asserted last week the little brown jug contest here Oct. 23 was off unless the kickoff was advanced an hour to allow the Gophers to catch a late afternoon train to Chicago.

Other home games include Indiana, Nov. 6; Wisconsin, Nov. 13, and Ohio State, Nov. 20.

HAWKS HAPPY; BILL MOSIENKO READY TO PLAY

Bentley and Thoms Head for Camp.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 14.—Manager Paul Thompson and Coach Johnny Gottselig of the Blackhawks, who have been up here for a week twiddling their hockey sticks practically sans hockey players, were in a jubilant mood as they concluded a curtailed workout here today. They learned that Right Wing Bill Mosienko had crossed the Canadian border at Montreal, will be in Chicago tomorrow, and here Saturday.

Mosienko, who was not allowed to leave Canada last season, will play on a line which should be the best in the National Hockey league this season. At center will be Bill Thoms, until last season the Hawks' leading scorer; at left wing will be the pet of the Chicago hockey fans, Doug Bentley, the National league's leading scorer last year, who set a new high under the restricted forward pass rule. Doug scored 73 points, 33 goals and 40 assists.

Concerned Over Mosienko.

Thoms reached Chicago yesterday and Bentley is en route from his farm at Delisle, Sask. No anxiety had been experienced as a result of their absence from the opening sessions here, but there had been considerable concern over the availability of Mosienko, a Winnipeg boy, who has been working in a Montreal war plant. The word yesterday was that he had cleared with his mobilization board, his selective service board, and had received his labor exit permit and his passport, using all for a hurried departure for Minneapolis via Chicago.

As soon as he learned that Mosienko would be available, Manager Paul Thompson celebrated the start of his fifth year as Hawk manager and his 11th with the team by naming the probable starting lineup for the season opener between the Hawks and the Toronto Maple Leafs in Chicago Stadium on the night of Oct. 31. The lineup:

Highton Only Goalie.

Highton, a highly touted amateur from Vancouver, is the only goalie in camp here, and the only upholstered candidate expected to be here. Thompson, after personally firing at Highton for a couple of days, says the 19 year old netman has a good chance to click. Nevertheless, scouts have been instructed to be on the qui vive for more experienced performers if any such become available for war time employment.

Under the guidance of Press Agent Joe Farrell, we attended the workout today, making the trip to Minneapolis arena as snowflakes swirled about us. We couldn't tell much about the workout, but never saw the ice in the arena in better shape. Mr. Farrell seemed a bit hysterical about the absence of so many past due puck artists [he hadn't received the bulletin about Mosienko, Thoms, and Bentley and was fretting about no news from Seibert, Wiebe, George Allen, Red Mitchell, Cully Dahlstrom, Joe Papike, and several others], but after a little shaved ice on his fevered brow, Joe was calmed and we sat down to a nice bathhouse visit with Mush March, Fido Purpur, and Vic Heyliger, old friends who composed the squad, along with the newcomers, Highton, Gordon Buttrey, and Jack Dyte, the last a 200 pounder from Toronto, who has a chance to win a defense job, he's that big and strong.

Predict Banner Opener.

On the return from the rink Press Agent Farrell was getting out his scrapbooks to dig up some dandy features about Dick Irvin, Chuck Gardiner, and Art Summers, great Hawks of another era, when the joyous tidings came in regard to Mosienko, Bentley, etc. As he prepared to meet all incoming trains Mr. Farrell paid a generous tribute to the Canadian government and predicted the Chicago opener will be the biggest in the history of the National Hockey league. He estimated an attendance of 16,500.

STURDY ILLINI TACKLE

When the Pitt Panthers go up against the Illini tomorrow in Champaign, they'll find Coach Ray Eliot has a pretty rugged line, one of the sturdiest units of which is Larry Forst, a sophomore tackle from Leo High school.

Illini Game with Pitt May Be Last for Guard Ralph Palmer

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 14 [Special].—Ralph Palmer, senior guard rejoined the Illinois football squad today for at least one game. He'll play against Pittsburgh here Saturday, then report Monday for induction into the army.

Clancy Tohn, V-12 student from Peoria, who has moved up rapidly since he came out two weeks ago, was listed today as the No. 2 left half back, behind Eddie Bray. Tohn's defensive play against Wisconsin last week was outstanding, he gaining 42 yards by rushing. Tohn practices but two days a week.

Bray, freshman left half back from Utica, Ill., was named acting captain for Saturday's game.

Jack Kane, who started the last two games at tackle, has been returned to center.

At the mid-point in the Illinois schedule, the Illini find they have made many shifts in personnel and have missed the services of many players who started the season.

PITT HOPES FOR UPSET.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP).—Coach Clark Shaughnessy and a squad of 35 University of Pittsburgh Panthers entrained tonight for Chicago en route to their Saturday clash at Champaign with Illinois.

Altho figured here at two touchdowns weaker than the Illini, the Panthers had high hopes of staging an upset. They have dropped eight straight to Big Ten teams.

The team will practice tomorrow at Stagg field, Chicago, going to Champaign Saturday morning.

Jim Reber, a former end, appeared to have won the tackle post vacated by Marty Rosepink who entered the navy Tuesday. Otherwise the starting lineup was expected to be the same as that which faced West Virginia last week.

SEAHAWK TEAM CHOSEN.

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 14 [Special].—The Iowa Seahawks took a light drill today and then prepared to leave tomorrow for Kansas City where they will clash with the University of Missouri on Saturday.

Lt. Don Faurot gave the Pre-Flighters some final pointers on Missouri's T formation, ordered them thru a 30 minute drill on their own plays and then gave them a session of kicking and passing.

Probable starting lineup for the Seahawks will be: John Clemens and James Dusenbury, ends; Robert Carlson and Harry Large, tackles; George Tobine and Nick Kerasiotis, guards; Angelo Guerriero, center; Jack Williams, quarter back; Richard Kieppe and Frank Maznicki, half backs, and Bus Mertes, full back.

Sportsman's to Run Extra Charity Week

BY HOWARD BARRY.

John L. Keeshin, president of Sportsman's Park, yesterday issued the long anticipated announcement that Chicago's horse racing season will be extended by a week and that once again the sport would make a substantial contribution to war relief and local charity.

Keeshin stated that he had received word from Maj. Ednyfed Williams, chairman of the Ilinois racing board, that Sportsman's Park may operate for charity from Monday, Nov. 1, to Saturday, Nov. 7, in addition to its regular meeting, which begins next Monday and runs until Oct. 31.

Proceeds to be Divided.

The proceeds of this extra week will be split up 75 per cent to the community war fund of metropolitan Chicago, 12½ per cent to Chicago service men's center, and 12½ per cent to the Illinois veterans' services, according to yesterday's announcement by Keeshin, General Manager William Johnston, and Vice President Charles Bidwill.

During the corresponding period last year Sportsman's Park raised $133,000 for local charities during a meeting sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc. Again in

Retriever or No? Spaniel Flunks Test Under Fire

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 14 (AP).—The field trial in the case of the dog with two owners proved one fact today: Brownie [or Teddy] is no retriever.

The witness was the Springer spaniel which Earl Bloomingberg claims is his Teddy and a bangup hunting animal and which Fred Kern insists is his Brownie and no hunter but a household pet.

Circuit Judge William Friedman ordered today's field test as a result of Bloomingberg's assertion. In a patrol wagon with James Doyle, a deputy with extensive hunting experience, parties to the action were taken to a pheasant filled field.

The dog bounded out and nosed a few field mouse nests, then rolled in the weeds. When Doyle scared up a pheasant, the Spaniel wasn't particularly interested.

Finally Doyle fired a pistol. The dog promptly fell down, rolled over and yipped. "H-m-m," said Doyle. "Isn't used to being fired over."

All climbed back into the wagon. A report will be given Judge Friedman Monday.

N. U. HOPES TO MATCH SAILORS IN MAN POWER

Battle Tomorrow in Dyche Stadium.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Northwestern's Wildcats, who are reputed to have acquired additional ferocity as the result of two weeks out of the combat zone, began tapering off yesterday on their elaborate scheme to plant a few busters on the Great Lakes football craft tomorrow in Dyche stadium.

It's a Sailor custom, think the Wildcats, to throw confusion as well as a trimming into an opponent by long touchdown runs. It's also a custom, more or less, for the dry land seafarers to awe the enemy with fresh elevens at the start of every quarter.

It's the Wildcats' plan to match this hostile man power with man power of their own and their scheme to break the Sailor habit of runs for distance is quite simple. They're just going to grab the guy before he starts, or at least they are going to try.

Daley Caused Much Pain.

In their two games to date the Wildcats haven't been exactly fortunate in combatting one man expeditions. They beat Indiana, 14 to 6, in their opener, but only after considerable suffering caused by the 17 year old Bob Hoernschemeyer.

The pain while losing to Michigan, 21 to 7, was more acute. Twice Bill Daley, Minnesota's war gift to the Wolverines, stepped out on his own. Once he went gadding around end for a touchdown dash of 37 yards. The other time he oozed thru the middle of the wall, gave the nod to Wildcat line backers, and toured something like 67 yards.

Tomorrow the Wildcats won't have a Daley to watch. Instead they'll have about five of them to contend with. If it isn't Steve Lach it will be Steve Juzwik. It might be Dewey Proctor or Buist Warren. And then there's Emil Sitko who doesn't sit but goes.

New V-12 Vitamins.

One explanation for the Wildcats' feeling that maybe all members of the Sailors' running quintet can be captured without undue damage is that those new V-12 vitamins have been added to Coach Lynn Waldorf's ensemble.

John Bicanich, on lease from the Gophers, is pressing John Gent for one of the guard positions. Ray Justak is causing similar uneasiness for Alex Kapter at left guard. And Marvin Grubaugh [Nebraska] now is on hand to give a lift with the tackle duties.

When the Wildcats square off tomorrow against whatever the Navy throws at them, the lineup probably will be much as it was in the two previous struggles.

The starting center may be the only exception. Len Golan was there in the Indiana game. George App started against Michigan. Tomorrow the role may be assigned to Joe Partington, a V-12 by way of Nebraska. He saw considerable action in the Michigan affair.

FORT SHERIDAN OPENS FOOTBALL SEASON TONIGHT

Led by three Illinois players, Fort Sheridan will open the first football season in its 56 year history against Gardiner Army hospital of Chicago at Shewbridge field, 74th and Aberdeen streets tonight at 8 o'clock.

A freshman half back at Notre Dame last year, Bill Sticklen of Joliet; Frank Hursey, Cihcago, a former Camp Grant center, and Guard Don Skrinar, last fall coach at Glenwood, Ill. Manual, will be in the Fort Sheridan lineup.

East Chicago Washington Beaten by Gary Emerson

Emerson of Gary defeated Washington High of East Chicago, 12 to 0, last night in Gary in a western division football game in the Northern Indiana conference. It was the fifth straight defeat for Washington which was the 1942 state champion. The victory was Emerson's third in six games.

McGrew, Former Umpire, Named Scout for Phils

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP).—Ted McGrew, a former umpire, was added to the Phillies' scouting staff today.

He's Navy Bound

Bill Osmanski, veteran full back, who will play his last game for the Chicago Bears Sunday against the Phil-Pitt Eagles in Wrigley field. Osmanski, who joined the Bears in 1939 after starring at Holy Cross, has been commissioned a lieutenant (jg) and will report next week to the Great Lakes Naval Training station.

HUNTERS DRAW BEAD ON DUCKS

Illinois Season Gets Under Way Today.

BY BOB BECKER.

Illinois duck hunters lucky enough to have shotgun shells began firing at the ducks this morning, the official opening day of the 1943 water fowl season, which will continue for 70 days. Despite driving restrictions and a general shortage of ammunition, the Illinois department of conservation prepared for a large turnout of hunters this morning on northern Illinois lakes, especially Grass lake, where the annual barrage against the mudhens or coots always is enjoyed by several thousand shooters. In a normal year between 200,000 and 300,000 shells are fired at the coots. This morning the cannonading was expected to be lighter than in former years.

Daily Limit Is 10.

Tony Maggio, inspector of the department, said yesterday he would have between 35 and 40 wardens in northern Illinois this morning to check on licenses and the kills by hunters. The Illinois Natural History survey will have several of its men on Grass lake to make a check on the average kill per hunter. Several flights of mudhens came down from the north, so the coot hunters had plenty of targets this morning at 6:34, the official shooting time.

The water fowl regulations this year permit a hunter to take 10 ducks per day, of which one may be a wood duck. A two days' bag limit is 20 ducks, of which only one may be a wood duck.

WAITING FOR DUCKS

BY BEN MARKLAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 14.—Shotgun shells seem to be one of the least of the immediate worries of Illinois duck shooters who are flocking into the Illinois river towns tonight for the duck season which opens tomorrow morning.

Very few shooters have been able to buy shotgun ammunition this season, but those who are sitting in hotel lobbies and clubrooms in Lacon, Bath, Chillicothe, Havana, and other famous shooting centers seem to have from 50 to 150 shells left from last season.

If today's weather conditions remain in force for tomorrow's opening, hundreds of hunters will use very few of their precious shells. There are few migrant ducks down from the north except for several thousand teal and some pintail.

The shell situation in the river towns is perhaps even worse than in Chicago. F. H. Gehr, operator of the Sparland hardware store, has not had a shell to sell since last November and if he gets any this shooting season they will not begin to fill the demand.

Shells were selling in river town pubs at $3 per box three weeks ago, and individuals who have shells to sell now can get $5 to $7 per box for boxes of 25 shells which sell over the counter for $1.32.

35,000 SEATS SOLD FOR GAME IN CLEVELAND

Boilermakers Are Favored to Win.

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., Oct. 14.—With Ohio State's football squad due to arrive tomorrow afternoon for its opening Western conference game Saturday with Purdue, the representatives of the rival universities today finished beating the publicity drums for Cleveland's first big time game of 1943 in Municipal stadium. Undefeated Purdue, victor over Illinois as well as Camp Grant, Great Lakes, and Marquette, is a public choice over the Buckeyes, who await their first Big Nine test with a record of defeats by the Iowa Seahawks and Great Lakes, and a victory over Missouri.

This is Ohio State's home game, albeit the contest has been transferred to Cleveland, and today from Columbus, Henry Taylor, Ohio's ticket purveyor, reported that 35,000 spectators have bought seats. Taylor estimated that at least 50,000 will attend if Saturday offers the right kind of October weather. The number, at $4.40 and $3.30 prices, may even exceed this figure, a distinctly high recommendation for Cleveland's football enthusiasm, which certainly will reach a climax two weeks from now when Notre Dame engages the United States Naval academy on the same gridiron.

Preview of T Formation.

Aside from the support this Ohio metropolis naturally will give the Buckeyes—90 per cent of them are freshmen—the thousands also wish to see a preview of the T formation. Purdue has used this system of offense in marking up four victories and the gridiron world knows, of course, that Angelo Bertelli and the Irish will pit this deceptive attack against the midshipmen from Annapolis.

Purdue is favored, as we have reported, but there is an undercurrent of optimism for Coach Paul Brown's youngsters which Ohio State's advance agent, Jim Renick, is finding difficult to conceal from his journalistic brother from Lafayette, Ind., Bob Woodworth. Ohio State alumni recall the Buckeye's conference championship last season and Coach Brown's record of only two defeats in two seasons and Buckeye freshmen or no, these camp followers do not believe the age of miracles ended when Uncle Sam distributed the veteran players of the Western conference to a trio of universities including Purdue.

Brown's Teams Well Grounded.

The alumni also remember that Brown's teams, when he made high school football history in Massillon, O., always were well grounded in fundamentals and that this was the merit badge of the 1941 and 1942 Ohio State elevens. They are willing to assume that Brown has pointed for this opening conference contest and let the military elevens, Great Lakes and the Iowa Seahawks, serve as practice games.

This may be true, and the talented Mr. Woodworth suspects as much. Purdue's ambassador points with pride to the Boilermaker line and to the line smashing prowess of Full Back Tony Butkovich, on leave from Illinois. But in subsequent conversation he dwells on Purdue's inability to whip Ohio State more than once in the series and the idea that gridiron luck always seems to favor the Buckeyes.

Ohio State, of course, is beginning defense of its conference football championship. For Purdue, with a conference victory over Illinois already in the books, this is the make or break game in what can be the best season since the Boilermakers shared the Western conference title in 1931 with Northwestern and Michigan.

PURDUE LOSES DUBICKI.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 14—With the single exception of Stan Dubicki at left half back, Purdue's undefeated football squad will depend on the same starting lineup that bore the brunt of the opening conference victory over Illinois as it meets Ohio State in Cleveland on Saturday, it was indicated here today by Coach Elmer Burnham.

The rugged Boilermaker forward wall, which has turned in outstanding defensive performances against running plays, will have Joe Buscemi and Frank Bauman at the ends; Mike Kasap and John Genis, tackles; Alex Agase and Dick Barwegen at guards, and Walter Poremba, center.

Bill Stuart will fill in at left half back for Dubicki, with the remainder of the back field made up of Tony Butkovich, the Big Nine's leading scorer, at full back; Boris Dimancheff, right half back, and Sam Vacanti, quarter back.

In addition to the probable starters, the Boilermakers traveling squad will be made up as follows:

Ends—O'Keefe, Hoffman, Collings, Haag. Tackles—Hughes, Ellis, Stack, Plevo, O'Brien. Guards—Lehmkuhl, Butt, Mordoh, Hersch. Centers—Morrow, Newell. Quarter backs—Darr, Pibler. Half backs—Rose, Flint, Bushnell, Parker, Dubicki, Cycenas. Full backs—Tetek, Mihal.

BEARS TO FACE TOUGH FOE IN EAGLES SUNDAY

Phil-Pitt Team Unbeaten in Eastern Section.

BY EDWARD PRELL.

The Bears will be called on Sunday to do the same kind of a job they performed satisfactorily two weeks ago. The Detroit Lions had rushed into the Western division lead of the National Football league race when all the Bears had to show was a tie with the Packers. The biggest football crowd in Detroit, pepped up at the startling success of the Lions, suffered a terrific letdown when the Chicagoans won, 27 to 21.

It will be the same setup Sunday in Wrigley field. The Phil-Pitt Eagles got off to a flying start in the eastern sector while the defending champions, Washington's Redskins, were dilly-dallying. The Eagles are coming to Chicago with two victories and no defeats. And the whispering is growing louder that here is a team which may represent the east in the championship play-offs in the west next December.

Sorry Showing Against Cards.

Bear fans were startled at the team's sorry first half showing Sunday against the Cardinals. They might well have been shocked at the way the Packers and Lions assaulted the Bears' line in earlier games. If Phil-Pitt is as good as scout reports and recent performances indicate, the Bears may be in for their first Wrigley field loss since Green Bay's 16 to 14 triumph in 1941.

Opponents in two games have gained only 1.76 yards per try against the Eagles, as against the over-all league average of 4.27.

"They're the best in the east," said Co-Coach Luke Johnsos yesterday after the Bears' long drill in Wrigley field. "They've got a better club than the Redskins. They have a tough defense. Tell the fans to watch their shuttling line. The linemen, instead of charging forward, move to the right or left."

For the first time since the league season started the Bears will be in top shape. The four regulars who were banged up in an exhibition with the Eagles in Philadelphia—Bulldog Turner, Danny Fortmann, John Siegal, and Hamp Pool—have shaken the effects of their injuries.

Last Game for Osmanski.

It will be the end of the line for Bill Osmanski and Siegal, lieutenants, junior grade, who are navy bound. Osmanski will report next week to Great Lakes and join the dental corps. The old Holy Cross terror may be invited to play with the Great Lakes eleven if he has the time. There have been no officers on the 1942 or 1943 Bluejacket squads, but officers join with cadets at Iowa pre-flight, a navy school. Officers and enlisted men also play together on army teams.

Siegal will report to Bainbridge [Md.] Naval Training station, where he doubtless will encounter a former football buddy, Joe Maniaci, who is coach of the Bainbridge eleven. Another member of that team is Bill De Correvont.

WEST MICHIGAN VOWS TO UPSET MIAMI ELEVEN

Kalamazoo, Mich., Oct. 14 [Special].—Hopeful of getting up to their Great Lakes game, with only a single defeat against them, the Western Michigan college football team is vowing to upset the unbeaten Miami university team when they clash here Saturday.

The Broncos have not sold Miami short for the homecoming game and expect a battle that, in all probability, will be decided by breaks. The Miami aggregation is expected to employ an aerial game with its veteran, Bob Russell, quarter back, on the throwing end.

Both lineups will be studded with borrowed players under the navy [illegible], both getting players from many larger schools.

'I'm Your Star,' He Tells Coach —and Proves It

College Station, Tex., Oct. 14 (AP).—Stanley [Bing] Turner, 200 pound newcomer at Texas A. and M. told Coach Homer Norton:

"I'm going to be your star this year.

"I can kick, pass, call signals and tote the leather if that's what you need, coach."

"Well, Turner, I'm glad to meet you," replied Norton; "and I hope you're even better than you say."

With such talk came predictions that the confident Mr. Turner would be taken down a peg or two the first time he hit the practice field. But he wasn't.

Today he leads the Southwest conference in scoring, punting, and kickoff yardage, and he's a point-after-touchdown specialist coaches dream about.

Turner has scored four touchdowns, made nine of 10 extra points [a bad pass from center spoiled the one he missed], averaged 40 yards punting [he got off one for 87 yards] and when he was penalized 15 yards for failing to report to the officials before a kickoff he just put a little more stuff on his kick and the ball traveled 80 yards. Turner also tackled the receiver.

In addition to his gridiron accomplishments, Turner is quite a piano player and sings a mean baritone on the singing side.

Also, he's an accomplished conversationalist.

Mount Carmel Hopes to End Leo's 5 Year Streak Sunday

Seeking its first victory over the Leo Lions in five years, the Mount Carmel High school eleven has been geared to high pitch by Coach Wally Fromhart for Sunday's game at 83d street and Yates avenue. Ticket sales indicated a capacity crowd of 10,000 will see the south section Catholic league game.

The Lions have not been defeated by a Catholic league team since Mount Carmel turned the trick back in 1938. The Caravan then went on to the league title and repeated the following year after battling the Lions to a scoreless tie. Since that time Leo has monopolized all league honors in football. Both teams are undefeated in four games this season.

Has Two Big Problems.

The Caravan has two important problems to iron out, if it is to stop the Lions and gain an opportunity to participate in the annual Mayor Kelly bowl game in Soldiers' field on Nov. 27 against the City league champion.

The first item is a defense for the Leo attack, which has tabulated 159 points in four games. The second is Mount Carmel's own offense, which has accumulated only 57 points in four games. This can be accounted for partially by the epidemic of infantile paralysis which deprived the team of four important players, ineligibility of a fine full back prospect and injuries.

Fromhart Picks Starters.

Fromhart expects to start the following players: Capt. George Benigni and Jack Tracey at ends, Ed O'Brien and Phil O'Reilly at tackles, Bob Zahren and Joe Purcell at guards, Jim Lewandowski at center, Jack O'Leary at quarter back, Bob Carroll and Fred O'Neill at the half back posts, and Fred Hendron at full back.

May Have Surprise.

Leo will depend on Barry to pass, Dauphinee to do the kicking, and Ward with these two will supply the bulk of the ball carrying. The Lions are liable to surprise by breaking Kozlowski loose for he is an excellent open field runner, altho his forte is blocking.

Mount Carmel will rely upon Carroll to handle the punting and passing chores and figure O'Neill and Hendron will spearhead the ground attack. The lines are evenly matched.

This will be Mount Carmel's 14th meeting with Cronin's boys with the series standing at 8 for Leo, 4 for Mount Carmel, and one tie.

Sportsman's to Run Extra Charity Week

the spring Sportsman's Park presented a week of racing sponsored by Tribune Charities which realized $83,000.

Bushwhacker Wins.

Bushwhacker which won his first 1943 effort during the Lincoln Fields meeting and then relapsed into something resembling a stupor, woke up in time to score at 8 to 1 odds in the feature event.

After racing close to the early pace, Bushwhacker went to the front on the last turn, drew out to a commanding lead and came right down the middle of the track to score by three lengths over The Finest. Drollon was third. Those who backed Bushwhacker collected $18.60 to win.

Three Clovers, the 7 to 2 second choice in the betting, won the six furlong Ravenswood purse, secondary feature on yesterday's program at Hawthorne. Tony Skoronski, who is ahead of his rivals in the contest for top riding honors during the current meeting, brought Three Clovers up in the stretch to finish a neck in advance of Bolus, while Miss Ethel was taking third place. The favorite, Lady Liberty, wound up in fourth place after getting to the front in the stretch, then weakening.

Meet Closes Tomorrow.

Racing Secretary W. R. Dahlstrom yesterday announced the weights for tomorrow's Illinois Owners handicap, feature event of the final program of the meeting. Night Shadow drew top impost of 117 pounds, while [illegible] handicap, got in at 114. Burgoo Maid will tote 111 and from there the field of 20 eligibles will scale down to 100 on Air Warden.

HARVARD SCHOOL BEATS CHICAGO VOCATIONAL, 26-0

Harvard School defeated Chicago Vocational reserves, 26 to 0, yesterday in a football game in Washington park. Full Back Dave Pyle scored two touchdowns, one on a 25 yard run in the first quarter. The others were made by Sam Lyon and Jerry Neff.

Count Fleet Is Retired for Winter; to Run in '44

New York, Oct. 14 (AP).—Mrs. John Hertz's champion three year old Count Fleet will be returned to his Kentucky home tomorrow to go into winter quarters. Count Fleet was injured in the running of the Belmont stakes and has not been to the post since. He will be named for all big handicaps and stakes to be run in 1944.

Army Rejects Seminick, Phils Catcher, in Draft

Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., Oct. 14 (AP).—Andy Seminick, Philadelphia Phillies' catcher who starred for the Knoxville Smokies during the early part of the 1943 season, has been rejected by the army, the induction station here reported today.

McKinley Beaten, 2-0, by Hyde Park in City Soccer

Hyde Park turned back McKinley by 2 to 0 in a south section City league soccer game in Union park yesterday. Martin Prager scored the winning goal.

35,000 EXPECTED TO SEE GOPHERS PLAY WARRIORS

Game to Be Form Chart for Michigan Contest.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 14.—The official guess on the crowd which will see the Minnesota Gophers and the Camp Grant Warriors battle here Saturday is 35,000.

The forecast, which is a bit startling, in view of the snowflakes in the air and the 40 degree temperature at the time it was voiced by Ticket Manager Marsh Ryman, covered service men guests and those who will sit in a bargain section. Just the same, 35,000 will be a lot of spectators for a nonconference game just a week before the Minnesota-Michigan clash in Ann Arbor.

Of course, the Gopher bowl is a lot closer than the ball park in Ann Arbor as civilian mileage is reckoned these days. But there is no denying that much of the interest in Saturday's game here is to supply a form sheet for the historic Gopher-Wolverine ruckus.

Two Soft Touches.

The Gophers rested last Saturday while the Wolverines were having their sorrows against Notre Dame, said grief generating even tho Michigan had the sterling services of Bill Daley, brilliant Gopher back currently on lend-lease to the Wolverines.

The Gophers have played only two games—both against soft touches, however tough these opponents were when the games were scheduled. Minnesota beat Missouri, 26 to 13, and shattered Nebraska, if that's any distinction, 53 to 0.

No wonder, they said, the Gopher fans want to get more dope on their heroes before they get steamed up for the Michigan game, which, by the way, will be followed on successive Saturdays by clashes with Purdue and Northwestern.

Warriors Were Hampered.

The Warriors, hampered in some of their earlier games by inadequate practice and delayed employment of Head Coach Charley Bachman, will be playing their fifth contest. They have lost to the two teams that follow them on the Minnesota schedule—Michigan and Purdue, and they have won from two teams—Illinois and Wisconsin. They played a 7 to 7 tie with Marquette.

Bill Garnaas, the Gophers' lone veteran regular in the back field, will be at quarter back Saturday, supported by much the same cast that performed in the Missouri and Nebraska routs, except that Loren Palmer will be the main full back instead of Hoyt Muncrief, transfer from Tulane, who has been in Louisiana at the bedside of his father.

30 WARRIORS MAKE TRIP.

Camp Grant, Ill., Oct. 14 [Special].—Thirty Camp Grant players will leave tomorrow night for Saturday's game with Minnesota in Minneapolis. The squad:

Ends—Bill Huber, Sam Goldman, Joe Tisko, Jack St. Germaine, Bill Haldy, and Alex Chorny. Tackles—Joe Coomer, Don [illegible], Herb Cooper, Bill Barmetler, Roman Bentz, and Joe [illegible]. Guards—Bill Orlando, Bob Jimmy, Jim Maloney, Dick Bergner, Jake [illegible], and Felix [illegible]. Centers—Bill Goldsmith and George Karsentis. Backs—Reino Nori, Jim Dewey, Tony Riotti, Corwin Clark, Louis Campbell, Santo Curro, John Andretich, Dick Zubel, Bill Burghardt, and Bill Reed.

Dalton Fights Reacey Tonight in Madison A. C.

Tim Dalton, city Golden Gloves lightweight champion, will represent the Madison Athletic club in a three round amateur bout against John Reacey of Gary tonight in the Madison arena, 4711 Madison street. The Gary team was substituted for Camp Grant when the army boxers were unable to appear. Matches include the following:

Phil Rogers, Gary, vs. Caesar Cooper, Madison A. C. [5], 147; Carlton Ayres, Gary, vs. Johnny Beaton, Madison A. C. [5], 135; Del Roy Johnson, Gary, vs. William Johnson, Madison A. C. [3], 175; James White, Gary, vs. William Dansy, Madison A. C. [3], 118; James Rogers, Gary, vs. Joe Rohl, Madison A. C. [3], 155; Eluetis Andrews, Gary, vs. Jackie Boyd, Madison A. C. [3], 114.

Fritzie Zivic, who faces Bobby Richardson, Cleveland welterweight, in the Chicago Stadium Oct. 29, will meet Jose Basora in Detroit tonight. . . . Also on this evening's schedule will be a 12 round rematch between Al Reasoner, Chicago lightweight, and Cleo Shans of Los Angeles in New Orleans. Reasoner won in their previous meeting. . . . Buddy Scott, Texas heavyweight champion, who opposes Dan Merritt in 10 rounds in Marigold Gardens on Monday, is a ringer for Randolph Scott of the movies.

1,200 JUVENILES END FOOTBALL LESSONS TODAY

Late this afternoon 1,200 boys between the ages of 12 and 15 will leave the six football schools sponsored by the Chicago Sports association with the knowledge that they have given the coaches good reason to pick them as members of the school teams.

Of course some will not have qualified because of weight since the rules state the boys must weigh between 90 and 110 pounds. This range was decided upon in order to diminish the possibility of injury. Each of the six teams will be composed of 15 players who will be equipped within the next two weeks. Then a regular schedule of games will be played, some of which will be between the halves of the Chicago Bears and Cardinal games. Plans are under consideration for some of the squads to make trips with the Chicago teams.

During the next two weeks, the 15 boys selected from each school will meet with the coaches and continue their training.

Jackie Patterson, England, Named Flyweight Champ

Paterson, N. J., Oct. 14 (AP).—The National Boxing association announced today recognition of Jackie Patterson of England as flyweight champion of the world. Abe J. Greene, president of the N. B. A., said the championship rating committee had withdrawn recognition from Little Dado of the Philippines on the ground he had outgrown the class. He has not boxed as a flyweight in more than two years.

Barrow Improves; First Visitor Is Joe McCarthy

New Rochelle, N. Y., Oct. 14 (AP).—Ed Barrow, president of the New York Yankees, who has been confined to New Rochelle hospital since last Friday with arthritis and a heart condition, was well enough to receive visitors today. The first to visit him were Joe McCarthy, manager of the world champions, and Scout Paul Kritchell.

MISSOURI NAMES 35.

Columbia, Mo., Oct. 14 [AP].—Coach Chauncey Simpson of the University of Missouri football squad today named 35 for Saturday's game with the Iowa Seahawks in Kansas City.

MINERALITES WIN 12 IN ROW; STILL UNBEATEN

Mineralites maintained their lead in the Randolph bowling league last night by defeating the Nonebetter Ice Creams in three straight games. The triple victory enabled the Mineralites to remain undefeated with a record of 12 victories.

Badgers Lose Don Kindt for Irish Battle

Madison, Wis., Oct. 14 [Special].—Don Kindt, 60 minute playing right half back of the University of Wisconsin football team, is in the hospital, where he probably will undergo an operation on his leg. The loss of Kindt is a blow to the Badgers on the eve of their game with Notre Dame and will necessitate last minute changes in the back field for the already weakened team.

Kindt, besides being a fine offensive player, has been strong on defense. He has done practically all the kicking. Just who will take his place is a guess, with John Lutz of Freeport and Larry Heinz of Chicago generally favored.

Hodges May Be Out.

Another last minute change also is likely with Bob Clarke replacing Doug Hodges at quarter back. Hodges injured a leg in the Illinois game but it was not believed serious enough to keep him out of the game with the Irish. The leg has failed to respond to treatment and he undoubtedly is lost for the game. Ray Dooney and Clarence Self, full back and left half respectively, are ready for the other two back field posts.

The ticket sale has been brisk and a crowd of 20,000 or more is expected.

No Changes in Line.

The Badger line will be unchanged from last Saturday with John Eulberg and Pat Weber at ends, Fred Doar and Don Lee at tackles, Sid Fisher and John Davey at guards, and Joe Keenan, acting captain, at center.

IRISH EXPECT PASSES.

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 14 [Special].—Notre Dame spent the entire afternoon workout today on defense, a dummy scrimmage session against Wisconsin plays taking up most of the drill.

The backs and line backersup were given a short drill against passes, as it is expected that Harry Stuhldreher's forces will take to the air against the Irish.

Vic Kulbitski, second string full back, probably will not see much action Saturday as he wrenched his knee in Tuesday's workout and it has failed to respond to treatment. Bob Hanlon, Chicago freshman, will spell Jim Mello at the full back post.

The team will leave South Bend late tomorrow afternoon, and stay in Chicago over night.

HOOSIER SQUAD LEAVES.

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 14 [Special].—The Indiana football team this afternoon wound up its home practice for the game at Iowa Saturday. Shortly afterward Coach Bo McMillin and 29 players took a train for Cedar Rapids, Ia., where they will practice Friday. They will leave Cedar Rapids for Iowa City Saturday morning.

Attention was devoted to kicking and punt returns but most of the session was occupied with defensive practice for Iowa's T and single wing offensive. McMillin again indicated that the Hoosiers would stick to the ground Saturday by ignoring passing and concentrating on running plays.

IOWA EXPECTS AERIAL GAME.

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 14 [Special].—The Iowa Hawkeyes again turned their attention to the passing art of Indiana's freshman star, Bob Hoernschemeyer today as Coach Slip Madigan put his charges thru the last full practice before Saturday's game here.

The Iowans stressed forward pass defense in a dummy scrimmage against Indiana plays.

BUFFALO SIGNS HARRIS TO LEAD TEAM NEXT YEAR

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 14 (AP).—Stanley R. [Bucky] Harris, who led major league clubs for 20 years, today signed as manager of the Buffalo International league baseball club for 1944. Terms of the contract were not disclosed, but it was understood they called for a large bonus and the largest salary ever paid a Buffalo manager.

Harris, who left the Philadelphia Phils last August after serving briefly as manager, said he was happy to be back in Buffalo. He played with Buffalo from 1917 until 1919, when he joined the Washington Senators. Harris formerly managed Washington, Detroit, and Boston in the American league.

Greg Mulleavy resigned Oct. 1 as Buffalo manager after the Bisons finished in seventh place.

HARROLLE—Mariam C. Harrolle. In loving memory of our dear mother, who passed away nine years ago, Oct. 15, 1934. ELIZABETH, ROSS, AND UNDINE.

HIRTZ—Maria Hirtz. In fond memory of my dear, darling wife, who suddenly left me two years ago today. You are not forgotten, nor will you ever be.
Deep in my heart lies a picture
Of a loved one laid to rest.
In memory's frame I shall keep it,
Because she was one of the best.
YOUR LOVING HUSBAND, JOHN.

KAUTZ—Paul Kautz, Oct. 15. In loving memory of your birthday.
The flowers we place upon your grave
May wither and decay.
But love for you who sleeps beneath
Will never fade away.
KAUTZ FAMILY.

LADON — Stanley Ladon, 1939. "Stanley Boy," I will never forget you and always love you. LOVING WIFE, BETTY.

McNAUGHT—In memory of Norris F. McNaught.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days;
Sincere and true in his heart and mind,
A beautiful memory he left behind.
He had a nature you could not help loving,
A heart that was purer than gold;
And, to those who knew and loved him,
His memory will never grow cold.
LOVING WIFE, GERTRUDE.

MEINHARDT—Ellen M. Meinhardt. In memory of her 72d birthday.
The recollection of your love and kindness, your humanitarianism and generosity, bring fond memories that linger and keep you forever near me.
Your loving husband,

FUND INCREASES TO $2,285,361, OR 22% OF ITS QUOTA

With local naval units leading the parade of contributions, the metropolitan Chicago campaign for the National Community and War fund already has realized 22 per cent of its quota of $12,806,424, a summary of workers' reports disclosed yesterday. Total contributions amount to $2,285,361.

Navy personnel, whose quota was $25,000, have turned in $26,099, while the navy technical training command personnel, whose quota was $7,000, have contributed $8,015. The park district, the third member of the government section of the business division to exceed its goal, has reported $13,078 from employes, which is $3,078 more than they were asked to give.

One-third of the proceeds from the campaign will go to the United Service Organizations, which provide recreation and comfort for army and navy men thruout the world. The remainder will be divided evenly between the Community Chest and 16 accredited foreign war relief agencies.

MOTHER DIES IN FIRE WITH MATE AFTER SAVING 2

Galesburg, Ill., Oct. 14 (AP).—Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Price died today in a blaze started by a kitchen stove explosion. Mrs. Price, who was 31 years old and was crippled by an injury, saved the lives of her two children. The fire started when Price used kerosene to kindle the stove.

Flames swept the kitchen and Mrs. Price, on crutches because of a fractured leg suffered in a motorcycle accident, hobbled to the bedroom and pushed the children, Billy, 12, and Jerry, 6, out a window.

INJURIES FATAL TO GEN. JACKSON ON MANEUVERS

Third Army Maneuver Hdq. in Louisiana, Oct. 14 (AP).—Maj. Gen. Stonewall Jackson, 52 years old, died yesterday in the Camp Polk station hospital of injuries suffered Oct. 4 in a plane crash in the maneuver area.

Gen. Jackson was commanding a division in the maneuver area at the time of the accident.

He was not related to the Confederate general, but his father was a cavalry officer under T. J. [Stonewall] Jackson.

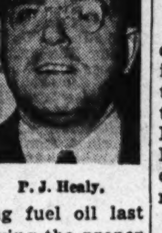
SEARCY REVIEWS 1942 OPA FIASCO IN OIL RATIONING

Company Scores First Victory at Hearing.

A state senator and officials of the defendant company continued to criticize the "utter confusion and chaos" in the fuel oil distributing industry yesterday as the Arrow Petroleum company scored its first major victory in its hearing before an office of price administration special commissioner on charges of delivering fuel oil last season without receiving the proper amount of coupons.



P. J. Healy.

Sen. Earle Benjamin Searcy, chairman of a legislative committee which investigated oil and other phases of rationing last winter and spring, was called as a witness by the company. He told how the committee had learned from hundreds of persons that it was virtually impossible to carry out the oil program because of the "excessive amount of work and confusion that piled up nothing but headaches."

Suspension Is Sought.

The OPA enforcement division in Chicago is seeking the suspension of the firm until Dec. 31, 1944, the expiration date of the OPA under the second war powers act.

Searcy also testified that 14 oil dealers called by the committee were unanimous in condemning the coupon oil rationing system, and that of 32 witnesses heard, only two favored the system.

The defense won its victory when Lewis Nowlan, OPA counsel, moved to strike all of Searcy's testimony as not germane. Joseph Harrison, hearing commissioner, refused to do so.

Head of Firm Testifies.

P. J. Healy, president and manager of the company, earlier testified that the company's plant at 7419 Franklin street, Forest Park, was "a welfare bureau instead of an oil company" in the early days of rationing, before many consumers had received their coupons.

"We couldn't let them freeze," he said. "For a while, we were delivering oil on promissory notes."

After consumers began receiving their coupons from the OPA, he said, the company had "mail bags stacked to the ceiling" with letters containing coupons for oil delivered.

Laverne Gray, manager of the company's coupon department, testified that no deliveries were made without assurance that there would be coupons forthcoming from the customer. He also testified that he never received any warning from the OPA that the company was accused of violating regulations until after the heating season ended.

CONGRESSWOMEN SCORE OVER MEN IN SPELLING BEE

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14 (AP).—The congresswomen can outspell the congressmen. Four of them carried off the honors last night in an old-fashioned spelling bee conducted by Speaker Sam Rayburn at the National Press club.

Rep. Albert Gore [D., Tenn.] was bumped off on "satellite" and so was Rep. Noah M. Mason [R., Ill.] before Rep. Clare Luce [R., Conn.], first of the women to fall, slipped on "supersede." The author-playwright insisted there was a "c" in it, and the men put three "t's" in satellite.

Rep. Mike Mansfield [D., Mont.] missed "acquiesce" [leaving out the "c"] and Rep. Francis Case [R., S. D.] muffed "colossal," putting two "l's" in the middle. Rep. Jessie Sumner [R., Ill.] and Rep. Margaret Smith [R., Me.] breezed thru such tough ones as "ichthyology," but then both fell down at "Albuquerque." They got the idea it was "Alber——." Rep. Frances Bolton [R., O.] spelled "postscript" with only one "s."

The final count was nine mistakes for the men and eight for the women.

G.O.P. Committeemen Ask Green to Seek Re-Election

Kankakee, Ill., Oct. 14 [Special].—More than 100 Republican committeemen of the 20th senatorial district met here tonight and adopted a resolution urging that Gov. Dwight Green run for reëlection and pledging their support to him in 1944. The resolution said: "We believe his administration is of the type necessary to preserve the American Republic." In a Presidential preferential straw ballot the committeemen gave Wendell Willkie only 2 votes, compared with 38 for Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, 35 for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, and 33 for Gen. MacArthur.

Woman Hit by Trolley Succumbs in Hospital

Mrs. Mabel Smith, Negro, 53 years old, died yesterday in County hospital of injuries suffered Wednesday when she was struck by a street car in front of her home at 4407 State street.

People and Events

The nation's war time economy will be discussed at the regional meeting of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers in the Hotel Sherman, starting tomorrow and lasting thru Monday. Scheduled speakers include Dr. Gustav Egloff, research director of Universal Oil Products company, and Dr. M. M. Leighton, chief of the Illinois State Geological survey.

Millions of women who have left the kitchens for war jobs will never go back to baking their own bread and cakes, and as a result the postwar market for the nation's bakers will continue good, John T. McCarthy, president, American Bakers association, said yesterday. He spoke at the annual convention of the National Bakers Supply House association in the Palmer House.

Election of four Chicago men to direct accident prevention activities in their respective industrial sections was announced by the National Safety council. They are Paul Van Cleef, rubber; Emerson Brandt, refrigeration; R. W. Schroder, air transport, and Paul Ackerman, employe publications.

Walter C. Krause has joined the Chicago staff of McCann-Erickson as an account executive. Krause comes from Washington, where he has been assistant director of the radio division, coördinator of Inter-American affairs [Rockefeller committee].

L. A. Mekler, on leave of absence from the engineering and development department of the Universal Oil Products corporation, Chicago, as Russian specialist for the petroleum administration for war, will return Monday to his post with Universal.

A retailer's approach to personnel problems during war time will be discussed by Garret L. Bergen, personnel manager of Marshall Field & Co., at a meeting of the Chicago Controllers' association in the La Salle hotel Tuesday.

W. C. Teare, president of the Sterling Products company, Chicago, has left for Washington, D. C., to begin his duties as chief of the industrial supply section of the WPB.

Joshua B. Glasser, Chicago, has been appointed general agent of the Continental Assurance company. He will open an office at 100 South La Salle street.

GIVE MORE JOBS OR GOVERNMENT WILL—HOFFMAN

Industry must provide 7 to 10 million more jobs for workers than in the last pre-war year of 1940 if "we do not want them to be put in government work" with the ensuing political pressure to obtain votes, Paul G. Hoffman, president of Studebaker corporation and chairman of the committee for economic development, told the Plumbing and Heating Industries bureau annual dinner meeting last night in the Palmer House.

He said the nation never could reach a high level of production and employment unless every one "works at it," that every business man must start now to make plans for his own business, and that all policies that affect business adversely and interfere with ingenuity must be changed.

The bureau elected H. F. Beglen, vice president of the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary corporation, Chicago, president and Henry S. Bland, Dayton, O., vice president. E. N. McDonnell, Chicago, president of McDonnell & Miller, was reëlected treasurer. Norman J. Radder is secretary.

WHEAT TOUCHES PEAK, FINISHES LITTLE HIGHER

Grain prices advanced about 1 cent a bushel yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade, with December and July wheat, December oats, July rye, and all deliveries of barley selling at new seasonal highs before profit taking developed to bring about a reaction. December wheat touched a new 15 year high, and oats a new peak for 23 years.

A department of agriculture report that supplies of feed grains were 500 million bushels or more short of last year and that disappearance of these grains from July 1 to Sept. 31 had been 17 per cent above the same period last year was responsible for broad early buying. Wheat closed ¼ to ¾ cent higher, oats ⅜ cent higher to ⅛ cent lower, rye ⅝ to 1¼ cents higher, and barley ⅝ to ⅞ cent higher.

Receivership of Wabash Railway Is Terminated

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 14 (AP).—The 12 year receivership of the Wabash Railway company was formally terminated today by Federal Judge George H. Moore with the discharge of Norman B. Pitcairn and Frank C. Nicodemus Jr. as receivers. A successor corporation, the Wabash Railroad company, took over the property Jan. 1, 1942. Pitcairn is the president of the new company and Nicodemus is consulting counsel.

Chicago Firm Acquires Control of Box Company

Acquisition of a controling interest in the Light Corrugated Box company, Philadelphia, was announced yesterday by J. H. Stone & Sons, Chicago, manufacturer of corrugated boxes. The name of the acquired company will be changed to the Light Corrugated Box corporation. Most of its organization will remain intact.

New Maywood National Bank Opens Tomorrow

The newly organized First National Bank of Maywood will open for business tomorrow morning, officials announced yesterday. The bank is headed by Louis E. Nelson and its board of directors is made up of Maywood and Chicago business men.

HOFFMAN URGES DRASTIC MOVE IN BREWSTER CASE

Improved Output Is Due, Committee Hears.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14 (AP).—A house investigating committee heard today that production of bombers and fighters by the Brewster Aeronautical corporation was due for improvement, and in a floor speech Rep. Clare Hoffman [R., Mich.] demanded drastic action against whomever was responsible for conditions at Brewster's much criticized plant in Johnsville, Pa.

Rear Adm. S. M. Kraus, general inspector for naval aircraft for the eastern district, and Commanders A. E. Dupuy and W. C. Wetherill, naval inspectors, told the naval subcommittee that better control of available materials and a new management-union contract, described as being virtually agreed to, could be expected to boost output.

Rips Forrestal and Bard.

Hoffman said that James Forrestal, undersecretary of the navy, and Ralph A. Bard, assistant secretary, should "either resign or be removed or the man responsible for their action should be impeached" for failing to remedy conditions at Johnsville.

Hoffman, who sat in on the committee hearing in the morning, charged that navy department officials condoned the company's production failure and had conceded that Thomas De Lorenzo, president of the CIO United Automobile Workers local union, was the corporation's "dictator."

The committee gave over the afternoon to questioning witnesses as to whether it was lack of materials, failure of management, or union interference which slowed production. The replies were that all three were responsible in varying degrees, until early in the year when Fred Riebel Jr. became company president and matters began to improve.

Riebel Ouster Not Explained.

Adm. Kraus said he did not know why Riebel had been succeeded by Henry J. Kaiser, west coast shipbuilder who had been Brewster board chairman.

Bard testified he believed "absolutely" that a big cause of Brewster's production failure and the strike last August was a union contract restricting company discipline. Rep. Melvin Maas [R., Minn.] then declared that the navy should cancel the Brewster contract and "get rid of" De Lorenzo.

Rep. Patrick H. Drewry [D., Va.], subcommittee chairman, charged that the navy had followed a policy of "appeasement" at Brewster and therefore could be charged with some responsibility for the production failure.

WORKERS FIGHT FOREMEN; 2,000 QUIT GUN PLANT

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 14 (AP).—An estimated 2,000 employes of the Kelsey-Hayes Wheel company gun plant at Plymouth, Mich., left their jobs this morning after fights between supervisory employes and workers.

State and federal conciliators said that late Wednesday a CIO United Automobile Workers shop steward was discharged after he struck a foreman during an altercation, and that a few minutes later another workman was dismissed when he became involved in a fight with a "job setup" man. The conciliators said police escorted the two supervisory employes to their homes last night. No immediate comment on the walkout was made by company or union officials.

CONTAINER CORP.

Please give me a report on the Container Corporation of America. To what extent is the company engaged in war production?—J. deV.

Answer: A principal producer of containers and packaging materials made from paperboard, the company by the end of 1942 diverted between 40 and 50 per cent of its total output to war requirements. Among specialized products developed under war impetus are cartons for army field rations, and containers for dehydrated foods, amunition, airplane and automobile parts, and for naval stores.

Normally, the company's own mills provide the bulk of the paperboard required in its factory operations, but in recent years demand for finished products has exceeded mill output, necessitating the purchase of considerable tonnage from outside sources. Comparison of tonnages of paperboard produced in Container's mills and finished products shipped in the last five years is indicated in the following table:

| | Tons prod. in mills. | Tons finished prod. shipped. |
|---|---|---|
| 1942 | 508,423 | 575,856 |
| 1941 | 546,002 | 627,292 |
| 1940 | 461,815 | 504,507 |
| 1939 | 432,848 | 462,385 |
| 1938 | 246,616 | 361,820 |

Container had net income of $1,363,583, or $1.74 a capital share, in the nine months ended June 30, 1943, against revised profit of $1,738,475, or $222 a share, in the nine months of 1942 Common dividends have been paid each year since 1936. In 1942, payments totaled $1.50 a share. Financial data of recent years follow:

| | Net income. | Per sh. | Div. per sh. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1942 | $2,401,748 | $3.07 | $1.50 |
| 1941 | 2,327,177 | 2.98 | 1.50 |
| 1940 | 2,227,682 | 2.85 | 1.50 |
| 1939 | 1,448,900 | 1.85 | 0.25 |
| 1938 | 29,470 | 0.04 | 0.30 |

Container has no funded debt. Capitalization consists solely of one million authorized shares of $20 par capital stock, of which 781,253 shares are outstanding.

WANTS SOCIAL SECURITY TAX DOUBLED JAN. 1

Earnings at Peak, Says Altmeyer.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—Arthur J. Altmeyer, chairman of the social security board, today told the senate finance committee congress should permit social security pay check deductions and employer payments to be doubled Jan. 1. He advanced two arguments:

Arthur J. Altmeyer.

1. The larger deductions would "convey to the contributors a better appreciation of the value and cost of their insurance."

2. Employment, wages, and national income are at record levels and the government should get the money to finance future social security programs now while the people have it.

Income Above Estimate.

Altmeyer told the committee, however, that contributions now being collected "are higher than originally anticipated." Likewise, he said, the benefit payments are "a great deal less" than originally was estimated.

He reported 750,000 persons now draw monthly social security benefits while 10,000 a month receive lump sum death benefit payments. He said 45 million persons are covered by social security and that the figure will reach 48 million by the end of the year as a result of rising employment.

The committee was told the average taxable wage has risen from $900 a year in 1937 to $1,400 in 1943. Asked by Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] how high the expenditure of social security funds will go, Altmeyer estimated it might rise from 415 million dollars in 1943 to 813 million in 1947, depending on industrial conditions.

May Near 15 Billion.

Asked by Vandenberg how much money social security would have in 1948, Altmeyer estimated from 11.3 to 14.6 billions, depending on whether the increase in deductions from the current 1 per cent to 2 per cent on Jan. 1 were permitted.

He told Sen. John A. Danaher [R., Conn.] the social security board is making a study to determine how soldiers, who lose their social security benefits if payments are discontinued 18 months, may be reinstated and their pre-induction payments reinstated.

He said that approximately half the men in the army have never contributed to the social security program. For the others who have he suggested that the government appropriate a sufficient amount to cover what would have been their normal payments.

Tax Bill in Committee.

Meanwhile the house ways and means committee heard renewed attacks on the administration's 10 billion 500 million dollar tax bill, which calls upon congress to permit the doubling of social security deductions.

Lowell M. Greenlaw, vice president and general counsel for the Pullman company, Chicago, told the committee that the increase in the federal tax on railroad and Pullman fares advocated by the administration in its tax bill would cause "serious interference" with railroad transportation.

Greenlaw said that if the federal tax were increased from the present 10 per cent rate to 25 per cent, as requested, it would be "certain to drive passengers from higher priced to lower priced Pullman accommodations and from Pullman cars into coaches." He said this would further congest coaches which often provide only standing room at present.

CANDY MAKERS FIGHT PROPOSED TAX AS UNJUST

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14 [Special].—The proposed 35 per cent tax on candy is "unwarrantably burdensome, impractical, and unjustly discriminatory," a delegation representing the National Confectioners' association today told the house ways and means committee. Philip P. Gott of Chicago, president, headed the group.

Candy is a low cost food desired alike by the army, navy, war plant workers, and civilians in general, said H. R. Chapman, chairman of a candy industry committee.

Incompetence Is Blamed for Oil Shortages

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 14 [Special].—Warren C. Platt, editor of the National Petroleum News, told the people of the nation today that "you're going to be cold and you're going to be walking this winter," thanks to the utter incompetence of the Roosevelt administration.

Addressing the 300 delegates at the war conference of the Indiana Independent Petroleum association, Platt blamed the administration for the crude oil shortage, which is causing a prolonged gasoline and fuel oil drouth for civilians.

He said oil men repeatedly had warned the government in pre-war years that an oil shortage loomed, but that the federal officials had ignored the warnings. The shortage will remain until appropriate action is taken, Platt said.

Price Controversy Recalled.

The oil industry long has urged an increase in the price of crude oil to stimulate drilling and wildcatting to discover oil. Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes has recommended an increase of 35 cents a barrel, but was turned down by the office of price administration and the question is pending before Fred M. Vinson, economic stabilization director.

Countering OPA arguments that the increase would be inflationary, Platt gave figures which showed that a 35 cent increase per barrel would cost motorists a little more than one cent a week.

Platt charged that up until the last few months the army and navy both had done a "lousy" job of anticipating their needs.

Arithmetic Neglected, He Says.

"They knew their plane, jeep, and tractor manufacturing program, but they were unable to use a little arithmetic and figure out how much oil they would need," he said.

Platt said the fuel oil supply may be smaller this winter than last year because of the "tremendous demand for aviation gasoline," of which the only by-product is heavy oil which can be used in war plants, but not to heat private homes.

He said the petroleum administration for war, which regulates the supply for essential civilian consumption, was the "best organization in Washington because they have let industry men run it."

U. S. FINANCIAL GROUP BUYS TACA AIRLINE CONTROL

New York, Oct. 14 (AP).—The TACA air lines in Central America today came under the financial control of a United States group, including Transcontinental & Western Air, Inc.; Time, Inc., headed by Henry Luce; the Adams Express company, and a New York investment trust. Henry Kaiser, west coast shipbuilder and aviation enthusiast, and Howard Hughes, rich oil tool maker and movie magnate, were reported also to be interested in the deal thru financial holdings in TWA by Hughes.

Purchase of the important Latin-American line, which was constructed by Lowell Yerex, a New Zealander, famous for his jungle exploits, was confirmed by TWA officials here. Yerex will be retained on a 10 year contract to serve as president of the line, which operates thruout Central America, with important bases in Honduras and Panama. He retains the largest single amount of stock, TWA officials said.

Milk Producers' Price for September Raised

An increase for September of 4 cents over the August blended price received by producers under the Chicago milk marketing order was announced yesterday by A. W. Colebank, market administrator. The September price was set at $3.16 per hundredweight of 3.5 test, 50 cents above the September, 1942, price. Colebank said milk production dropped to 168,796,327 pounds from 186,625,926 in August but was 3,101,462 pounds above a year earlier.

RENEWAL OF WHISKY MAKING IS FAR OFF, SAYS WPB OFFICIAL

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14 (AP).—War demands for alcohol are so heavy there is no present prospect that the government will permit distillers to produce even a limited amount of whisky before the end of 1944. Dr. Walter G. Whitman, assistant director of the war production board's chemicals branch, said it may not be possible to distill any beverage alcohol until after the war.

Whitman told a senate agriculture subcommittee investigating the extent to which farm products could be used in synthetic rubber production, that alcohol requirements for war would increase to 230 million synthetic rubber making, he said.

He estimated 1944 alcohol needs at 640 million gallons, and said the entire output of distillers as well as industrial alcohol plants would be needed. Production this year is expected to total 450 million gallons.

Rails' Shares Lead Rise in Stock Market

New York, Oct. 14 (AP).—Buyers were a bit more courageous in today's stock market, and leaders recovered fractions to a point or more.

Irregularity prevailed at the start, but rails then began to rise and other departments soon joined the movement. Activity was slack however, and light selling near the close reduced some prices tho it did not alter the main trend.

Persistently good war news aided the market but many customers were puzzled by the turn of events in Italy and kept commitments at a minimum pending more information on aid to the allies as a co-belligerent. Tax problems again were a restraining influence despite revived hopes that congress would write a bill acceptable to business.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 0.2 of a point at 49.8, but the recovery was without much breadth and only 768 individual issues were traded.

BOND LIST ADVANCES.

New York, Oct. 14 (AP).—Rail and industrial bonds made many advances of fractions to more than a point today in a modest rally after nearly a week of uncertain price movements.

Court action in authorizing trustees of the St. Louis-San Francisco railway to settle a debt owed the Reconstruction Finance corporation and pay overdue interest on various bonds was a stimulating influence.

CHICAGO PRICES CLIMB.

Prices on the Chicago Stock exchange rose yesterday on turnover of 22,000 shares. New peaks for the year were reached by Middle West corporation, up ½ to 9½, and Midland United A preferred, up ½ to 15½. Both were actively traded.

Dollar volume of exchange transactions in September was $12,119,004, an increase of 8 per cent over August and of 112 per cent over September, 1942.

7 MILLION CHECK CLOSES SALE OF BLUE NETWORK

New York, Oct. 14 (AP).—A check for 7 million dollars changed hands late today to complete the first cash sale of a coast to coast radio chain, the Blue Network Company, Inc. The check was presented by Edward J. Noble, New York business man and former under secretary of commerce, to David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation of America, to be added to the million dollar down payment July 30.

Completion of the 8 million dollar transaction, which had awaited approval by the federal communications commission, came two days after the commission had acted. In the purchase, Noble, with himself as president, formed the American Broadcasting System, Inc., which will own the 1,000 shares of stock of the network company.

Retailers Lay Shortages to OPA Pricing

Charging that the policy of the office of price administration has promoted scarcity and developed controls which choke rather than accelerate the production and sale of goods, the board of directors of the Illinois Federation of Retail Associations yesterday proposed the government agency abandon most of its intricate pricing formulas.

It suggested instead that OPA provide a maximum regional markup in foods and on all other "genuine and adequately described cost of living items which are sufficiently standardized to permit such a description." The federation warned the OPA that steps must be taken immediately to refreeze manufacturers' costs to encourage production of much needed low priced merchandise which they presently cannot profitably produce.

Seek End of Illegal Markets.

As a means of stamping out illegal markets and to aid the removal of competitive inequities, the federation demanded immediate steps to stop the flow of merchandise moving by devious routes from the manufacturer to the final distributor. It proposed that sales by producers be confined to intermediate or final distributors who were in regularly established business in 1942.

Faults which the federation found with OPA's policy included:

1. A tendency to control profits and business procedure rather than prices.

Lists Red Tape Volume.

2. A vast volume of regulations and rules, totaling well over 1,000 in department stores alone, which was created by a "mistaken effort that everything can be controled."

3. Inequities of a store classification system which described markups to customers in an unfair, unreal, and distorted way.

4. A fixed dollar and cents price structure which did not recognize business practice.

5. Control of prices to the point where the production and sale of critically needed merchandise were dried up.

6. Permission to producers to raise prices without resultant permission granted to badly squeezed retailers.

FURNITURE PRICE BOOST GRANTED MANUFACTURER

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14 (AP).—The OPA has decided definitely to grant an increase in manufacturers' price ceilings on furniture, a spokesman said today, but is positive that the increase will not be passed on to the ultimate consumer.

Representatives of the furniture industry held a closed conference with price executives all day to consider the tentative draft of an order embodying the price increase on all wooden furniture, including office furniture and overstuffed items.

The principal issue was the determination of where the price increase would be absorbed. It was believed retailers would be asked to absorb most of the increase, which was traced to increases in lumber prices and labor costs.

FRISCO PAYMENT OF RFC AND RCC CLAIM ALLOWED

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 14 (AP).—Federal Judge George H. Moore today authorized trustees of the St. Louis-San Francisco [Frisco] railroad to pay $5,804,575 to the Reconstruction Finance corporation and the Railroad Credit corporation in compromise settlement of claims totaling $11,789,752.

The trustees, Frank A. Thompson and J. M. Kurn, told the court at a hearing that the settlement would hasten reorganization of the railroad and terminate "bitter" litigation over the claims of the two government agencies.

BANKERS FLAY TREASURY TAX POLICY 'DECEIT'

Extinction of Large Estates Possible.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

An indictment of the tax policies of the Roosevelt administration in which the treasury was accused of deceit in its most recent proposals was heard yesterday by 400 bank and trust company officials attending the annual Mid-Continent Trust conference in the Drake hotel.

The conference customarily is given to the study and discussion of technical trust problems, but the entire emphasis yesterday was on the trend of federal taxation and ultimate effects of present policies.

Speakers emphasized that taxes which threaten the extinction of all large estates overshadowed all other problems of trust men. Estates are shrinking at a rate never before equalled and the process will be accelerated if congress accepts the latest program submitted by the administration, they said.

Tax Proposals Assessed.

The effect of the new treasury tax proposals on estates was reviewed by Charles H. Mylander, Columbus, O., banker and trust specialist.

Federal death taxes would absorb approximately half of an $800,000 estate under the program recommended by the treasury, he said. At present the effective death tax rate does not approach 50 per cent until the taxable estate exceeds 5 million dollars. The maximum effective rate at present is 75.3, but this is not reached until the estate exceeds 100 million dollars. Under the new program the rate would reach 75.3 per cent at 6 millions.

Small estates would also be hard hit. As an example, Mylander said an estate of $100,000, now taxed at the rate of 4.8 per cent would be levied on at the rate of 12.4 per cent under the new program.

Seeks to By-Pass Congress.

Reviewing other treasury tax proposals, Mylander declared that the administration was seeking to accomplish by indirection what it had failed in the past to get thru congress. He said the effect of the new program would be to limit the income of an individual as nearly as possible to the $25,000 yearly maximum that was twice advocated by the President and twice rejected by congress.

Mylander quoted Secretary Henry Morgenthau's statement that four-fifths of the national income today was going to individuals earning less than $5,000 a year. Despite this, he said, the entire emphasis of the treasury's tax proposals was on increases in rates over that figure.

"The first thing the secretary proposes is to do away with the victory tax, thus relieving 9 million taxpayers of the necessity of paying some 400 millions in taxes," he said.

Under the present trend the ultimate confiscation of all accumulated capital and the destruction of the basis of our economy was foreseeable, Mylander said. Beyond that, the government would be called upon to furnish capital to replace private capital.

"The government will then run everything, will dictate production, will dictate consumption, and the totalitarian scheme of things will be established," he concluded.

The conference, arranged under auspices of the American Bankers association, will end today. Chester R. Davis, vice president of the Chicago Title and Trust company, is chairman of the conference.

SHEAFFER PEN 6 MONTH PROFIT RISE REPORTED

Net income of the W. A. Sheaffer Pen company, Fort Madison, Ia., for the six months ended Aug. 31 was $536,269, equal to $3.36 per share of common stock, against $422,808, or $2.68 a share in the corresponding 1942 period, the company reported yesterday.

Container Corporation of America, Chicago, reported for the quarter ended Sept. 30 a net profit of $530,364, equal to 68 cents a share, compared with $509,570, or 65 cents a share a year ago. Provision for federal taxes amounted to $2,242,116, against $1,201,325.

August earnings from Pullman company sleeping car operations amounted to $612,720 after taxes and other charges, against $1,174,909 a year ago. Earnings for the first eight months of the year were $3,996,613, compared with $5,716,976 a year ago.

Meat Packers Scour Country for Larger Supplies of Hogs

Chicago packers scoured the country for hogs yesterday to relieve the acute shortage resulting from the ceiling imposed by the office of price administration Oct. 4. They brought in about 15,000 "directs" and also snapped up the 8,000 on the open market in the Chicago stock yards, mostly at the $14.75 ceiling.

Many of the hogs brought in from country points cost slightly below $14.75, delivered, altho prices laid down at plants ranged up to $15, or 25 cents above the Chicago ceiling. The final price depended on the point of purchase and freight. It is not a violation of the ceiling regulations to bring in hogs costing above $14.75 as long as the ceiling at the point of purchase is not exceeded, traders explained.

Go Far North for Supplies.

Packers obtained supplies as far north as Minnesota and North Dakota, near the Canadian border. "Black markets" at some small country points were believed to be in operation as demand increased. It is possible for dealers operating their own scales at remote points to add 100 pounds or more to a load by weighing them "heavy," without affecting the yield of the hogs in packing plants enough to justify investigation, packers admitted.

Demand in the cattle market favored the better grades. Best steers, yearlings, heifers, and beef cows suitable for eastern trade were firm. Others were weak to 25 cents lower. Canners and cutters sold weak to 25 cents lower. Calves were strong.

Steady prices were paid for most lambs, with best natives at $14.75.

Prices to Be Revised

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14 [Special].—Revision of price ceilings on meats sold by nonintegrated packers [establishments which either slaughter but do not process, or process and do not slaughter], is being worked out to relieve the price "squeeze" under which that division of the trade is suffering, OPA officials disclosed tonight. The adjustments will not affect the retail levels at which the meats from nonintegrated plants are sold, it was said. Established price ceilings have worked an injustice on the nonintegrated plants.

MORE DRASTIC CUTS IN TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES EXPECTED

Further drastic savings in transportation are necessary to keep "the wheels rolling" for the war, Jack Garrett Scott, general counsel, office of defense transportation, warned last night in a talk before the Junior Traffic Club of Chicago in the Palmer House. More than 1,500 persons were present, including a number of railroad presidents.

"The situation is now very tight in both the rail and motor fields," Scott said. "The inevitable increase in traffic due to increased food production, the increase in war traffic to both the Pacific and Atlantic ports, the steady augumented demand for food and supplies from our allies and from the people of cleared lands all combine to increase the burden on transportation. Then there is the approaching of winter, which is such a severe destroyer of transportation efficiency, and still other factors."

NO TIE-UP AT PORTS.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 14 (AP).—In contrast with the congestion of export freight during World War I., traffic is moving smoothly thru American ports at twice the volume and four times the speed of 1918, the National Association of Shippers advisory boards were told today. George C. Randall, manager of port traffic of the Association of American Railroads, said freight cars at all ports could be cleared up in 5.3 days at the current unloading rate, whereas in the last war there sometimes was a 20 day jam.

TIDY OWN YARD TO AID WORLD, U. S. CAUTIONED

Home Economy Put Ahead of Trade.

The United States will be the "springboard" for rising prosperity after the war on which the world is depending, and the nation's first duty in reconstructing world trade is to maintain its own economic welfare, Dr. Alexander V. Dye, New York economist, said yesterday.

Dr. A. V. Dye.

"In the process of reconstruction of world international trade, we in the United States must start the ball rolling by increasing our imports, but we cannot increase imports unless we have an expanding economy in this country, which means continually increasing the production, distribution, and consumption of our own goods," he said.

Urges Readjusted Balance.

Dye, who is economics consultant of the National Foreign Trade council, spoke at a luncheon meeting of the Export Managers' Club of Chicago in the La Salle hotel.

He said that exports from the United States established a record 5 billion 488 million dollars in the first half of this year, with imports amounting to 1 billion 615 million dollars, less than a third of exports. One of the first necessary steps in the nation's international trade will be to readjust the balance between exports and imports, he asserted.

"Strictly speaking, however, this huge outflow of goods in the first six months of this year was not foreign trade," he said. "In the main, it was our contribution to the war.

"We do not expect that outpouring of our economic resources to cease now, nor do we expect to redress this balance before the end of the war."

Shipping Grows Fast.

Asserting that this nation's merchant marine will have swollen from about 1,100 ships before the war to a post-war total of between 4,000 and 5,000 vessels, Dye said this country's responsibilities will be vast.

"In making our plans for the reorganization of foreign trade we must go on the belief that the united nations will keep their organization intact and that they will emerge from the struggle with the greatest part of the responsibility for maintaining organized international relations for the future," he said. "But we cannot have the international political life of the future based on lofty concepts of cooperation and have the development of private enterprise based on 'dog eat dog.'"

Taking on a Pilot

Taking on a pilot is no reflection on the skill and ability of a ship's captain. It is simply a recognition that no one person can be familiar with all the channels to every port.

Like the ship's captain, the war-pressed investor, besieged by the problems of the times, can turn to the Trust Department of his bank for the specialized skill necessary for the safeguarding and proper management of his investments.

We offer this comprehensive service to you through a management agency account, designed to relieve you of the time consuming details involved in the proper management of an investment portfolio.

When you establish a management agency account with us you enlist the services of men experienced and skilled in the investment field, who devote their full time and attention to the management of property. Your securities are periodically reviewed and recommendations, based on group judgment, are submitted to you. Income and principal are collected and credited to your account and statements are regularly and promptly rendered to you. Securities are purchased or sold only upon your direction. Title to your property remains in your name and the arrangement can be terminated at your option.

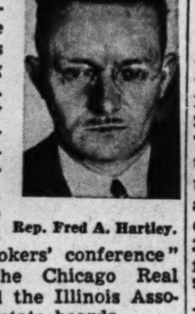
REFORM OF OPA RENT CONTROLS SOUGHT IN HOUSE

Group Would Compel Use of Normal Practices.

BY AL CHASE.

Legislation compelling the office of price administration to live up to accepted real estate practices will be asked by the Smith committee of the house which is investigating rent control, Rep. Fred A. Hartley Jr. [R., N. J.] announced yesterday. A member of the committee, he spoke in the Medinah club at a "war time brokers' conference" sponsored by the Chicago Real Estate board and the Illinois Association of Real Estate boards.



Rep. Fred A. Hartley.

Hartley predicted a chaotic national economy unless something drastic were done to the OPA. He said it should be called "the office of professors' administration" because of the preponderance of youthful, inexperienced professors on its pay rolls. A food famine may confront the nation soon unless action were taken, he warned.

Theory: All Tenants Gouged.

The OPA has 50,000 employes, uses Gestapo methods, and acts as prosecutor, judge, and jury, said Hartley.

"It began rent control administration with the attitude that every tenant was being gouged by every landlord in the United States," he said, and told of the thousands of "hardship cases" brought to the Smith committee after OPA refused to heed them.

"The OPA has 2,700 attorneys, most of them young whippersnappers who jumped from law schools to federal pay rolls," he said. "In England there are only 15 lawyers doing the same type of work.

"A 34 year old professor in charge of meat rationing, we found upon questioning, was qualified for this important job by having spent two weeks of his vacation working in a slaughter house.

Orders Termed "Idiotic."

"A 32 year old college professor was directing the important job of gas rationing. The hosiery business is in a chaotic situation as a result of idiotic OPA orders."

He attributed one order to "a 22 year old youngster, whose sole experience in the hosiery business had been as a stock room worker at 50 cents an hour. He started in OPA at $1,440 a year and within a few months was a 'senior economist' at $4,200."

Hartley said the one hope in the gloomy OPA situation was that congress was beginning to stand on its own feet.

Morgan L. Fitch, president of the state realty board, assailed the Wagner act, to aid slum reclamation thru federal aid as "nothing more than a new WPA of real estate."

U. S. SHIPS CORN ABROAD DESPITE HOME SHORTAGE

The Chicago Board of Trade said yesterday that on the basis of recent OWI figures, 4,799,431 bushels of corn were shipped from this country under lend-lease between March 4 and July 31.

"The amount in itself is not an impressive one," the board said, "but the important point is that these exports were made at a time when the most extreme measures were being taken to maintain an even partial supply of corn to meet industrial and feeding needs at home."

During this period the government commandeered stocks of corn in the larger terminals and subterminals because farm shipments had dropped because of dissatisfaction over OPA price ceilings, the board asserted.

U. S. Bank Clearings Rise from '42; Chicago's Dip

New York, Oct. 14 (AP).—Bank clearings in 23 large cities in the week ended yesterday were $6,813,165,000, up 8.2 per cent from the $6,299,601,000 last year, but $2,099,780,000 below the preceding week's total, Dun & Bradstreet reported today. The week to week drop was attributed to the Columbus day holiday. Chicago clearings were $376,300,000, a decrease of 1.3 per cent from last year.

Meet Mr. A....
He is an Accountant in the Loop from 9 to 5. He dropped into Wards one noon and applied for some "hard manual work EVENINGS.
Our Interviewer was surprised. "But surely," he said, "with all your training and experience, you'd rather be working in one of our offices."
Said Mr. A., "I push a pencil around all day . . . I want to push around something heavy evenings. I NEED A WORKOUT."
So at WARDS Mr. A. is having his workout . . . handling stock . . . a job that rests his brain and tires his body in a healthy fashion. And, best of all, HE'S GETTING PAID WELL FOR IT.
Besides, he's buying new furniture for his home, clothes for himself and family . . . and his CHRISTMAS GIFTS . . . all at a LIBERAL DISCOUNT FROM WARD'S REGULAR LOW PRICES.

OFFERS YOU
A GOOD-PAYING RAILROAD JOB IN CALIFORNIA, OREGON, NEVADA, UTAH, SOUTHERN ARIZONA, NEW MEXICO AND TEXAS.
FREE TRANSPORTATION FROM CHICAGO TO THE JOB.
HERE'S WHY IT PAYS TO WORK FOR SOUTHERN PACIFIC:
1. S.P. is a "front line" war industry. It serves more military and naval establishments than any road in the United States.
2. S.P. is a big progressive company. S.P. is the longest railroad in the nation, biggest railroad in the West. A big company means big opportunities.
3. S.P. is in business to stay. S.P. helped build the West. It intends to continue.
4. S.P. offers you the benefits of the Federal Railroad Retirement Act, the advantages of a fine Medical and Hospital Service.
5. S.P. has the kind of job you'll like where you'll like to live.
6. S.P. is a good company to work for.

Pinched for Cash
COSTS ONLY 60c
The common-sense solution to any money shortage is a short-term loan. It allows a "breathing spell" in which to adjust expenses to fit income. Right now, for instance, living costs are up and it is becoming increasingly difficult to make ends meet. A loan from Commonwealth will "tide you over" until you get adjusted to these new war time conditions. Monthly rate 3% on balance of $150 or less, and 2½% on that part of the unpaid balance over $150.

Woman Street Car Operator Has Her First Accident—The King of Egypt Drives an American Jeep

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Two policemen, a civilian, and a soldier prepare to lift Mrs. Marion Reed, 20, onto a stretcher after she was struck by a Washington, D. C., street car operated by a woman. The police said it was the first accident involving a woman operator. Mrs. Reed's injuries weren't serious.
